OMAN SUFFRAGE BOOSTED BY BRYAN

Secretary of State Comes out in Favor of Votes for Women.

Washington, July 16.—Secretary Bryan in a formal statement today came out for woman suffrage. He declared he would ask no political right for himself he was not willing to grant his wife, and announced he would support the proposed State constitutional amendment extending the franchise to women to be voted on in Nebraska next November.

Woman. Mr. Bryan said, had proved herself equal to every responsibility imposed on her, and would not fail society in this emergency. Above all other engagements for giving her the ballot he placed "the right of the mother to a voice in the molding of the environment of her children."

"The mother," the secretary said, "can justly claim the right to employ every effective weapon for the protection of those whose interests she guards, but the ballot will put within her reach all the instrumentalities of government, including the police power."

"As man and woman are cotenants of the earth," the statement says, "and must work out their destiny together, the presumption is on the side of equality for treatment in all that pertains to their joint life and its opportunities. The burden of proof is on those who claim for one an advantage over the other in determining conditions under which both shall live. Objections raised to woman suffrage appear to me to be invalid, while the arguments advanced in support of the proposition in my judgment are convincing."

"The first objection I remember to have heard was that as woman can not bear arms she should not have a voice in deciding questions that might lead to war or in enactment of laws that might require an army officer to enforce. This argument is seldom offered now for as civilization advances laws are obeyed because they are an expression of public opinion. As we look back, over the past, we may well wonder whether the peace movement would not have consulted before hostilities began.

"Second, some urge that woman's life already is full of care and that the addition of suffrage rather would overburden her or turn her attention away from home duties. The answer made is that the exercise of the franchise might result in a change of thought and occupation that would relieve the monotony of woman's work. Surely the home will not suffer if the mother, the child's first teacher, is able to intelligently discuss with her family the science of government and the art of successfully administering it.

Third, many well meaning men and women argue that suffrage would work a harm to woman by lessening the respect in which she is held. This argument would have more weight had it not been employed against every proposition advanced in favor of the enlargement of woman's sphere. This objection once was raised to the higher education of woman, but it no longer is heard.

"These objections, however honest, advanced, have proven impotent to retard woman's progress."

A Good Investment.

W. D. Magli, a well known merchant of Whitewater, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. For sale by all dealers.
