PRICES WILL STAY UP, SAY HARVARD EXPERTS

The Harvard committee on economic research has no expectation of a drop in prices to the pre-war level during the next ten years, Professor Charles J. Bulloch, chairman of the committee, said in an address at the Harvard Club in Boston recently. The committee, he added, could not accept the conclusion that prices must return to a prewar normal.

MRS. FELTON CANNOT BE SEATED IN WASHINGTON

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—Hopes of women that Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Cartersville, Ga., an interim appointee of Governor Hardwick following the death of Senator Thomas E. Watson, might be enabled to sit for a brief period as the first woman United States Senator, were blasted today when a thorough investigation by Walter F. George, Democratic nominee for Senator, failed to disclose any way this could be legally accomplished.

A TICKLESS TIMEPIECE

News comes from Berlin that a tickless clock has been invented by a German scientist who has been delving into the field of oscillation. A selected audience of government officials, scientists and newspapermen witnessed a demonstration of inventions of this nature recently that have been perfected by this engineer, Heinrich Schiefelstein.

A noiseless timepiece, which operates without a lever, was one of a number of specimens he used to show the importance of oscillating power for high speed engines and in the propulsion of ships, airplanes and gliders.

A German-American corporation has been founded in Berlin for worldwide exploitation of these discoveries. Fred A. Britten, of Illinois, an American congressman, is said to be actively interested in the inventions.

FORTY-EIGHT TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

Marion, Ill., Oct. 23.—The special grand jury, which to-day resumed its investigation of the Herrin mine killings after a month's recess, late this afternoon returned an indictment for murder, naming 48 persons and announced it had completed its work. This makes 414 persons the grand jury has indicted in connection with the rioting in which 23 men were killed.

Circuit Judge Hartwell, before whom the indictments were returned, expressed the opinion that the true bill is illegal because it was returned at the September term of court by a grand jury impaneled by the July term of court. State's Attorney De Los Duty expressed an opposite opinion and stated that he would appeal to the State Supreme Court if the indictments were declared illegal.

Those indicted to-day were charged with the death of Ignace Kubinis, the last victim of the rioting to expire, who died since the grand jury took a temporary adjournment 30 days ago. Only a few witnesses were heard to-day and they are said to have told of wounds inflicted on Kubinis, which are said to have resulted in his death.

In the total of 434 indictments, 77 individual persons are named, some of the men having as high as nine indictments charging murder, rioting and assault facing them. Twenty-one of the individuals are charged only with rioting and assault, leaving 56 indicted for murder. Of the total number of indictments 215 are for murder, 103 for assault and 116 for rioting.

The legality of the final 48 indictments returned to-day may not be decided until next year, it was stated to-night, because it was said there probably would not be an opportunity to test the jury's proceedings until the indictments voted to-day are called for trial, which is not expected before 1923.

All except a half dozen of the indicted men either have been arrested or surrendered voluntarily. The missing men are said to be unidentified or have fled the country. Bond has been accepted for all but eight of the men who are charged with the more serious offenses and are lodged in jail.

The first trial in connection with the riots is scheduled to begin in November.

County Officers Meet in Columbia

The second annual meeting of the South Carolina Association of Auditors and Treasurers was held in Columbia yesterday and to-day, meeting jointly Wednesday afternoon with the South Carolina Association of Sheriffs.

Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at the Masonic temple a banquet was given the members of the two associations, with Walter E. Duncan, comptroller general acting as toastmaster for the occasion.

FLAMES KILL FIFTEEN IN NEW YORK TENEMENT

Fifteen persons, mostly children, lost their lives early Sunday morning in a fire in New York City, believed by officials of that city to be the work of a pyromaniac. The flames swept with murderous suddenness from cellar to attic of a five-story brick tenement at Lexington Ave. and 110th street in the thickly populated East Side.

The blaze apparently started in a baby carriage under the stairs in the lower hall under almost identical circumstances as the recent incendiary fire in an Upper West Side apartment house which resulted in seven deaths. So quickly did the flames spread through the building that a number of the dead were found in bed, being suffocated without the slightest opportunity to escape.

THE VENETIAN TRIO

It is a true saying that "the successful man is he who laughs often, lives well and leaves the world better than he found it."

The Venetian Trio is a charming aid to this very desirable state of well-being. The entertainment of this trio of artists has been well received in various parts of the country. They inspire their audiences to laugh with them, and not at them and "A man's heart doeth good like a medicine."

Vocal and instrumental music in which various string instruments are introduced and comprise the body of the program, with character impersonations and humorous readings introduced in happy interpolations.

This Company will be the second number on the course that is being presented locally by the Piedmont Lyceum Committee, and will appear in Chesterfield on Monday, Nov. 6th.

Aviator Saves His Life By Use Of Parachute

Leaping from his monoplane in a parachute when the plane began to wobble at a height of 2,000 feet over North Dayton, Ohio, the other day, Lieutenant Harold R. Harris, chief of the flying section of McCook Field, escaped death, while his plane crashed to earth.

The plane, landing in the rear yard of a home in that part of the city, was reduced to a mass of twisted wreckage. Lieut. Harris came to earth several blocks away in a grape arbor.

He was traveling at high speed in the pursuit model when it got beyond his control. He apparently realized that a fall was certain before he took to the parachute.

This is the first time that an air pilot has actually saved himself by the use of a parachute.

Airplanes May Circle Globe.

Tentative plans for an attempted flight of army airplanes around the world have been under consideration for some time by air officials, it was announced recently at Washington, but the project has not as yet passed the preliminary stage. Valuable data on available routes in both directions have been obtained, however, and ultimately it is hoped to send a considerable aerial squadron on the voyage. The project will not be laid before Secretary Weeks for approval, it was said, until it takes much more definite form.

Two of the routes considered are that from the Atlantic coast via Iceland and Ireland and that from the Pacific via Alaska, the Aleutian Islands, Siberia and home via Ireland and Iceland. Air service officials said the route offering the most favorable conditions as to prevailing winds would be selected should the flight be ordered, and it would then become necessary to obtain permission of each of the countries to be traversed before the squadron could start.

NOTICE OF OPENING OF TOWN TAX BOOKS

Notice is hereby given that the tax books of Chesterfield will be opened October 15th, 1922 for the payment of 1922 taxes. Said books will be closed November 30th, 1922, and on Dec. 1, 1922 a penalty of 10 per cent will be added to all unpaid taxes on that date. Regular levy is fifteen mills, waterworks levy twenty mills. Total thirty five mills.

J. Andy Teal, Town Treasurer. By order of Town Council.

NOTICE

The next teachers' examination will be held Friday, Nov. 3d, and Saturday, Nov. 4th, at the Chesterfield High School Building, beginning at 9 o'clock A. M., and closing at 4 o'clock P. M., each day.

STEVENSON AGAINST COMPROMISE PLAN

Cheraw, Oct. 24.—Congressman Stevenson is in town for a day or two from campaigning in the Eighth and Tenth North Carolina districts, where the Republicans are making a fight to elect congressmen. He stated that the proposed trade whereby Democrats would vote for the ship subsidy in return for the Muscle Shoals plant to Henry Ford did not appeal to him. He said that his Democracy was not for sale, and any Democrat who entered such an unholy alliance should be retired. The Ford offer, he said, will ultimately be accepted without a compromise or surrender of principle. The agriculture of the country demands it and will put it over. The ship subsidy on the other hand he said, is pernicious in every respect and can not be passed. It loads $75,000,000, annually on the people for the operation of ships, and it is estimated that $30,000,000, of this will go to the United States Steel corporation and the Standard Oil Co. for carrying their own products in their own ships, as they do not carry a pound of freight except their own. He said that it is merely another millionaire raid on the United States treasury.

Piedmont Fair A Success

The Piedmont Fair, held at Greenwood last week, closed on Friday, after three successful days, according to The Greenwood Index. As the weather and agricultural conditions in general had been unfavorable to success, the Fair was held under unusual difficulties, but with gratifying success.

Army Officers Die in Accident

Adj. Gen. J. Van Holt Nash, one of the best known military men in Georgia, and Lieut. H. M. Butler, of Atlanta, were killed early Friday night, when an automobile in which they were riding, turned turtle four and one half miles from Griffin, Ga.

South Carolina Peach Growers Have Get-Together Meeting

The directors of the South Carolina Peach Growers' Association met at the Jefferson Hotel in Columbia Tuesday and adopted a constitution and bylaws, and appointed a committee to secure a charter and incorporate the organization.

The association plans to market its product co-operatively, though it was said it was likely that a year would elapse before this phase of the work of the association would become active, as most of the orchards in the State are young. There are 300,000 trees in the State, it was

POULTRY MEN HOLD BIG ANNUAL MEET IN COLUMBIA

What is described as an unusually interesting event of Fair Week in Columbia was the annual banquet and meeting of the South Carolina Poultry Breeders' Association, held Tuesday night at the Jefferson Hotel, at which time Mr. Ben E. Adams, of Charleston, was unanimously re-elected president of the association.

The banquet was served to more than twice as many members and their guests as last year's meeting and was a success from the beginning to the end.

President Adams acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers of the occasion, the first of whom was Governor-elect Thomas G. McLeod, who made a forceful speech, sounding a note of optimism and enthusiasm throughout. He said that this State had a great many advantages and that a number of by-products were being wasted. He stressed the fact that the gathering was composed of men and women from every walk in life, all taking an interest in poultry work, and said that if this State ever wished to attain any degree of prosperity it would be by its people taking an interest in other than their one walk in life. "We are wonderfully blest with soil and climate, but our greatest assets are not fruitful lands but a type of American citizenship with all the best traditions of the country."

He said that co-operation was the key to success in every enterprise, which factor had been lacking here before. "You raise chickens," Mr. McLeod said, "and yet you bring into this State chickens from other States." He urged the development of the home market.

CO-OPERATIVE CONTRACT SOUND, SAYS COURT

Columbia, Oct. 21.—Sweeping victories for co-operative marketing were won in the courts of North Carolina, Texas and Oklahoma during the past week, according to statements issued yesterday by the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association. In Texas and Oklahoma the cotton contracts, which are practically identical with the contract signed by members of the South Carolina Association, were upheld by the courts and permanent injunctions granted restraining members of those associations from disposing of their cotton except through the Association. Temporary injunctions had been secured against six members in Texas and against several in Oklahoma some time back.

In North Carolina a desperate effort was made by enemies of the Tri-State Tobacco Association to have dissolved an injunction, which had been issued against two members of the Association. Several of the ablest lawyers in the State were employed in the effort to have the contract declared unconstitutional, but the court in its decision made the injunction permanent, declaring the contract sound.

The Raleigh News and Observer in expressing gratification editorially at the outcome of the case in North Carolina, said: "If co-operative marketing succeeds the day of glutting the market and depressing the price has gone. If it fails, what then? In that case the farmers must revert to the old position where they get whatever is offered them. They will have no voice in that. One year they will get twenty cents a pound for their cotton, and the next year six, and usually they will be the victims of wild fluctuations."

COUNTY FAIR PROMISES TO BE BIG SUCCESS

The Chesterfield County Fair will be held this year on November 14, 15, 16 and 17.

This Fair has shown steady improvement since its inception ten years ago and this year is to be no exception. In several respects it is fully expected this Fair will be the best ever.

The Premium List is now in the hands of the printer and will likely be finished by the end of this week. This list will show many new prizes offered, notable among which are prizes in the poultry and live stock departments.

The poultry show will be one of the best if not the very best in the State this year.

All departments have been well taken care of and unusually fine exhibits are expected.

Plenty of amusements will be provided by the Matthew J. Riley Carnival Co.

On the first day of the Fair, Tuesday, Nov. 14th, all white school children will be admitted free.

On the last day, Friday, Nov. 17th, colored school children will be admitted free.

Let everybody plan to lay aside dull care in the week of the County Fair. Come to town, meet your old friends, study the exhibits with a view to learn new and better ways of doing your work and have a good time.

WHITE OAK CLUB MEETS

Miss Mary C. Haynie met with the ladies' club at the home of Mrs. G. N. Clanton on Thursday evening, October 19th. There was a large number of members present and there were several new members added to the club.

Miss Haynie gave a demonstration in canning pimientos.

The club did not decide where it will meet next month.

HARRISON CROFFORD GETS SIXTY DAYS ON CHAIN GANG

Harrison Crofford, colored, was tried before Magistrate Teal last Monday on a charge of simple assault and disorderly conduct. He was found guilty on both counts and sentenced to serve thirty days on the public works in each case.

H. W. Pusser & Sons TO MR. AND MRS. BUYER:

We presume that you, in view of the tight times as regards to money matters, want your hard-earned money to go as far as it can.

Well right here is where the good old house of H. W. Pusser & Sons is equipped to serve you well indeed.

To those who have patronized us thru all the past we want to say we are only too grateful, and shall continue at all hazards to deal with you in such a way as to merit your continued confidence and valuable patronage.

And to all at large wherever you be we say you should give us a look thru, and we assure you that your time will be very profitably spent.

Our merchandise with the prices we are putting on them moves so fast we can hardly name a staple article and have it here when you call. You see we do not purchase to hold or speculate but to serve our patrons as best we can.

We are firm believers in the old adage that "he who serves best serves most." From day to day we have gingham as low as ten cents and up to the best, and all at live and let live prices.

To arrive soon, sheeting as low as ten cents and up to the best.

We say again we are indeed proud of the patronage you good people have for these many years given us, for indeed it makes our hearts swell with gratitude and we feel if we did not merit it you good people would not extend it to us.

Everything we sell must be right within itself and the prices must be correct.

Remember the more we serve you the better we can serve.

Just think of what CHESTERFIELD was eighteen years ago, and now think who is most responsible for this growth.

Yes we have worked hard to serve you and we have no apologies to make. We will serve you better if possible.

Our force now consists of Lonnie Dorman, T. R. Edins, David Fincher, outside of our own force and all these salesmen will be proud to have you give them a call and they too guarantee you a square deal in every deal. Yours to please in every detail.

P. S. With the short cotton crops goods are going higher and you will not in a long, long, time have a better time to buy than right now.
