Seeking Relatives Here. Sheriff Buford has received a letter from Mrs. Nancy Schade, of Wilman, New County, Arkansas, making inquiries which may be of interest to some of the people of this county. Mrs. Schade is seeking to find the whereabouts of certain relatives who formerly lived in Newberry. She says at the close of the war she had an uncle, Silas Merchant, a sister, Mrs. Mattie Harmon, and a niece by the name of Martha Abgill, Mrs. Harmon's daughter, living in Newberry. Mrs. Schade is the youngest daughter of Thomas D. Merchant, who lived in Moringo County, Ala. At the close of the war he moved to Arkansas, where he died. Her grandfather married a Mrs. Legrone, at Newberry or Laurens. She was informed recently that her aunt, Mrs. Harmon, had married a lawyer some eight or ten years ago. She has forgotten his name. Any information as to the whereabouts of any of the above named parties or their descendants, will be gladly received by Mrs. Schade.

Festival of the Reformation. The 355th anniversary of the beginning of the Reformation was appropriately observed at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Sunday evening. It was "Newberry College night" and a chorus choir of college students furnished excellent music. The address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Seabrook. His theme was "The Hero of the Reformation." Clearly and impressively he traced the life of Luther from the moment of his lowly birth, placing prominently before his hearers the thought that Luther was "God's man," that although only one branch of the church bore his name, his work did not belong to that church alone, but to the whole church. Eloquently the speaker told the story of the great courage of the man, a courage inspired and supported by his unflinching faith in God. Logically he estimated the greatness of the movement to which Luther gave impetus, bringing out the fact that without him other minor Reformations, such as that headed by Zwingli, might have failed.

He concluded with an exhortation to Christians to be worthy of the heritage which Luther had left them. The large congregation present entirely filled the church, and their attention was closely held by the speaker throughout. Meeting Daughters of Confederacy. The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Kinard. Mrs. R. D. Wright, Sec.

Her bouquet consisted of brides' roses and ferns. The betrothal was said at the entrance of the hall, and then the bride and groom with the maid of honor, Miss Sadie Gist, and the best man, Dr. S. B. W. Courtney, advanced to the front where the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Swindler. After the benediction had been given the bridal party left the house under the strains of music. After luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Gist left for the bride's home, accompanied by a good many friends of both parties, where there was an excellent supper set for the bridal party at 6.30 o'clock. Sease and Stenographer Motte were on hand, and work was promptly begun. A number of indictments were handed the grand jury. Judge Buchanan in his charge to the grand jury said that inasmuch as they had already been charged at former sessions of the court during the year, it would only be necessary for him to define the crimes included in the indictments. There was a negro hot supper and fish fry on Mr. Bob Satterwhite's place, near Gary's Lane, on Saturday night. And there was the usual result of such affairs. One negro is fatally shot, with no possible hope of recovery and another is lodged in the Newberry jail. The supper ended in a row, which soon became general. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppervating swellings, etc., have been cured by Botanic Blood Balm free and prepared by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice sent in sealed letter. It is certainly worth while investigating such a remarkable remedy, as Blood Balm cures the most awful, worst and most deep-seated blood diseases. Don't imagine that all flours are alike. There is a difference; a big difference. So much depends upon having pure, white and nutritious flour that the subject is worthy your careful investigation and consideration. You will be better satisfied in selecting "Clifton" flour, a fact that any one who knows anything about flour will tell you. In purity, whiteness and quality, "Clifton" flour excels all other flour. Don't imagine that because "Clifton" is a high grade flour that the price is high, because the price is low; in reach of all housekeepers. Cheap flour is dear at any price, while "Clifton" is the least expensive and is the very best you can buy. BRANSFORD MILLS, Owensboro, Ky. Women and Jewels.
