JEWISH LITERARY SOCIETY

The Literary Committee of the Jewish Literary Society beg to announce the following program for the meeting of Aug. 29, 1909, which will consist of readings as given here with below:

A desertation on Roast Pig by Chas. Lamb—Miss Celia Cohen.

A Fable in Slang by Geo. Ade—Miss Julia Blum.

The Chariot Race from Ben Hur—Mr. C. M. Kapner.

An Original Poem by J. L. Aronson.

A Poem by Peretz—Harry Freeman.

Extract from T. B. Macauley's "Civil Disabilities of the Jews"—Henry Greenfield.

The literary programs of the Society during the warm months will be somewhat light, as we do not expect the members to put in a great amount of time, preparing compositions, these warm days, but if the committee can consummate the arrangements which they have under way, the Society may expect some literary treats this season.

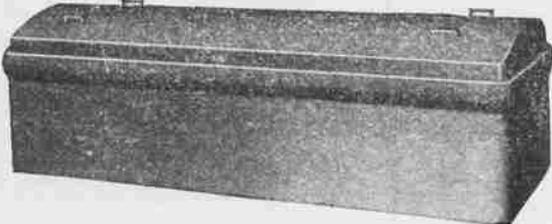

A PLAIN STATEMENT.

On the back page of cover of this issue appears an ad of Dr. Paul Cook. I am personally acquainted with Dr. Cook and knew him for seven years in St. Louis where he was a practicing physician and held in high esteem by a host of friends. I believe that all statements made by him are conscientious and will be fulfilled.
