Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the change of life I suffered with headache, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called on me and she said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the insane hospital." — Mrs. E. Sheldon, 6657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

A Colorado Case. Mrs. A. E. McKenzie, 1425 1/2th St., Denver, Colo., says: "If it weren't for Doan's Kidney Pills, I don't believe I would be alive today. I was in agony with kidney complaint and doctor's medicine didn't help me. My abdomen bloated and I had almost given up hope of getting well. Doan's Kidney Pills did me of all the suffering and I have used them since with fine results."

Showered Her Taste. Approval of the amusing comments on academic costumes that so often reveal popular ignorance of the symbolism of hoods and gowns is the following story, told by a contemporary: "A friend of mine," says the narrator, "is a curate in a local suburban parish. Some little time back he went up to Oxford to take his master of arts degree, and the following Sunday appeared in the pulpit resplendent in his new master of arts hood. A few nights later he was dining in the house of a prominent parishioner, and was amazed to hear his hostess pleasantly remark: "Mr. X, that new hood of yours doesn't suit you at all. I can't imagine why you, with your complexion, those red of all colors in the world. A myrtle green or an old gold would have suited you much better, and would have been far more effective. You men never know how to dress yourselves."

"Before I answer your question, Mr. Jones," replied the interlocutor, "I'd like to ask you one. How do you know that the railroad company always selects single men for conductors and brakemen?"

"Because no married man would ever dare to slam a door the way those fellows do."

Dickens' Poor Taste in Dress. When Charles Dickens was to make his first appearance in America as a reader an immense crowd awaited him at a public hall in Boston. The enthusiasm of the people had risen to fever heat. One of his most ardent admirers afterward told this little incident of the evening:

"With a few gentlemen, who wished to welcome him and to show him attention, I was in the little room back of the platform when Dickens entered it. He was a rather stout man, with a somewhat red face, and I saw, to my surprise, that he was dressed in an exaggerated servility to the extreme of fashion. More than this, he wore a boutonniere in each buttonhole, and two watches, the chains of which were strung aggressively across his chest. There was a gaudy bad taste in his appearance which his friends regretted, knowing how distasteful it would be to his admirers, who appreciated his genius and enjoyed his writings."

Preposterous Notion. "A man with your responsibilities ought not to spend an afternoon at the baseball park without making some arrangements so you can be communicated with when there is an important deal on foot."

"And perhaps he interrupted just when one of our players knocks a three-bagger and ties the game?" replied the ardent fan. "I wouldn't think of taking a chance like that."

According to Precedent. "Now, this is the sort of musical comedy I enjoy."

"Yes?"

"So far there hasn't been a single reference to 'dear old Broadway.'"

"Umph! Just you wait. The comedian is supposed to be capering now on an island in the South sea, but he'll get back to Broadway before the show is over somehow or other."

Her Reply. "We started housekeeping on fifteen dollars a week."

"If you were to try that now, ma, you and pa would starve to death before your honeymoon was over."

The barge is 42 feet wide, 240 feet long and is propelled by four 80-horsepower gasoline engines. It has a capacity of 1,600 tons. It is believed the new type of barge will revolutionize freight traffic on the Mississippi river, in Alabama, hauling coal to the seaboard at an extremely low rate.

Nothing to Lose. "I suppose you are planning to go to Europe, like everybody else, after the war is over?"

"Well, no. I haven't made any such announcement to my friends."
