HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN TO HOLD CONFERENCE

In Greenwood Sunday, February the Second. Many Prominent Speakers. Greenwood, Jan. 19.—The various local committees in charge of the Conference to be held here February 1st and 2nd, as part of the United Missionary Campaign in the United States and Canada are hard at work now and are getting everything in shape for a most successful conference.

This Conference was arranged by Prof. R. E. Gaines, a member of the faculty of Richmond College, but now on leave of absence for one year, having been granted this leave of absence in order to devote his time to the work of this campaign. The details of the campaign are in the hands of the Laymen's Missionary Movement and Prof. Gaines has entire charge of this work in the South.

A number of prominent speakers will be in Greenwood for this meeting names to be announced later as well as the detailed program.

The Conference at Greenwood will seek to enlist ministers and laymen not only in the town and county of Greenwood, but also of the counties of Abbeville and Laurens. Special invitations to these will be sent out by the committee in charge of this part of the work.

Following is a full and complete explanation of what this United Missionary Campaign is:

Foreword.

On March 19, 1913, at a meeting of representatives of the Home Missions Council of the United States and the Conference of Foreign Missions Board of North America, a decision was reached to engage in a United Missionary Campaign for the purpose of introducing more adequate methods of missionary education and finance in the churches of North America, that they may discharge their missionary obligation at home and abroad.

The following features have been approved by the Central Committee of the United Missionary Campaign.

1. The campaign is in behalf of missionary work both at home and abroad, and aims at the enlistment of the entire membership of all the communions as intelligent and regular supporters of missions. One feature of the campaign is to be a nation-wide simultaneous, every-member canvass for home and foreign missions and all regular benevolences in March, 1914, on the part of as many congregations as can be led to undertake it at that time (unless a communion decides upon some other period).

2. To prepare the congregations of the country for such a canvass as many missionary conferences as possible between September 15, 1913, and February 15, 1914, will be held. The conferences will begin with an evening session and continue through the following day. Local committees will have large responsibilities in preparing for these conferences. The Executive Committee of the Layman's Missionary Movement has been requested to organize and direct these interdenominational conferences and has consented to do so.

3. The campaign aims not only at securing larger missionary offering, but at the development of the latent spiritual resources of Christian people. Prayer, personal Bible study, personal service and stewardship will all be emphasized in their relation to Christian efficiency.

4. Deputation work by volunteer speakers will be undertaken as widely as possible to bring the inspiration and message of this united campaign to every community and every congregation.

5. The observance of Sunday, February 15, as Missionary Day with exchange of pulpits wherever practicable, and with special missionary features in all the services of that day, in preparation for the simultaneous canvass for missions and benevolences in March.

6. The widest possible use of carefully selected and specially prepared missionary literature. In response to the invitation of the Central Committee, the Missionary Education Movement is giving special attention to this feature of the campaign.

7. Still larger and more general assistance of the public press in securing religious and missionary news, and in interpreting the spirit of Christianity as the spirit of individual and universal service and helpfulness.
