PICKENS SCHOOL NEWS

The Six Mile athletic team met our team here Friday afternoon and although the meeting was a surprise we were defeated by only three points. We have a promising team this year and the outlook for new honors is bright.

Friday evening was much enjoyed by those who attended the public meeting given by the Literary society. The following program was admirably carried out:

Music—Bernice Carey. Debate—Resolved, That the Mill School Should be Made a Part of the Town School.

Affirmative—Raymond Cox, Steen Looper, Margaret Aiken, Annie Grayley, Harrison Edens, Frank Keith.

Negative—Music—Agnes Edens. Reading—Eleanor Earle. Music—Ethylene Gantt. Recitation—Cleo Hallum.

Oration—Joe Frank Freeman. Song by society—Wonderful Words of Life.

The query was warmly debated. The judges decided unanimously in favor of the affirmative. The meeting was a fair example of the regular meetings.

There has been a wonderful improvement in the society during the last three weeks and it is doubtful if the school ever had a better.

Miss Belle Yongue, teacher of the first and second grades, went shopping in Greenville Saturday.

The school is now in one of the busiest parts of the year while reviewing for the coming examinations.

The school is glad to have the county's prize tomato club girl, Miss Merle Hendricks, who is a member of the eighth grade.

Death at Easley

Mrs. C. W. Thomas, after an illness of brief duration, died in Easley at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Milton Clapp, Friday morning. Mrs. Thomas came to Easley about a month ago, having sailed from London, where she has resided for the past few years. She was sick upon her arrival, but her condition was not thought to be alarming. About a week before her death she became critically ill and her husband was summoned from New York. Thursday her condition was thought much better and her sudden death Friday morning was unexpected.

Mrs. Thomas, as Miss Stella Folger, was born and reared in Easley. She was about thirty-seven years of age and a member of a well-known family of this county.

She is survived by her husband, C. W. Thomas, her mother, Mrs. C. C. Folger, of Easley, two sisters, Mrs. Milton Clapp of Easley and Mrs. Felicia Caubie of New York, and three brothers, Messrs. Walter, Reuben and Ola Folger. The funeral services were held at Easley the day following her death.

Box Supper at Oolenoy

There will be a box supper at the Oolenoy school house on Wednesday night, December 20. The public is cordially invited by the patrons, trustees, and teachers of this school to attend. There will be several other interesting features carried out for the pleasure of all who attend. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the school. Come one, come all, and share the good time that awaits you.

At Montvale

An entertainment in the form of a box supper will be given at the Montvale school Friday night before Christmas, Dec. 22. Many of the cleverest young ladies of the county will bring boxes. Young gentlemen of this and other sections are invited. The proceeds will be used for school improvements, and the parents of the school have a special invitation.

At Dacusville

There will be a Christmas entertainment in Dacusville school auditorium Friday night, December 22, at 7.30. Admission, adults 15c; children 10c.

Rev. George A. Martin, who has been living in the Mountain View section of this county, has returned to the low country again. Brother Martin goes to Ridgeville in Dorchester county to become pastor of the Baptist church at that place. Our loss is Ridgeville's gain, for Brother Martin is a man of sterling worth. He will fight sin to the last ditch and will never surrender nor compromise. Mrs. Martin is one of the best Christian workers we have ever known. We wish them abundant success in their new field of labor. H.

A Good Place

The Pickens Drug Company has for several years wanted the agency for Huyler's candy and has at last secured it. This has been difficult, as the Huyler people do not like to put their goods in small towns. This candy has about the best reputation of any candy in the land.

The Pickens Drug Company has a stock of Christmas goods this year that will rival many city stores. They are trying to keep trade at home and will appreciate it ever so much if you will give them a chance. J. N. Hallum, the manager, says that the line of jewelry they carry has been bought from the same house for six years and has given splendid satisfaction. They carry the goods all the time and replace any filled or plated goods that fail to give satisfaction. These occasions are very rare. They are especially strong on solid gold goods and having a nice line of same.

Here's hoping that you will trade with home people and help make the people, the town and the county what you would have them be.—Adv.

Supervisor Craig is having a warehouse and shed built for the county just behind The Sentinel office.

Pleasant Grove News

Well, Mr. Editor, the fall gathering will soon be finished and the largest small grain crop ever known has been sown in this section and is looking fine at present.

Mrs. J. S. Looper and Mrs. R. L. Henderson of near Pickens were in this section last week, and while here disposed of Mr. Looper's rent corn, made on his farm on Saluda river. It brought $1.00 per bushel. Mr. Looper has a good farm here.

Ford McJunkin, son of James McJunkin of our community, has enlisted in the U. S. army and is now stationed at Columbus, Ohio. We wish him good luck while with Uncle Sam.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Woodside of Greenville were in this section on business last week. Mr. Woodside is a prominent business man and owns property in this section.

J. D. Simmons of Six Mile was thru this section on business last week.

Johnnie Cox, who has been on the sick list a good while, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Ed Dill, who has been under treatment for pellagra about six months, is much improved. She has left the hospital at Spartanburg and is now at home.

A. T. Fortner went to Greenville last week and purchased for himself a pair of nice mules. Mr. Fortner says he is now going to farming and would like to plant some cotton very early. But we remind him not to get in too big a rush, as we are likely to have some more ice before it will do to plant cotton seed. At least we think so.

Well, Mr. Editor, if you had been with me the other day I would have shown you a pole cat, or at least a cat was up a pole. A FARMER.

Officers for Doctors

At a meeting of the Pickens County Medical society held at Easley Wednesday afternoon, Dr. W. A. Tripp of upper Anderson county was elected president; Dr. W. M. Long of Liberty, vice-president; Dr. J. L. Bolt of Easley, secretary and treasurer, and Messrs. Shirley of Central, Sheldon and Algood of Liberty, board of censors. Dr. L. L. Jameson of Easley was elected delegate to the state convention for the next two years.

Valuable Property to Be Sold

We are sure you will read, without our calling attention to it, the land sale advertisement on another page of this paper which advertises for sale all the real estate owned by T. D. Harris in Pickens. All this valuable property will be sold at public auction Dec. 20, and it will be the biggest auction sale ever held in Pickens. You may get particulars about the sale by reading the page advertisement.

The Greensboro Realty and Auction Co. has charge of the sale and they say that Mr. Harris has turned the property over to them with instructions to sell it to the highest bidder regardless of the price and they intend to sell it that way. It is useless for us to speak of the value of the property, as everybody knows it to be among the most valuable in the county.

As Mr. Harris never tells anybody his personal plans we do not know them, but we gather from what he says that he will continue to make Pickens his home. He says he likes the town which has so many sacred associations for him and he wants to see it grow; that he owns more property than he can give his personal attention to and improve and he has decided to sell his Pickens property to individuals who will improve it and help the old town grow.

An immense crowd is expected to be here for the sale. Prizes will be given away and a mighty good band will be on hand to make music grand when they sell the land. Make your arrangements now to be here Wednesday, December 20.

Robert Welborn sold his Ford last week to one of the Keesler boys. Rob owned an old model Ford first and he enjoyed the music it made, but when he rode in the new model car he was lonesome. "There was no music because the 'brass band' was missing. 'She' won't get lonesome when you get that rumbout, Rob."

Tom Kelley and family have moved from the home place near Hagood's mill to the Robin Lewis place above Mountain Grove church. He was honored with a serenade Thursday night by the young people of the community. Mr. Kelley invited them in, the invitation was accepted and the young people enjoyed the occ. on.

Our farmers are a very busy people just now, finishing picking cotton, sowing wheat, etc.

Messrs. W. A. Edens and J. D. McConnell are still engaged in turning out lumber, a business which has been a great deal of help to the people of this section. Crops being short they naturally needed a job of hauling, etc., to make ends meet.

We learn that L. B. McConnell of Greenville has taken unto himself an helpmate. Lester is a whole-souled, good fellow and owns a some valuable real estate in this section. We trust he and his will decide to locate here and help us to build up this section.
