ATTEMPT TO DRAG IRBY FROM STAND

"Medicine Men" Resent His Charges Threaten to Stop Him but Irby Stands Firm and Speaks.

Spartanburg, Aug. 23.—At the meeting at the courthouse last night in which several candidates spoke—Irbby, Wyche, Nicholls, Keiley and Duncan—the speeches of Irby and Duncan provided the features. The meeting was arranged for the Blease people. Solicitor A. E. Hill presided over the meeting and at times he had a rough job.

W. C. Irby, Jr. who wished to impress on his friends the mistake they are about to make in supporting Richards, devoted a portion of his speech to telling why Richards should not be supported. The other part of his speech dealt mainly with his advocacy of a commission to look after the interests of the mill operatives and other issues in the campaign for governor.

Mr. Irby had been speaking but a short time when he mentioned Mr. Richards. Hub Lockman asked him if the Blease candidates for governor had not held a caucus in Columbia and promised not to abuse each other. "I never promised not to abuse John G. Richards," shouted Mr. Irby, "for I considered him a man thrust into our fold to fool the people." Hurrahs for Mr. Irby and cheers for Richards met this outburst. Mr. Irby replied by saying that the "medicine men" need not think that they could howl him down. This epithet was resented, but the candidate continued, saying that he had seen in the paper that the "medicine men" had howled down Simms, and he had heard that they had come to howl him down. Several rushed through the crowd at this time, one man in shirt sleeves grabbing Mr. Irby by the arm and telling him that they would

Helping Kidneys By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important. In the use of S. S. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the myriad of fine blood vessels that make up the constructive tissues of the kidneys. As the blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys, they act as testers and assayers. And according to what they allow to pass out in the urine, both as to quantity and materials, the health of the kidneys and the quality of the blood is determined. The catalytic energy forced by S. S. S. is shown in the urine. It is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys the dominating nature of S. S. S. acting as it does through all the avenues of elimination, shows a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This assistance is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are more evenly distributed to the emunctories; their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, lumbago, neuralgia, bronchitis, asthma and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S., so it will enable the tissues to rebuild the cellular strength and regain the normal health.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 527 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any doubts or objections, write for free advice.

pull him down and not let him speak. The crowd gave a whoop. Mr. Irby shouted that he would not be stopped, and for the next few moments none could tell what was going to happen. Mr. Lockman and Mr. Irby were carrying on a heated battle of words which none could hear. Solicitor Hill was waving his hands and calling to the crowd to stop, and the uproar would not be stilled. To add to the picturesqueness of the scene, J. C. Porter, placing himself directly in front of Mr. Irby and shouted: "I stand between Bill Irby and any one of you, and South Carolina has never produced a gamer man than I am. I will shed my last drop of blood or protect him," and other such expressions, all the time saying that he would not let any one get to him.

Finally Solicitor Hill got a hearing and appealed to the people to hear the candidates, saying that he was the friend of all and wished to give this advice. He asked a good hearing as a personal favor.

Mr. Irby continue to throw hot shot into the teeth of the medicine men and never exhibited the slightest trace of fear. "These medicine men can go all over the state and sell medicine to negroes, but I want to show them that they have not got the people of Spartanburg in their pockets." Continuing, he said: "They may give the negroes medicine to cure their stomachs, but I am talking to the brains of this county."

Pandemonium reigned several times and when Mr. Irby finished, Mr. Lockman made a statement to the crowd and said that whoever said the medicine men had planned to howl down Simms or Irby told a lie. This ringing epithet went out over the large audience without any attempt to resent it.

Solicitor Hill then made another plea for the people to be quiet out of respect to the women present, and as a personal favor to him. The other candidates got a respectful hearing.

The meetings last night and Friday night were without parallel in this county in that two Blease candidates were howled down by Blease people.

From Miss Garlington.

To the Women of Laurens County:
As organizer of the tomato club work in Laurens county it is natural that I take pride, as well as pleasure in doing everything for the advancement of the women in the rural districts.

Messrs. John D. W. Watts and William Byrd, two of the managers of the Laurens county fair, have kindly given their consent and offered their support to a proposition I wish to put before the women of the county. It is my intention to have a woman's department at our next county fair in October. I am expecting opposition but am prepared to meet it.

Every undertaking must have a beginning so this year we intend to have only canned fruit, preserves, jelly and pickles; also rolls, cake and biscuit.

The Laurens county fair association has no money for prizes, but if I get up a woman's department and give blue ribbons, won't the good women of Laurens county rally to this extension work and help me? I have done similar work and know it is no child's play, so I must have your support. This is your fair and through you it can be made a wonderful success.

I expect every progressive housewife in Laurens county to write me just what you will send.

Come forward, housekeepers, with your best canned fruits, jellies, preserves, cakes, rolls and biscuits.

The fair will be held the first part of October, so write me as soon as you read this for I will have my vacation all of September.

Remember I am longing to have a woman's department at the Laurens county fair, if it is only one biscuit on exhibition.

BILLIANT CAREER ENDED.

Mr. F. W. Carlisle, Jr., a Big Factor in the Business of Liggett & Myers Co., Died in Atlanta.

The following account of the death of Mr. F. W. Carlisle, Jr., was clipped from the Atlanta Constitution. Mr. Carlisle was a brother of Mrs. L. B. Clardy of this city and a son of Mr. F. W. Carlisle, who is now making his home here. They have the profound sympathy of many friends in Laurens. The account in the Constitution follows:

His many friends among the traveling men of the south, as well as business men generally, will be grieved to learn of the death on last Tuesday in this city of Felix W. Carlisle, Jr., sales manager for Liggett & Myers, the big tobacco house of St. Louis.

Mr. Carlisle, while on a visit through this territory, where he was inaugurating a big advertising campaign, was taken with a sudden and acute attack of Bright's disease. He was hurried to St. Joseph's infirmary, where his death occurred within a few days. His body was taken to his old home, Opelika, Ala., where funeral services and his burial occurred before a great throng of friends and relatives, including a large number of his traveling salesmen throughout the south. Among the number were the following Atlanta honorary escort and pallbearers from among the Georgia salesmen: Z. W. Matthews, G. K. Vason, O. B. Oakes, H. B. Parker, J. W. Sellers, George J. Howard, C. R. Shumate, W. O. Parker, H. K. Flemister, W. T. Coopedge, W. D. Moore and J. F. McDermott. E. B. Cromwell, of the St. Louis office, also attended the funeral.

Few men at the age of Mr. Carlisle had reached so prominent a place among the commercial travelers of the south. He began a few years ago to the bottom for the big St. Louis house, and when he died, at the age of 31, he was in charge of a territory as sales manager covering nineteen southern states, and working 112 men. While a keen and successful salesman himself, he was of a bright, amiable nature, loved by every man under him, and to whom every man was as loyal as it was possible to be. This was a part of his great success—his fair treatment of the men under him—and it was freely predicted that had he lived many years longer he would have been at the head of his big house.

AFTER HOSPITALS AND DOCTORS FAILED—EX-ZEMA-FO CURED.

D. Holmes, Ozone Park, Long Island, N. Y., writes: "While you have not asked for a testimonial, I feel that it is due. A preparation such as EX-ZEMA-FO should be known to everyone. I was a sufferer of that terrible disease called eczema for seven years, doctored with the most eminent New York specialists and several various Skin Hospitals to the expense of over $300. Two bottles of EX-ZEMA-FO cured me, and the best of it all was that I was able to give up the use of a salve, which was what they all prescribed. Your remedy EX-ZEMA-FO is a clean liquid, did not soil my linen and went right to the spot. I have been recommending it to every one afflicted with this disease and results have been the same as in my case.

EX-ZEMA-FO is the only preparation of its kind sold on the guarantee that it cures or money is refunded.
