Miss Jeanette Littman entertained the Talmud Torah society last Sunday evening.

GALVESTON.

The Forceheimer-Miller nuptials, which will be solemnized Thursday evening at eight o'clock at Harmony Club, will be a social event of interest to a large number, as the guest list is a numerous one. The bridal attendants will be Miss Rosetta Miller, maid of honor; Mr. Sam Miller, best man, and Messrs. Ben. B. Schram, Morris Meyer, Jack M. Levy and Mortimer Isaacs, ushers. Among the out-of-town guests who will be here are the groom's mother, Mrs. T. R. Forceheimer of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the following relatives of the bride: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benjamin of St. Louis, Mr. Ben. B. Schram, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Schram and Miss Adeline Schram all of Houston. * * * Mr. H. M. Nussbaum of Houston is spending the week in our city. * Mr. A. S. Katz of Waco paid our city a visit the past week. * * * Mr. N. J. Levine of Houston spent Sunday in our city. * * Mrs. Sol Levy returned home after spending the past three months in New Orleans. * * * The Year Book of the Temple Society Congregation B'nai Israel, has been distributed among the members. The meetings are held every alternate Tuesday from November until the middle of April. This year there will be no special entertainment evenings as heretofore, but instead music will form part of each evening's program. The first meeting of the year was held Tuesday night with the following program: Music—Messrs. Trevin and Jesse Ullman. A Brief History of the Jews Until the Fall of the First Temple, Dr. Henry Cohen; Reading, Mrs. Henry Aronsfeld; Vocal, Mrs. A. Kauffman; The Babylonian Exile and Return, Mr. Chas. Frenkel; Current Events, Mr. Raoul Dreyfus. Non-members are cordially welcomed at all meetings. The year book gives the program to be followed at each meeting. Each number is delightful, and while the work is arranged to be of specific Jewish interests, it is a study program which attracts all lovers of history, and a glance at the page tells that students and scholars alike will find these evenings highly profitable.

FORT WORTH.

At a directors' meeting of the Hebrew school, on Sunday, Oct. 31st, it was passed that, owing to the increase in the number of pupils and advancement of the classes, one more teacher should be added to the faculty. Negotiations are under way with a gentleman from New York. * * * A very enthusiastic joint meeting of the Ahavath Zion and Sons and Daughters of Zion took place at the Synagogue. The latter organization has engaged quarters for the winter season, at which meetings, both intellectual and social, will be held every second week. * * * It was reported that Fort Worth has the lead of all Texas cities in selling the "Texas Palestine Land Co." shares. The Sons and Daughters of Zion have purchased one hundred of these shares, the Ahavath Zion fifty, while one hundred others were sold to individuals, of which the first installment of $250.00 (20 per cent) has already been collected. * * * The Sons and Daughters of Zion also held their semi-annual election of officers. Harry Katz was elected president; Rosa Ratner, vice president; Phillip Zeitlin, secretary; and Fannie Ginzburg, treasurer. The members of the Ahavath Zion are getting ready for the Zionist convention at San Antonio. The nomination of delegates was held at the close of the meeting, the Sons and Daughters of Zion served ice cream and cake to their members and also to those of the Ahavath Zion. * * * Mr. and Mrs. H. Abramovitz brought their son into the covenant of Abraham and all representative Jews were present. As usual, as collections are made for various charitable institutions, $15.25 was collected in this case. We wish them the best of fortune at the birth of their eighth child. * * * On Nov. 11th the Ahavath Shalom Con-
