Macedonia Will Hold A Community Fair

By special invitation, Major W. J. Tiller, County Farm Demonstration Agent, and Charles L. Hunley, esq., Secretary of the County Fair Association, met a large crowd of the citizens of the Catarrh, Angelus and Macedonia communities Friday afternoon at a called-meeting at Macedonia school house for the purpose of organizing a Community Fair. The people of this, one of the most progressive sections of Chesterfield County, have determined to co-operate and put on a Community Fair one day next fall.

Major Tiller and Mr. Hunley made interesting speeches and outlined the ways by which a Community Fair can be held. Both these gentlemen are very much interested in the Community Fair project and both have had considerable experience along the line of Fair work, they holding the positions of vice-president and secretary, respectively, in the County Fair organization.

Much interest was shown by those present, among them quite a number of ladies. The good women folks of Macedonia are right in for the movement, and their interest alone is sufficient to insure success. Those who attended the Catarrh and Angelus campaign meetings can testify as to what the good ladies in this section can accomplish. Owing to a previous engagement, Miss Stella Mims, the Home Demonstration Agent, was unable to attend the meeting but she will meet the ladies at Macedonia in the near future.

It was the unanimous sentiment of all those present that Macedonia should have a Community Fair this fall and a permanent organization was effected with the following officers: J. R. Horton, president; E. R. Knight, vice-president; J. G. Sowell, secretary-treasurer. These three gentlemen were authorized to name a permanent committee to assist them in handling the Community Fair. There will be a separate ladies' committee to take care of the woman's department of canned goods and fancy work. A meeting of both these committees will be held within the next week and complete plans will be outlined to push the Community Fair through to a success.

Major Tiller and Miss Mims, the Home Demonstration Agent, and Attorney Hunley, secretary of the County Fair, state that they are ready and willing to aid any community in Chesterfield County in the organization of a Community Fair as it is their desire to see every township or section of Chesterfield County co-operate together and further their progress by getting together and having a Community Fair this fall. The County Fair offers a special cash prize of $25 to the Community Fair that makes the best exhibit at the County Fair at Chesterfield, Nov. 8, 9, 10, 11, 1916; a second prize of $10 cash will be awarded.

Allies Continue To Advance Against Foes

Gradually the lines of the enemy Allies are drawing more closely about Combes and toward Peronne and farther and farther their wedges are being driven into the German lines north and south of the River Somme. On a front of about 15 miles the French and British troops, supported powerfully by their enormous artillery arm, are steadily hammering the German positions and sustaining, unflinchingly, heavy counterattacks.

North of the Somme to the east and southeast of Forest, the French have driven forward their lines, capturing the outskirts of the Anderlu wood, hospital farm and the Rainnet-wood and part of Marrieres wood, and a position on the road leading from Bouchavenes to Clerly.

Near Ginchy, to the north of Gilemont, the British have made further progress, winning all the territory between the Falemont farm and Leuse wood and between that wood and the outskirts of the town of Ginchy, which they carried and have held since the fighting of Sunday.

South of the Somme the French have taken the town of Chily, situated one mile west of the railroad leading from Caules to Roye, a line of trenches east of Soyecourt and numerous isolated positions between Verandvillers and Chily.

Since Sunday the French alone have taken on the Somme front 6,550 prisoners and 36 guns, 26 of them being of heavy calibre.

On the eastern front violent fighting continues from the Pripet marsh region in Volhynia, through Galicia and up in the Carpathian passes, with the Russians reporting successes near Vladimir-Volynski and a continuance of their advance toward the plains of Hungary through the Carpathians. Berlin reports that in Galicia, in the region of Brzezany and near Fundul-Moldovi, in the Carpathian region, heavy Russian attacks were repulsed, with heavy casualties.

In eastern Rumania the Germans and Bulgarians have captured the fortified bridgehead of the Turrakan and the Bulgarians the town of Dobric, while Petrograd reports the cutting down of a Bulgarian outpost by Russian cavalry in its first engagement with the invaders on Roumanian soil.

Near Ognott, in Turkish Armenia, violent fighting between Turks and Russians is taking place. Both Petrograd and Constantinople report successes here for their respective armies.

The Italians have taken several additional positions from the Austrians in the Upper Bovi region of the Austro-Italian theatre and repulsed violent Austrian counter-attacks. Aside from artillery activity there has been no fighting in the Macedonian theatre.

Greece has not yet officially announced her intentions with regard to her future stand in the war, but unofficial reports say that five classes of Greek reservists have been called to the colors. The advices say also that Greek authorities have taken from the British and French secret police the task of arresting Austro-German agents, who will be apprehended by the Greeks and deported.

A few days ago a negro living across the road from Mr. Herbert McMillan, near Jefferson became engaged in an altercation with Mr. McMillan. Shots were exchanged, with the result that McMillan was hit in the face and the negro is thought to have been wounded. Though Mr. J. T. Grant and others were soon in pursuit, the negro eluded them.

Wilson Criticizes The Republican Party

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 2.—President Wilson to-day formally opened his campaign for re-election with a speech accepting the Democratic nomination in which he characterized the Republican party as "a practical and moral failure," defended the Mexican and European policies, recited the legislative achievements of his administration and declared for a "big America."

In his speech President Wilson was unsparing in his criticism of the Republican party as a party of "masterly inactivity and cunning resourcefulness in standing pat to resist change, and said that old leaders still select its candidates, but he did not mention Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate, by name.

The president spoke from the veranda of his summer home to a crowd which filled eight thousand chairs and overflowed the lawn.

Once when he said, "I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element among us which puts loyalty to any foreign power before loyalty to the United States," the crowd stood and cheered.

The notification ceremonies were brought to a dramatic close when more than a score of American flags attached to parachutes were fired into the air by mortars and unfolded over the President's head as a band played "America."

Afterward Mr. Wilson stood more than an hour on the veranda and shook hands with several thousand men, women and children.

Senator James, of Kentucky, chairman of the notification committee, introduced the President. When he declared that Mr. Wilson had kept America at peace the crowds responded instantly and applauded several minutes. He continued by handing the President a copy of the St. Louis platform.

The Democratic Platform. Reading slow but distinctly from a printed copy of his speech and frequently looking up to emphasize particular points, Mr. Wilson spoke of the Democratic platform as a "definite pledge."

Reviewing the achievements of the administration he said "alike in the domestic field and in the wide field of the commerce of the world, American business and life and industry have been set free to move as they never moved before."

He said: "We have provided for national defense upon a scale never before seriously proposed upon the responsibility of an entire political party."

Concluding his list of measures passed by Congress in the last three years, the President declared: "This extraordinary recital must sound like a platform, a list of sanguine promises, but it is not. It is a record of promise made four years ago and now actually redeemed in constructive legislation."

The President made a bid for the progressive vote by saying that "we have in four years come very near to carrying out the platform of the Progressive Party as well as our own, for we are also progressives."

Further along, rebuking foreign born Americans who are not loyal to the United States, he said: "I am the candidate of a party, but I am above all things an American citizen."

When Mr. Wilson declared that the revolution in Mexico is right and that so long as its leaders represent, however imperfectly a struggle for freedom, he is ready to serve their ends, the crowd applauded. Applause also greeted his declaration that America must do its part in laying the foundation for world peace.

The policy of the United States in dealing with violations of the rights of Americans as a result of the European war, the President outlined thus: That property rights can be vindicated by claims for damage when the war is over and no modern nation can decline to arbitrate such claims, but the fundamental rights of humanity cannot be."

TO THE VOTERS OF CHESTERFIELD COUNTY:

The report is being circulated that I am securing support in districts where school houses are being erected by threatening to discontinue the work if I am defeated for County Superintendent of Education.

I want to say that this is a political lie, and the person circulating it is doing it for a purpose well known to the public. I am man enough to do my duty in victory or defeat and the people have nothing to fear, for I will be re-elected and get the deserved approval of the thinking people of the county.

Vote for me and see the schools of Chesterfield progress.

Respectfully,
R. A. ROUSE.

Railway Strike Settled

The dread of a railway strike which had hung over the country for many weeks was lifted Saturday night as a result of the prompt action of Congress in passing the eight hour bill recommended by President Wilson and fathered by the Hon. W. C. Adanson, of Georgia.

The House passed the bill Friday; the Senate passed it Saturday, and three hours thereafter the brotherhood leaders who had called the strike sent the code messages all over the country annulling it. President Wilson signed the bill Sunday morning while on his way to Kentucky.

The bill provides that after January 1, 1917, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railway trains in interstate commerce (excepting roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines), that they shall receive pro rata pay for work in excess of eight hours, and that their rate of compensation shall not be changed pending an investigation for from six to nine months of the effect of the eight-hour day upon the railroads by a commission to be appointed by the President.

HOW TO INOCULATE CLOVER AND VETCH SEED

Clemson College, S. C.—Soil inoculation in either case is the best inoculation to be obtained. For crimson clover, get soil from a field upon which crimson clover, red clover, alsike clover or little white clover has grown successfully for several years. For vetch, use vetch soil, Canada field pea, sweet pea, or garden pea soil. Remove the first inch of the soil, and get your supply from the next four or five inches. Make a solution with one part of glue and 15 parts water, or equal parts of molasses (or sugar) and water. Spread the seed upon a sheet, spray them with this solution and roll them on the sheet until each seed is sticky. Then pour onto the seed a volume of inoculated soil equal to the volume of seed, and roll again until each seed is loaded with soil. Sow at once and immediately cover the seed. If the sun shines on this inoculation, the destruction of the bacteria begins at once, and they will soon be useless. Use a drag harrow or weeder in covering the seed.

Do not expect any winter legume to succeed to perfection with the first sowing. It often takes several crops to fill the soil with the necessary number of bacteria, especially on poor soil containing little or no humus.

In a recent conversation with Senator G. K. Laney he outlined the plan of county police proposed to take the place of the present system.

It is now the intention to provide for ten Township policemen, one for each township in the county, whose duty it will be to attend the business of the Magistrate and his court in each township. He will act as peace officer of the magistrate's court when such court is in session, will draw jurors and perform such other duties in the township as devolve upon such an officer.

He will remain at all times within the township, within easy access of the magistrate and the people of the township.

The estimated cost of the ten township policemen is $2,500 a year. The mode of election or appointment of these officers has not been decided upon.
