Tribute of Respect.

Dedicated to the memory of William Leslie Pardue, who died August 13, 1902, aged 4 years 10 months and 25 days.

This lovely bud, so young and fair, Called hence by doom, Caught to show how sweet a flower In Paradise would bloom.

A loving one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home This world can never fill.

Dear Leslie, thou was mild and lovely Gentle as the summer breeze, Pleasant as the air of evening When it floats among the

Penceful be thy silent slumber, Peaceful in thy grave so low; Thou no more will join our number, Thou will no more our sorrow know

Darling Lestie, thou has left us And thy loss we deeply feel, But 'tis God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal,

Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life is then Then in Heaven with joy greet thee Where no farewell tear is shed.

Oh, how vivid is the picture Memory brings to me today Of his face so calm and peaceful As he in his coffin lay. Of his beautiful hands gently folded

On his cold and silent breast, Gone where all cease from troubling And the weary are at rest.

Never will you know a trouble, Ever will your path be light Where the spring of life doth bubble And your days are always bright.

Oh, why do we griev at is not long. Till we cross to the other shore. And sing the beautiful song. With the loved ones gone before

So farewell little Leslie. UNCLE

Take (sie of the tonic

The man or woman whose digestion is perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures positively and permanently all stemach troubles, indigestion and dyspepsia. It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all of the nourishment in the food they gat. Rev. J. H. Holladay, of Holladay, Miss., writes: "Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stemach troubles. I was given up by physicians. Kodol saved my life." Take it after meals. Crawford Bros.
