

The Watchman and Southern.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1892.

The Sumter Watchman was founded in 1840 and the True Southern in 1866. The Watchman and Southern now has the combined circulation and influence of both of the old papers, and is manifestly the best advertising medium in Sumter.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the absence of the editor, during the past month, valuable assistance has been rendered by Rev. John Kershaw and Rev. J. S. Hartzell. So satisfactory has been the work done by these gentlemen that we feel called upon to congratulate both our readers and ourselves that their aid was secured.

If Tillman is the poor man's friend, as he is proclaimed to be, why does he seek to take the tax from property and place it upon the individual. Think about that $3.00 poll tax.

Jones, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Alabama has defeated Kobb the bolting Alliance candidate by 50,000 majority. This is good news, and Alabama is to be congratulated.

The rules adopted by the Bicycle Club are commended to the attention of all our citizens. If others will do their part we are confident the bicyclists will use every effort to avoid accidents. The rules are evidence of their honesty.

It is apparent that the Homestead Strike is almost at an end. Twenty-five of the skilled workmen have made overtures to be taken back by the Carnegie Company. The Company will re-employ all workmen on the terms originally offered them.

President Harrison's proclamation making October 21st a general holiday, is given in another column. Similar proclamations have already been issued by the Governors of New York, Illinois, Minnesota and Florida. It is to be hoped that the Governor of South Carolina will do likewise.

The people of Irmo, Lexington County, raised a mob on Sunday night for the purpose of taking George Kinard from the Lexington jail and lynching him, but he was taken to Columbia before the mob reached Lexington. Kinard was accused of assaulting Mrs. Robt. Addison a respectable white woman of Irmo. The Sheriff of Lexington deserves credit, for by his promptness he saved the prisoners life.

How will the poor, but honest, man relish being hired by the county to a road contractor to be worked along with the county convicts. Have you read Tillman's road law which provides that unless a man pays $1.50 road tax he will be compelled to work eight days on the road, under a contractor, who will pay the county 50 cents per day for his services?

Gov. Tillman says that Sheppard and Orr will not receive more than 24,000 votes of the 95,000 that will be cast; in only six counties, Richmond, Charleston, Fairfield, Sumter, Beaufort and Georgetown—will they receive an average of 1000, and in the remaining counties the average Conservative vote will not average more than 600. He will be forced to revise his estimate after the primary, for that 50,000 majority is but an idle dream.

The following, taken from an exchange, may be true or not. We, at least, hope it is, and feel that all men that have been so unfortunate as to tread on a demi agree with us. "The sensible woman will be glad to learn that the train strike is no longer a necessity, except for full dress evening, dinner or reception wear. At all pleasurable gatherings where there will be dancing, the regulation skirt is to be full, and must just escape touching the floor.

THE FINAL EFFORT.

Tillman and his official household are frightened. They see that the fanatic enthusiasm, based mainly on class prejudice, fanned to bitterness by themselves two years ago, is dying out. They know that when this feeling has died away, the back-bone of their cause will be broken, that the mainstay of Tillmanism will be taken away, and that the most potent factor in gaining votes for Tillman will be destroyed. Hence, as a final effort for the retention of power; as the last, desperate resort, they have all, with a common purpose, commenced blowing, as Tillman himself expresses it, and the effort is to once more fan into a blaze the now dying embers of class bitterness. Upon this they depend for success. They themselves recognize the fact, and the Conservatives also know their intention to stir up bitterness in the hope of regaining lost votes.

Mr. H. R. Thomas's statement that Mayor Purdy had, in his official capacity rewarded negroes for howling at Tillman during the campaign meeting in this city in 1890, is an example of the methods the Tillmanites are resorting to. If Mr. Purdy rewarded negroes for howling at Tillman, as charged by Mr. Thomas, that fact would have nothing more to do with the present issue than some of the acts of Mr. Thomas in past years. But the truth or falsity of the charge was not considered at all. In a case like this, a brazen falsehood serves the purpose better than the truth would. The intention was to revive the bitterness against the town and from this, as the people of the town chiefly favor Sheppard, to induce the country people to vote for Tillman. If Mr. Thomas could deceive only a very few persons in the county into believing that the people of Sumter, both individually and as a corporation, were opposed to the exercise of individual opinions on the part of country people, and then get them to vote for Tillman, he knew that the effort would repay him, for the result would be changed. He selected the wrong man, however, when he made Mr. Purdy the scape-goat on which to hang his "politics." Mr. Purdy is a man whose reputation for veracity is well established, and when he says that he did not reward the negroes for attempting to howl down Tillman, he is believed, especially when no one saw Mr. H. R. Thomas make the charge. We wonder if the comparison is not particularly odious to Mr. Thomas.

The tactics of Tillman in the State at large are similar to those of Thomas in Sumter County. He appeals to the passions of his listeners and adroitly avoids replying to the Conservative arguments against his official acts and proposed measures. When his proposed road law is attacked he replies by asking whose wagons cut rats in the roads, the poor man's or the rich, and who ought to pay for repairing and keeping up the roads. Or if his $3.00 poll tax law is shown up in its true relation to the poor man, he says that law is intended to catch the negro and force him to pay his portion for the support of the schools. When Sheppard exposes the unfairness of Tillman's scheme for holding a Constitutional Convention, and advocates amendments to the Constitution by the direct vote of the people, Tillman's reply is that the people should be ashamed to live under a Constitution that was framed by the Radicals. In Darlington, Tillman read a circular purporting to express an agreement between the Republicans and the Hakkellites, made prior to the election of 1890. This circular had been proven, and published, as a forgery two years ago and Tillman knew it, yet he did not hesitate to make political capital of it. So did Mr. H. R. Thomas use the Purdy incident in this county—knowing at the time the facts, he so perverted them as to serve his purpose of arousing feeling. But it is "politics." No wonder the Tillmanites distrust "politicians," for they evidently judge others by themselves.

TO THE POOR MAN.

The State, in speaking of the effect of $3.00 poll tax on the property owners and poor men, respectively, gives the following illustration. Let the poor men of Sumter County study the matter and then decide whether they will vote for a man who desires to make this imposition on them:

"Now, to make the difference plain to every one between the present system and the one which will be made possible by Tillman's success, let us do a little figuring. Governor Tillman returns his property for taxation as follows: $3000 for his farm, $1000 for his house, and $1000 for his carriage. He is assessed $3000, but he will give him all the advantage to be secured by the return of $10 cova, $1.33 bogs, $50 mads and $3.37 land. His 2-1/2 mill public school tax, $8.33 amount, $1000 tax, $1000 poll tax added makes his present contribution to public education $17.75.

John Smith, let us say, is a renter, with practically no property. He pays only $1.50 poll tax. So we have, as the present figures: B. R. Tillman, $17.75. John Smith, $1.50. Under the Tillman-Gary Evans plan of a $3 poll tax, and no 2-1/2 mill tax we would have these figures: B. R. Tillman, $3.00. John Smith, $3.00. As results of the change there would be these gains and losses:

Gain for B. R. Tillman, $14.75. Loss for John Smith, $2.00. How many John Smiths are there who want to save the B. R. Tillman $14.75 each, at a cost to themselves of $2.00 each?

South Carolina's Health Resort.

As August draws near, the number of guests, both health and pleasure seekers, grows to be daily increasing. At present there is in the neighborhood of two hundred people at the hotel, besides quite a number quartered at the several private boarding houses, and many more are expected to arrive in the next few days. The month when the largest crowd gathers at Glenn's, and the proportion of gay and youthful pleasure seekers is then greatest. This season has been no exception for the number of young ladies and gentlemen who are making the hotel their headquarters within the past few days, and others are daily expected.

Of amusements, dancing is the favorite, and seldom evening passes without an informal dance. Tuesday, and usually Thursday, evening there is a full dress German, and which has been on each occasion elegant and enjoyable affairs. The German on last Tuesday evening was particularly pleasant, and the tastes of the readers handsome and beautiful. The bowling alley is well patronized by those who are energetic and desirous of building up a physique, while the indolent give it a wide berth. It is really a most enjoyable and at the same time affords as much amusement as any game in mind. In the early morning, when many are indulging in a final nap, two or more couples are seen playing a friendly game of billiards. And later in the day, when the weather is not too oppressive, the game goes on, with its constant and natural complement—a harmless flirtation.

There are other means of amusement at hand, besides riding, buggy driving, etc., for which a good livery stable affords every facility; and the fertile facilities of the guests are ever evolving some new way to kill time and have fun. One Georgian actually spends his forenoon shooting minnows from inches of water, with a 32-calibre rifle. He kills few, but that makes little difference, as he always manages to have a companion and be an incessant talker.

Glenn's is a place that has great attractions to the mere pleasure-seeker, but it is principally to the sick and tired, those needing recuperation and rest, that it holds out greatest inducements. Here hundreds have found health, when they had ceased, long before, to entertain such a hope, and each month names are being added to this list. For all curable disorders of the liver and kidneys the water is a specific. It acts so gently and naturally that a cure is often perfected before the patient realizes that the water has begun to act. The water is most efficient in cleansing and rehabilitating a system vitiated and run down by drinking mineral country. For bowel complaints there is no remedy equal to the water. There are cases on record where the water has permanently cured cases of chronic diarrhoea and dysentery within two weeks. Many of the obscure and complicated diseases to which women are subject, yield promptly to the action of the water and numbers of cures are recorded. The tonic influence of the water are most beneficial and efficacious in such cases. The women have pronounced the water a wonderful fat blaster to the sex.

That unfortunate class of humanity—the tired, either those constitutionally that way, having been born so, or those who when in an acquired habit—find themselves in their element, for this is a most restful place. One may literally take no thought for the morrow, and will be as well, if not better off, than his fellow who works and toils about him, and who will be far on the coming day. The man with the over-worked brain and shattered nerves, and the one with exhausted body and malacia-ridden system meet, and mutually benefit, by drinking the water. It is as refreshing, as or some other are; and gain cheerfulness from the thought. A person with an appreciation of a certain kind of humor can find occupation for the faculty by listening to the various persons recounting their ill, each one painting his case in the most sombre hues, and yet invariably closing his narrative with a sympathetic and consoling reference to some one not present in the conversational circle, but supposed to be worse off than the speaker. But all the humor is not grim—far from it. There is more real, genuine humor, because original and often unconscious, to be heard at the Springs in the mornings, or the hotel porch in the evenings, when the crowd of sociables get together, than could be collected by reading half the so-called humorous publications of the day. With such humor the hearty laugh is a consequent result, and they laugh and grow fat.

A crowd of South Carolinians will talk politics under circumstances even the most uncomplaisant of them can find nothing to be dangerous. Here political discussion is at a premium, for the men are from all portions of the State and naturally wish to learn the conditions and sentiment of other sections than their own; and then they have all the time needed. The gentlemen from other States take great interest in the political situation, and are uniformly in sympathy with Conservative views. With such humor the hearty laugh is a consequent result, and they laugh and grow fat.

As an illustration of the manner residents of other States discuss our "gentleman" Governor, I will refer to a conversation I had a few days ago with a Georgia (to Florida) "Olepin, what do you think of the Governor of South Carolina that bought, for his own use, a five-tooth comb from the State?" "Oh, he is a younger man than I am—I wouldn't need one." And this was about the Governor of our State, and the man who had bought the comb was a Chief Magistrate, so little respected? But the discussion of politics goes on amicably. Sumter, city and county, has not been as numerously represented here this season as formerly, and at present there are only two or three here, but otherwise expected. Dr. J. J. Bossard, Mr. W. J. Anderson, Mr. W. D. Dick, Mr. Ellerbe, Miss May Ely, Mrs. H. R. Sanders were here and left several days ago. Miss Hallie Sanders, of Hagood, is here and will remain some time yet. But whether those who come from Sumter later in the season, or not, they can rest assured of finding a welcome from the Messrs. Simpson and a hotel full of sociable people.

The New York Herald has announced a novel plan for the present presidential campaign. To the person who most nearly predicts the popular plurality of either Cleveland or Harrison, it will give a free trip around the world, paying all expenses; and the third best prediction will be rewarded by a trip to London and return. Competition is open to residents of all portions of the United States, the only conditions being that the prediction must be made on a ballot which is printed in the Herald every morning. Any one can make as many predictions as he has ballots.

Something to test when you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The worst cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties. No matter how long you have been suffering, you can be cured. Curable cases are rare. Its worth $500 to you, if you have one. The manufacturer, Dr. J. C. Carter, is looking for them. They'll pay you that amount in cash, if they can't cure you. It's a plain square offer from a reliable business man, and they mean it. It seems too good, too much of a risk. It would be with any other medicine behind it. It only goes to prove that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is a cure with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Other so-called remedies may palliate for a time, but they do not cure. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it conquers the worst cases. It removes offensive discharges, restores the natural action of the system, and restores the system to its normal condition, when caused by the violence of Catarrh, as they all frequently are. Remedy sold by druggists, only 50 cents.

It is a fixed and immutable law that to have good, sound health one must have pure, rich and abundant blood. There is no shorter nor surer route than by a course of Dr. Witt's Sarsaparilla. J. S. HUGHSON & CO.
