FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1916.

The rains throughout the county have brought comfort to the hearts of many. It was a bit late, but not too late, and for that let us give thanks.

It is a great comfort to awake these spring mornings and hear the song of the mocking birds. That is much sweeter music than the growl of a German howitzer.

The Edisiona Theatre has on "The Battle Cry of Peace." Thursday afternoon and night, May 25, will be the last day the picture is to be shown in Union. Whether you are for "preparedness" or against the idea, you should see this superb picture. It is a masterpiece and may be seen for the small admission fee of 25 cents. It is worth a dollar of any man's money to see this picture.

Woodrow Wilson will be renominated by the Democrats, of that there is little doubt. And it will be an honor worthy bestowed. He will not only be renominated, he will be re-elected. His defamers are like the man without the wedding garment, speechless. It has fallen to the lot of perhaps no other man to face so many and such grave problems as have come to President Wilson since he has occupied the exalted position to which he has been chosen. Nor has any man shown a greater degree of wisdom in solving these problems. These United States will again call Woodrow Wilson to be the head of the nation.

PUBLIC PIGS.

One cannot refrain from expressing the disgust occasioned by the bad behavior of thoughtless people at public gatherings. The noisy hand-clapping, the measured, simultaneous stamping of feet, the constant talking of people while some performance is going on is more than disgusting, it brands one as a pig. There is nothing smart about such a process. It does not take intelligence beyond the attainment of a brute to carry out such a program. It defeats the will of the many who go to hear, not to be seen. If these long-eared specimens could but see themselves as others see them! But that is impossible. One of the evils, along with the many good things of democracy, is that a pig may behave as such and there is little protection from his noisy interference.

A LESSON ON GOOD ROADS.

If there has been any doubt in the public mind as to the value of sand-clay roads, this doubt has been dispelled by the experiences of the travelling public. Throughout the county where the road beds have been widened, drained and surfaced with sand or top soil, the rains have had little effect upon the roads. There are many stretches of excellent roadways throughout the county that demonstrate the truth of this statement. It is to be hoped that the county authorities will continue to construct such roads. It will be no great while before practically all the roads in the county will be in fairly good shape. If those who opposed the road bond issue would be willing to have a small additional levy for road purposes it would not be long before we would have good roads. We do not spend sufficient money now to maintain and build good roads. The sum, considering the 600 miles of roads in the county is pitifully small—too small.

TILLMAN ABJURES

OLD TIME FAITH
 Washington, May 20.—"I do not want my share of the stealing in this bill; and while South Carolina has items in it amounting to $300,000 I shall vote against it and hope it will not become law."
 In these words Senator B. R. Tillman began his remarks on the senate floor when he arose today to say that he would oppose the passage of the pending rivers and harbors bill.
 "We need the money so much more for more important things that it is criminal in my mind to hesitate for one moment or to discuss this bill at all," Senator Tillman continued.
 The senior senator then said that if the bill should pass $40,000,000 would be wasted.

THE WM. WALLACE CHAPTER.

The William Wallace chapter, U. D. C., will meet Monday afternoon, May 29th, at 4 p. m. at the residence of Mrs. C. T. Murphy. The hostesses serving with Mrs. Murphy are Mrs. J. W. Mixson, Misses Annie Tinsley, Pearl Harris and Miss Edna Tinsley. All members are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Macbeth Young, Secretary.

CHOSEN SCIENCE TEACHER.

Mr. W. C. Ikenberry, who was recently chosen to the position of principal of the Waverly school, Columbia, has been transferred to the position of teacher of science in the high school in Columbia.

Mr. E. A. Fuller has been elected to the position of principal of the high school. No one has yet been elected to be principal of the Central school.

GAULT-GAULT.

Quite an interesting event of May 21 was the marriage of Mr. Foster Gault and Miss Vera Gault at the Baptist parsonage, Kelton, S. C. Mr. and Mrs. Gault are very popular young people of the Kelton section and have the best wishes of their many friends. Rev. J. D. Croft was the officiating minister.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN R. RIPPEY.

Mr. John R. Rippey died at his home in Union Wednesday, May 24, and was buried the following day at Gilead church near Jonesville.

HELP A GOOD CAUSE.

The Mt. Vernon Presbyterian church needed a new roof, so it was covered with good shingles at a cost of about $103.00. The men of the neighborhood did the work free. The Bailey Lumber company gave us a low rate, but after paying what we could, we owe about $65.00. Our membership is small in number and rich in faith but not in worldly goods.

In the graveyard at Mount Vernon are many who sleep their last sleep. The surest way to preserve and protect these graves is to keep up the church for the living God.

We ask the relatives of all who are buried there and all the friends of this old church to aid in clearing the $65.00 debt.

Our congregations are remarkably good for our friends of other churches stand by us year in and year out.

The following will receive your offerings:

On Sardis Road—Mrs. L. H. Mitchell, J. F. Vaughan, R. L. Young.

Around Mt. Vernon—Miss Pearl Keisler, Miss Lola Gregory.

Near Santuc—Miss Mary Jenkins, Miss Eva Gregory.

Monarch Mill—Mr. James T. Carter.

Or the Sexton, Mr. Albert B. Carter, and the pastor, Rev. J. F. Mathe-son.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE BANQUET.

The High School Domestic Science class taught by Mrs. W. T. Beaty delightfully entertained at a Mother's Banquet in the class rooms on Friday night.

The invited guests included the parents of the pupils, the trustees and their wives, the High school teachers, Supt. and Mrs. Jeffries and a few friends interested in the department. Mrs. Beaty, assisted the pupils of the class wearing dainty caps and aprons, welcomed the guests at the door and invited them to the banquet room which was gay with its decorations of green and white, the school colors. The deep window recesses were banked with vases of Dorothy Perkins roses and flowering pot plants, thus adding a touch of color.

The place cards, designed by Mrs. Beaty and made by the class, were little booklets bearing on the cover a picture of a woman engaged in some housewifely task. Within was the following unique recipe for a happy home, "I Father, Mother, served children. Place in a clean and orderly house. Mix with abundance of sweetness and a generous measure of the oil of kindness. Season with smiles and a little spice but be careful not to allow any Pepper Sauce to drop in. Leaven all with Love and Righteousness. Serve at each meal and between times."

Tall pink candles in cut glass candelabra were used as the center decoration of each table and lighted just as the guests assembled in the dining room. A delicious five-course supper was served by the members of the class and if the proof of the banquet, like the pudding, is in the eating, there is no doubt that the efforts of the class and teacher met with due appreciation.

Mr. Jeffries, who acted as toastmaster, himself responded to the toast, "Mothers, the Uncrowned Heroes." Mr. Jeffries prefaced his remarks by saying that if there was any man who ought to know a great deal about mothers it was himself, for in his long experience as superintendent of the schools he had had many encounters with mothers, some pleasant, some the reverse. After speaking of the influence of the mother in the home, he closed his remarks with the familiar quotation, "the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

Mrs. Beaty responded to the toast, "Domestic Science—It is the bounty of nature that we live but of philosophy that we live well." Mrs. Beaty said that her situation was analogous to that of the candidate who rose to make a speech and delivered himself of the following remarks: "My friends, I am a laboring man and was so busy at work that I did not have the time to write a speech, and if I had of had time to write a speech, I wouldn't of had time to of learnt it." She then went on to tell of the nutritive value of the different kinds of foods and of the necessity of a well-balanced ration. This excellent talk elicited hearty applause.

Mr. J. H. Hope was to have responded to "Cooks, No soil upon earth is so dear to our eyes, as the soil we first stirred in terrestrial pies," but as he failed to put in an appearance for reasons unknown Mr. J. Cohen was called on and made an excellent impromptu talk. He spoke of the effect of nourishing well-cooked food on the mind, as well as on the general system, of the various sciences that for long have been included in the curriculum of the colleges and of the fact that Domestic Science is one of the most important sciences taught today. On it the health and bodily comfort of the home depends.

Rev. Mr. Jones responded to "Home, the place where you are treated best and grumble most." Mr. Jones said in part that during his experience in the early days of his life he had had ample opportunity to see into the homes of the world and was of the opinion that domestic science was a sadly neglected art in many of them.

He brought out the fact that many are good cooks by inheritance but all may become so through proper training and experience.

The decorating of the rooms and tables was done entirely by the class, the menu prepared by them, and the dainty and attractive little bon bon baskets filled with mints and put at the place of each guest, were their handiwork.

Mrs. Beaty was warmly congratulated upon the success of the entertainment and the excellent progress made by her class as evidenced by their cooking. It is with genuine regret that the pupils give this popular teacher up, as she has decided not to undertake the work another session. As the guests took their leave they voted this one of the pleasantest occasions it had been their good fortune to attend in many a day.

WOULD A CREAMERY PAY?
 Inman, S. C., May 5, 1916.

Dear Sir:
 I have been shipping cream ever since December, 1915, to Clemson Creamery up to April 14th. Then by the request of Clemson Creamery, I changed and am shipping to Spartanburg Creamery now. I am well pleased with it. A cream separator will pay anyone that has two cows. You can get at least a half-pound more butter with it a day than without it.

I milk four scrub cows. I have got three nice calves that I have raised on skimmed milk this winter. I have some nice hogs I have been feeding on skimmed milk. I figure the cream clear. For home use per day, three gallons 25 cents. One pound of butter per day, 25 cents. For home use 50 cents per day will be $15.00 a month. The manure from four cows is $2.00 per month. The milk and the manure at home is $15.00 and the manure $2.00, making a total of $17.00. I received for March shipment, after all expenses for shipping was paid.
 For home use and manure $17.00
