HAMPTON FARMER SHOT BY KINSMAN

Hurley Harvey Kills Henry Breeelan. Young Planter Declares He and Brother Were Attacked Returning From Wedding.

Hampton, Dec. 20.—Henry Breeelan, a farmer, about 23 years of age, living near Cummings, was shot and instantly killed by his cousin and brother-in-law, Hurley Harvey, yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock on the public road near Hickory Hill. The young man who did the shooting is 20 years of age. He was arrested by the deputy sheriff shortly after the shooting occurred and is now in the county jail, pending the preliminary trial which will be held on Thursday.

The prisoner's statement is, in effect, as follows: "My brother, Tillman, his wife and myself were all in the same buggy on our way home from Lord Stanley's home where my brother had just married a daughter of Mr. Stanley. A short distance from Hickory Hill we met Henry Breeelan and his father, also in a buggy, approaching us. Henry Breeelan jumped from his buggy and came running in our direction cursing and threatening our lives. My brother and I got out of our buggy and as we did so Breeelan slashed at me with a large knife, but I evaded him and begged him not to attack us. He then cut at my brother, cutting a long slash in his coat. I then ran to the buggy, got my pistol and shot him three times. My brother and I then got in our buggy, leaving Breeelan in the care of his father and went on home. I told my people what had happened and had started to Hampton to give myself up when I met the deputy sheriff on the way who brought me to Hampton and placed me in jail. There had been bad blood existing between us for some time and Breeelan had threatened my life and my brother Tillman's life on more than one occasion. I could not say whether Breeelan was drinking or not, though he appeared to be sober. Neither Tillman nor I had been drinking."

MOTON HEADS TUSKEGEE.

Chosen President of Big Negro School.

New York, Dec. 20.—Robert R. Moton of the Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute, Hampton, Va., was selected to succeed Booker T. Washington as president of Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala., at a meeting of the special committee of the trustees of the institute here today. The choice was unanimous.

The committee making the selection was composed of Seth Low, chairman of the Tuskegee trustees; Frank Trumbull of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad; Edgar A. Bancroft, W. W. Campbell and Victor H. Tulane. Moton will not be installed as head of the famous negro institute until the commencement exercises in May, 1916. Until that time he will give his services to the campaign for the Booker T. Washington memorial fund.

In a statement issued by the committee it is declared by the election of Moton "the policies, aims and attitude of the institution will be continued."

Moton is a negro of unmixed blood, tracing his ancestry back to African slave days. He was born in Amelia county, Virginia, in 1867 and spent his early years at "Pleasant Shade" as the Vaughan plantation in Prince Edward county was called. His mother was cook at the big house and his father led the hands on the plantation. He was sent to a free school opened in the neighborhood and after his first taste of knowledge he became ambitious to go to the Hampton institute. Entering the institute in 1885, he graduated five years later and was prevailed upon by Gen. Armstrong to remain as drill master and assistant to the commandant of the school cadets. Shortly afterwards he became commandant, a position which he has held to the present day. Moton and Washington were intimate friends, admired and respected each other's abilities and were heartily agreed as to the best methods of dealing with the race problem.

Both in his speeches and his writings Moton has the reputation for ability to get at the heart of the negro question in a way that has won the respect of both races.

SERVIA DESOLATED BECAUSE OF WAR

Sections of Country Almost Depopulated. Death and Suffering.

London, Dec. 15.—Conditions in invaded Serbia are described to the London press by Col. Govaars of the Salvation Army, who has just completed a six months' tour of that country in the interests of his organization. The country he speaks of lies in the northwest, from which the Austrians were driven out in their first invasion.

One village, which a year ago had 2,300 inhabitants and 350 houses, now has 1,100 inhabitants and only 126 whole houses, according to Col. Govaars. Of the other houses, 90 were entirely destroyed and 134 so badly damaged as to be uninhabitable. Even those surviving had to be considerably patched up. This village had formerly over 1,000 draught oxen. Now there are two. Out of 2,000 cows only 14 remain, and 27 sheep and goats have to make up for 3,200 or more. There were formerly 70,000 chickens and 17,000 pigs, but only a dozen or so now take their place.

In this same community, said Col. Govaars 46 families were wiped out entirely, and families formerly consisting of 30 or more members are now represented by one or two. The colonel met a widow who was the sole survivor of a family of 28. When the Austrians occupied the place many civilians were killed in the shelling other were taken away as prisoners and an epidemic swept away 305 of the refugees who returned after the Austrian occupation.

"When I reached the district," he continued, "the people were living on corn meal and unripe fruit, chiefly plums. No other food was obtainable, except by the few who lived near military posts and could depend on the charity of the soldiers.

"In another village I met the case of a woman whose husband had been killed in battle, while starvation and disease left her only one child out of seven. Another woman I talked with was the sole survivor of a family of 11. I passed deserted houses and when I asked what had become of the people, I heard but the one answer, 'Died out.' Miles and miles of rich land lie absolutely waste, covered with weeds and thistles. The great plum orchards of the district were bearing fruit at the time of my visit, but there was no one to pick and dry it. Formerly the farmers used to distill plum brandy on their premises, but all of the copper stills were taken away by the invaders. There was no labor and no means of transportation.

"In another village I stood on the ruins of a farm house in which 109 persons had been burned alive. Their bones were collected and buried in a hillside nearby. In one pit the bodies of 99 civilians had been thrown and buried."

WILSON'S FRIEND WILL GO ABROAD

House to Communicate With Ambassadors. Not a Peace Mission.

New York, Dec. 21.—Col. E. M. House, confidential adviser of President Wilson, announced late today that he will shortly sail for Europe at the request of the president.

Col. House declared the sole purpose of the trip would be to deliver to certain American ambassadors information regarding this government's attitude on various international matters now pending. He denied emphatically that his trip will in any way be a peace mission.

Col. House said he expected to sail from here within the next two weeks and probably would be in Europe about six or eight weeks.

"I am going to Europe at the request of the president and the secretary of state for the purpose of taking information to some of our ambassadors," he said, "in order that they may have a more intimate knowledge of this government's attitude regarding certain phases of international questions and in order to obtain from them their point of view on these matters.

"It is not advisable to bring home at this time any of our ambassadors from the belligerent countries. It has therefore been impossible to convey by cable quite the correct atmosphere."

WAR UPON PAIN!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Solister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new." March, 1915. HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic.
