

THE BEANS COUNTED.

The Minor Store World's Fair Guessing Contest Concluded.

The Minor Store's World's Fair bean jar was opened Friday night in the presence of Messrs. J. H. Levy, C. L. Stubbs, W. D. Shaw, F. D. Knight and H. G. Osteen who counted the beans and then made a careful examination of the 76,000 tickets, upon which the guesses were recorded, to determine who made the guess nearest to the actual number of beans in the jar.

The task was a big one, requiring several hours steady work, but it was done into carefully and systematically performed so as to prevent the possibility of mistakes.

By actual count the jar was found to contain 6185 beans. An examination of the tickets disclosed a great variety of guesses ranging from one bean to 3,333,333 not to mention several guesses stated in terms of quarts and pints. There were quite a number of guesses within ten of the real number and hundreds within twenty-five, but no one guessed the correct number. The nearest guesses were made by Miss Lillian Moses, 6189 and Harry Lee Page, 6161, who therefore tied for the prize. Under the circumstances the Minor Store has decided to divide the prize—a round trip ticket to the St. Louis World's Fair and $50 in cash—between the two, which seems to be the fairest and best solution of the situation.

The contest has been a most successful and interesting one and the managers of the Minor Store have every reason to be gratified by the result. Their customers have evinced great interest in the contest and the very large number of guesses recorded is the very best evidence that the contest was a popular one in every sense of the word.

NEW CLASSIFICATION ADOPTED.

Important Meeting of Executive Committee of S. C. Lumberman's Association.

The executive committee of the South Carolina Lumberman's Association, consisting of D. T. McKeithan of Lumber, William Godfrey, of Chee-rass, T. W. Boyle, of Greenville, H. L. Scarborough of Sumter and H. J. McLanin, Jr., of Sumter, met in this city on December 30th and revised the classifications of 1883 and 1902 and adopted a new price list under authorization of the association, a resolution instructing the executive committee to make the revision having been adopted at the last meeting of the association. The action of the committee will be reported to the association at its next meeting which will be held in Columbia on January 13th.

Mr. D. T. McKeithan was appointed to represent the association at a meeting of the Georgia Association which is to be held this week and to confer with said association respecting the adoption of a uniform classification by all the lumber associations of the South. The North Carolina Association already signified its intention to adopt a uniform classification and price list and it is believed that all of the Southern lumbermen will subscribe to the new classification and price list and that the lumber business has been upon a better footing than it has been in years.

The meeting was a successful and business like one in every respect and the work before it was accomplished with dispatch.

Cotton Receipts.

The receipts of cotton on this market up to date have been larger than anyone anticipated they would be, but they are still considerably short of last year's receipts, and as practically all of the cotton produced in this section has been marketed there is no probability of the receipts gaining on last year and making good the deficiency. The public cotton weighers report the receipts to have been, from the opening of the season to the close of business, December 31st, 24,107. The receipts last year for the same period were 28,781, showing a falling off this year of 4,674.

A Prisoner in Her Own House

Mrs. W. H. Layba, of 1001 Agnes Ave., Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change to the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured." This remedy is for sale by China's Drug Store.

Anderson, Dec. 31.—Frank Pickens and Sam Wilkie, two negroes living on Mr. W. Q. Hammond's place near the city, had trouble yesterday and as a result Pickens received a gunshot wound in the abdomen that will likely cause his death. Wilkie was captured soon after the shooting and is now in jail.

Cured After Suffering 10 Years.

B. F. Hare, Supt. Miami Cycle & Mfg. Co., Middletown, O., suffered for ten years with dyspepsia. He spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and with doctors without receiving any permanent benefit. He says, "One night while feeling exceptionally bad I was about to throw down the evening paper when I saw an item in the paper regarding the merits of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I concluded to try it and while I had no faith in it I felt better after the second dose. After using two bottles I am stronger and better than I have been in years, and I recommend Kodol Dyspepsia Cure to my friends and acquaintances suffering from stomach trouble." Sold by J. S. Hughton & Co.

Bishopville News Items.

Mr. W. T. Welch of Ellhott will move to town next week and engage in getting out hard wood for market.

Mr. S. H. Kilgore, of Orlando Fla., who has been spending a week with his brother, J. P. Kilgore, returned home last Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Turner of Georgia are visiting their mother Mrs. Rebecca Wilson.

Messrs. Spears, Dennis and Herndon have dissolved copartnership.

State Constable Ogg with Sheriff Smith got a warrant out last Tuesday and searched the store of Mr. J. R. Durant and took two barrels of booze liquor valued at $75. The liquor was shipped to Columbia.

The Co-operative Grange Store which was organized some five or six years ago by the farmers for the purpose of furnishing goods at cost to the stockholders, after a thorough test found out that the plan is impracticable and by a vote of the stockholders have decided to dissolve.—Bishopville Vindicator.

Unsuccessful Advertising.

There are very many advertisements that do not pay. One man has roughly estimated that 75 per cent of all advertisements do not pay, yet the other 25 per cent pay so well that there is scarcely a business man who is willing to stand idly by and allow his competitors to do the advertising. The expense connected with advertising has increased, the competition between rival firms has become keener, and consequently the demand for good advertising has become imperative. The number of unsuccessful advertisements are many, and yet the loss incurred in an unsuccessful advertising campaign is so great that many firms stand aghast at the thought of such an undertaking. Many merchants see the necessity of advertising their business, but feel unable to enter the arena and compete with successful rivals.

The day of reckless, sporadic, haphazard advertising is rapidly coming to an end so far as magazine advertising is concerned. Although the number of pages devoted to advertising in our best magazines has increased during the last ten years, the number of firms advertising in these same magazines has decreased. The struggle has been too fierce for any but the strongest. The inefficient advertisers are gradually being eliminated and the survival of the fittest seems to be a law of advertising as it is of everything else that develops.—Walter D. Scott in the Atlantic.

A Negro Boy Kills His Friend.

Orangeburg, Dec. 29.—A young negro boy, Elliott Barton, about 17 years of age, came to town today and gave himself up to Sheriff Dukes.

He went out hunting birds on Christmas Day with another negro boy, Julian Jamison, and the latter was killed by the discharge of the shotgun in the hands of Barton. The prisoner says that the shooting was accidental and apparently regrets the affair very much. He says that he started to shoot a bird and his gun snapped. He then took the gun from his shoulder and was in the act of taking the defective shell from the gun when it was discharged. The load of shot took effect in the breast of his friend and killed him instantly.

The inquest over the deceased was held by Magistrate Kennerly, and the prisoner says he was advised to come to Orangeburg and give himself up to the authorities, which he did today.

New York, Dec. 30.—At a meeting of the directors of the Seaboard Air Line today J. Skelton Williams resigned the office of president of the company and Vice President Barr was selected president and general manager. Mr. Williams was elected chairman of the board of directors.

London, Dec. 30.—Japan this evening completed the purchase of the Argentine war ships, Moreno and Rivadavia, building at Genoa, Italy, for which Russia also was negotiating.

Washington, Dec. 30.—At the request of the Governor of North Carolina, Brig. Gen. Carle A. Woodruff, U. S. A., retired, has been ordered to report to the Governor at Raleigh for duty, with the organized militia of the State of North Carolina for period of four years, unless sooner relieved. This detail is made under the provisions of the Dick militia bill, and while serving under it Gen. Woodruff will receive the full pay and allowances of his grade.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt, of Barger-ton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and its continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at J. F. W. DeLorme's Drug Store.

The city council of Columbus, Ga., has voted funds to erect a memorial tablet to a negro laborer. The colored man who is thus honored in a Southern city was "Brad" Smith. When the city superintendent of public works, Robert L. Johnson, was buried by a cave-in on September 3 last, Smith made a brave but unsuccessful attempt to save the superintendent's life, and in the effort sacrificed his own life. The council not only provide this monument to Smith, but investigate to ascertain if he had any relatives dependent on him for whom the city could provide. This was not in Boston, where they praise the negro, but refuse to allow him to hold a job, but in a typical Southern city in the solidly democratic South.—Anderson Mail.

Found a Cure for Indigestion.

I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find that they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different remedies. I am nearly fifty-one years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to now.—Geo. W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. For sale by China's Drug Store.

Bristow's Training for the Ministry.

It was in northeastern Kentucky, near Flemingsburg, that Mr. Bristow was born, forty-five years ago, and there he lived until he attained manhood; but, deprived of many school privileges, he had acquired almost no education. Then he turned his eyes to the West. He emigrated to Kansas and settled on a homestead among the hills in the southern part of the Sunflower State, and there, with his young wife, he settled down to the life of a Kansas stock-raiser. In education, he was probably not the equal of half the farmers around him. He was untutored and unlettered, but he became ambitious for a wider sphere than that of the farm. He wanted something higher; he desired to achieve something. Realizing that he was handicapped by his lack of education, he remained on his farm only long enough to accumulate a few hundred dollars, and then he moved his family to Baldwin, the seat of Baker University, the largest Methodist college of Kansas, and started at the bottom, with a determination to complete the college course and become a Methodist minister.

And he did go through college; but before he entered the ministry other duties demanded his attention. It meant hardship and privation and grit and determination to spend so many years in college with a family to support, but he accomplished it. He developed a leadership in college, and secured his first political training in college politics. Associated with him during his college days were three other prospective Methodist preachers, and together they formed a quartette of college leaders. The other three were William A. Quayle, an Irish farmer boy; Don S. Colt, the son of a pioneer preacher; and Edward Randall, another farmer boy. Quayle became president of his alma mater, but resigned after a few years, and is now one of the most distinguished Methodist ministers in the country, located at Kansas City. Colt is pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Baltimore, and Randall is pastor of a large church of the same denomination in Seattle. This is the sort of environment that surrounded Mr. Bristow during his college career.—From "Joseph L. Bristow: The Argus of the Postoffice Department," by Clarence H. Matson, in the American Review of Reviews for January.

Some Vice-Presidential History

Writing to the New York Evening Post Edward C. Wade of Los Angeles, Cal., who states that he has voted the Republican ticket in every presidential election for many years, says:

William Henry Harrison died, and I saw John Tyler become the President of the United States, and I also saw him turn the government over into the keeping of the Democrats, because he had failed to receive the nomination.

Zachary Taylor died, and I saw Millard Fillmore become President of the United States, and also saw him turn the government over into the keeping of the Democrats, because he had failed to receive the nomination.

Abraham Lincoln died, and I saw Andrew Johnson become the President of the United States, and I also saw him make an effort to turn the government over into the keeping of the Democrats.

James A. Garfield died, and I saw Chester A. Arthur become the President of the United States, and I also saw him turn the government over into the keeping of the Democrats, because all his efforts had failed to procure the nomination for himself, and he could not endure defeat from the immortal James G. Blaine.

I saw Benjamin Harrison in an effort to procure a renomination for President, bring overwhelming defeat to himself, and party.

William McKinley died, and I have seen Theodore Roosevelt become the President of the United States.

The Cardinal's Drollery.

It is evident from the will of the late Cardinal Herrero y Espinosa, of Spain, that the dead prelate possessed a certain droll humor of which he was little suspected during his life. This quality is clearly disclosed in a clause of his will authorizing the payment of a legacy of $10,000 "to the first Spanish general who will land on territory of the United States of America with an army sufficiently strong to avenge the defeats of Spain in Cuba and the Philippines." The Cardinal's drollery is further illustrated in a proviso which reads: "Pending this happy event the money shall remain in the Bank of Spain." Thus in a single paragraph the departed Cardinal establishes a posthumous reputation as a joker and adds a substantial sum to the permanent funds of the Bank of Spain.—Army and Navy Journal.

Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c., at J. F. W. DeLorme's Drug Store.

Ocala, Fla., Dec. 31.—Yesterday afternoon Jailer Charlie Smith was shot by a desperate negro and is probably fatally wounded. He arrested the man in the postoffice, but did not search him. In front of the Boston store the negro halted and fired twice at Mr. Smith, one ball striking him just above the right groin. After being shot Mr. Smith fired three times at the fleeing negro. The negro was finally captured and after having his wounds dressed was put in jail.

Rydale's Stomach Tablets.

Rydale's Stomach Tablets are made for the stomach and organs of assimilation and are not intended for a "cure all." They contain concentrated aseptic, pepsin, pure pancreatin and other digestive agents. They contain powerful tonics and mild stimulants that have a specific effect on the stomach, and organs of assimilation, which aid nature in reconstructing the broken down cells and strengthening the fluid muscles of the walls of the stomach and other digestive organs. Rydale's Stomach Tablets are a perfect stomach medicine—they relieve at once and soon cure the worst forms of stomach trouble. Price 25c and 50c. a box. All dealers.

Railways Planting Locust Trees.

"If the Pennsylvania Railroad Company had done, twenty-five years ago, what it is now beginning to do in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Forestry for its future supply of ties, namely, planting 1,000,000 young locust trees, it would not have the timber for 5,000,000 ties, worth, say $2,500,000. Similarly, if all other railway companies, as some of the largest systems have now decided to do, had taken the suggestions of a number of farseeing men of affairs," says the Railway Age, "and had planted catpals, locust and other quick-growing trees along their right of way and on vacant and practically useless tracts of land, they long could have been cutting their own ties alongside their own lines, at a saving of many millions of dollars. A few companies did take advice and started tree-growing on a limited scale, but the majority lacked the wisdom, in consideration for those who should come after them, to plant seed of whose harvest they themselves might not reap, and so the railways have been consuming the natural forests at a tremendous rate without making any serious effort at replacement. The time lost cannot be restored or credited back to the treeless land, but it is not too late to start a general movement of tree-planting for the railways of the next generation, and it is a matter for congratulation that such a movement is now under way."

Gave $100,000 to the Poor.

Parral, Mexico, Dec. 26.—Pedro Alvarado, the eccentric millionaire of this place, distributed a carload of silver dollars amounting to more than $100,000 among the poor people of Parral and adjacent mining camps yesterday. He also gave many other Christmas gifts to the needy. Accompanied by an armed guard he visited the poor families and gave the silver away personally.

Anbrun, N. Y., Dec. 29.—Frank White, a negro was put to death in the electric chair at the State's prison here today for the murder of George Clare, a farmer, of Scriba, Oswego county, by shooting. Six contacts, each of 1,740 volts, 7 1/2 amperes, were applied before White was pronounced dead.

The country's business outlook is a subject of compelling interest at the beginning of the new year. This fact is recognized by the Review of Reviews, which devotes a large part of its January number to a survey of the situation "The New Year: Prosperity or Depression?" is the title of a group of articles in which C. Kirchhoff, the editor of the Iron Age, treats of "The Outlook for Steel and Iron," R. W. Martin of "The Prospect for Railway Earnings," Charles M. Harger of "Good Crops and Good Times in the West," and F. W. Hawthorne of "The Promise of 1904 for Trade in General." The same number has an illustrated article on "The Status of the Southwestern Oil Industry," by Day Allen Willey; an account of the long and successful fight waged by science against the Texas cattle fever, by Professor Charles S. Potts; and the story of English walnut culture in southern California, by Elizabeth A. Ward. The magazine is also unusually strong in its biographical articles; the character sketch of Elihu Root, the retiring Secretary of War, by Walter Wellman, is especially noteworthy, while the career of Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow, the investigator of the postal frauds is attractively presented by Clarence H. Matson, and the life and work of the late Herbert Spencer, the great English philosopher, are sketched by Professor F. J. E. Woodbridge. The threatening war between Japan and Russia claims attention in the editorial department, while the cartoon department ably supplements the editor's paragraphs on current American politics.

Shiel, the French archaeologist, reports that he has unearthed in the Babylonian town of Sippar a most interesting school building, which dates back to 4,000 B. C. The building contains seven rooms, one of which was filled with clay tablets, arranged in regular order. Most of these had not been baked and their inscriptions could not be deciphered. Several, however, were in perfect condition. They were in Sumerian. Some contained hymns, while others were primers, grammars and arithmetics. Others were copy books, which contained the models and then the straggly efforts of some young pupil. All dated texts bore the name of Hammurabi, which shows that the school was used for a long time after its construction.

Kind Letter From a Pleased Customer—Unsolicited.

Office of Leg. & M. Sec. Attorneys at Law, Sumter, S. C. Dr. Highsmith. Dear Sir: Before going north last summer, you examined my eyes and prescribed glasses. During my stay in New York, I consulted an eminent oculist, Dr. Reese, who again examined my eyes, and stated that you had diagnosed them correctly and had given me the glasses which I required. I also take pleasure in stating that the glasses you prescribed for my son, Harmon, have given him entire satisfaction. I will be glad to recommend you to all persons who may require your attention as oculist, as I feel sure that your work will give entire satisfaction. Yours truly, Marion Moise.

Cocaine Habit in Washington.

In his annual report to the District commissioners, Major Sylvester declares the drug habit within his jurisdiction to be vastly on the increase. "While there has been no general increase in the opium habit," he says, "that of cocaine has taken a firm hold on the lower classes. It is bound to become a destructive agency unless something is done to prevent its sale by druggists. Two years ago the drug was hardly known," he continues, "but the habit has grown, and the wreck of lives which accompanies the use of this deadly drug and its sister drugs, morphine, chloral and even patent medicines, is becoming apparent. The police are powerless to raid the opium joints save on the charge of disorderly conduct and the fine for this misdemeanor is inadequate to check the scourge." He urges the necessity for the prohibition of the sale of these drugs save upon the prescription of a physician.—Washington Post.
