Mr. James E. Ferrell, of Burnt House W. Va., has discarded all other diarrhoea medicines and now handles only Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He has used it in his family and sold it to his customers for years, and has no hesitation in saying that it is the best remedy for colic and diarrhoea, he has ever known. It not only gives relief, but effects a permanent cure. It is also pleasant and safe to take, making it an ideal remedy for bowel complaints. For sale by the Bisbee Drug Store.

sale of Wolfram at Co.

Saturday last there occurred in Willcox a transaction which may lead to the development of an important industry in this county. Messrs. C. U. Cornelison, B. F. Halderman and Chas. W. Halderman sold to F. E. Canda of New York their interest in the wolframite claims at Russellville, receiving therefor the sum of $5,500 in gold coin. The deal was negotiated by Mr. Wm. Niven an expert on rare ores, who in the early eighties prospected in the Galliros in search of precious metals and later was assistant commissioner for Arizona at the New Orleans Exposition. The purchaser is connected with one of the leading steel companies companies of the United States. Messrs. Smith Bros. and Otto Moore also had an offer for their claims but hope to obtain a better figure.

The history of these deposits read like a romance. More than four years ago Mr. B. F. Halderman sent a sample of wolframite to a New York copper company and was informed that it was of no value.

In April, 1890, O. T. Smith, timberman in the Copper Queen mine at Bisbee, was conversing with Mr. Cornelison, a miner, working for the same company, when the latter remarked: "If I could find a good wolfram mine I would quit working for wages." Mr. Smith asked what the metal was like and on hearing the description said: "I know where there is a large vein of the ore."

In a few days they were at Russellville, but Smith had forgotten the exact location of the ledge. They called in the evening at the house of Chas. W. Halderman and in the course of the conversation Mr. Smith, taking from his pocket a piece of ore which Cornelison had brought from New Mexico, observed: "Do you know where I got that, Charley?" "Yes," was the prompt reply, "on the ridge behind the house." And it was found, when Messrs. Smith and Cornelison repaired thither the following morning.

The two young men share in the discovery, the one because of his knowledge and his inquiring disposition; the other because his close observation had fixed in his mind the appearance and approximate locality of the ore whose identity and value were unknown to him.

Wolframite ore is worth from $100 to $300 per ton. The rock must assay not less than forty per cent. Mr. Niven who is well versed in such matters and who a few years ago discovered in West Texas a new metal now known as Nivenite, suggests that persons finding strange ores or other peculiar minerals should send samples to a recognized authority on minerals and not to an assayer or a reduction company. He names Professor Blake of the university as the nearest reliable authority on such matters.

Business men who have been in the habit of using government stamped envelopes will note the fact that as soon as the present contract runs out they can get their envelopes printed at the home office only, as the government will no longer compete with printers in printing the return cards. Also, by a recent ruling, your letter will be held thirty days unless you have it printed on the envelope the time you wish it held. It would be a good thing if the government would also require that cheap stamp printing be not allowed. Then the cheap business man, who expects the printer's trade, would be obliged to give him in return a little trade instead of patronizing some one a thousand miles away who never enters their place of business.—Jerome News.

A ride over the ranges in these days impresses one with the truth that there has been a change suggests the Sun of Flagstaff. Where formerly thousands of cattle ranged, are now to be seen very few, so fat and idel that they wander about over the richest pasturage to spend their energy. The conclusion is also forced upon one that such wealth producing resources as the open ranges of Arizona cannot long remain idle, but must soon be liberally restocked.

The public school will open Monday, and it is hoped that all parents will make an effort to have their children enrolled the first day, and that they will co-operate with the teachers in securing prompt and regular attendance during the entire school year. The teaching force has been increased and the schools are better prepared to broaden and extend the work of the high school than ever before.

Since the above was put into type we learn that the schools will not open until Tuesday as Monday is a labor day, and is generally observed through the territory.

At the Copper King mines in the Draoons, near South Pass, the company are diligently at work securing sufficient water for their smelter, with encouraging prospects. When everything is in readiness the mine will begin producing bullion, as large quantities of ore has been run into the chutes and platform ready to be reduced into bars.—Prospector.

It is reported that John W. Dorrington has resigned as superintendent of the penitentiary and that Hon. Herbert Brown, editor of the Tucson Citizen, will be appointed to fill the vacancy. If Mr. Brown is appointed it will be a wise selection, as he is capable, conscientious and above reproach.

to whom any concern. I have been in the drug business for twelve years, and during that time, have sold nearly all the con. medicines manufactured; and from my personal knowledge of such remedies, I say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other on the market.—W. M. Terry, Elkton, Ky. Sold by the Bisbee drug store. S

You can tell the successful farmer by looking at his wife's fruit cans in the in the closet. You can tell a dry goods box salesman by the patches on his pants. You can tell the poison serpent by the bluntness of his tail. You can tell the slouchy woman by the shoe buttons and hat. But the easiest of all you can pick out the enterprising merchant of the town by looking at the home newspapers. This is not divine revelation but it is business, gospel truth.

Wall Paper. From 3 cents a roll up. Artistic designs at Barnaby's.

You can now trade your old furniture for new at B. F. Graham's.

For Sale.—One frame house, six rooms; one adobe house, two rooms; both completely furnished. Situated near the residence of Fred Fitch. For prices and further particulars apply to S. K. Williams. ti

J. W. Baggett, of Oak Grove, Fla., had an attack of the measles, nearly three years ago, and the disease left him with very severe pains in the chest. "I thought I would die," he writes; "but to my great joy, I was saved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm." Pains in the chest nearly always indicate the approach of pneumonia, and by promptly applying this liniment on a flannel cloth, which should be bound on the chest, an attack of pneumonia may be prevented. It is always prompt and effectual. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by the Bisbee Drug Store. S

From Thursday's Daily. Ben Williams returned yesterday from a short visit to the Nacosari properties. J. B. Jones, the Tucson marble cutter arrived this morning, and is on the lookout for business. Dee Thomas, eldest son of ex-Mayor Charles N. Thomas, of Tombstone, is a Bisbee visitor. Jack Stillman has resumed his position in the company store, after several weeks' skylarking in California. Mrs. H. C. Stillman is again at her post as matron of the hospital, after a much needed vacation of several weeks at the seaside. Wm. Brow came in today from the American custom house, and reports everything quiet along the line, plenty of rain and feed in abundance. Over thirteen inches of rain has fallen in Bisbee since the rainy season began. The outlook for more is excellent. Frank Moreno has accepted the position of time keeper at the C. Q. smelter. He also attends to the weighing of the copper bullion. Allen R. English arrived this morning, and is attending to legal business in Judge Williams court today. Master Steele Woods returned yesterday from Tombstone where he has been for several weeks past on a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Wm. Lutley. Miss M. Harris, sister of Wm. Harris, the well known miser, arrived a few days since from Wales and will make her home in future in Bisbee. Date Graham, accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law, Miss Jurado, left this morning for a jaunt to the Huachuca.

The hay men are getting their mowing machines, hay rakes, wagons, etc., together preparatory to harvesting their usual crop of native hay. The crop this year promises to be considerably larger than last year. Jas. Howell, the well known San Bernardino cattleman, has gone east on a short trip. His new house at the ranch has been completed and it is reported that Jas. will not return alone, but will bring a partner to share the joys of life with him, and incidentally to keep his linen in repair. The Good Templars who attended the convention held at Bisbee a few days ago, returned Tuesday morning. They report having been treated royally by the people of that city. They seemed to be impressed with the fact that everybody in Bisbee worked, and that they all had money.—Gazette.

Let your motto be, says the Nebraska City News, "lie, steal, drink and swear." When you lie let it be down to pleasant dreams. When you steal, let it be away from immoral associates. When you drink, let it be nothing but pure cold water. When you swear, swear that you will patronize your home paper, pay your subscription and not send your job work away from home.

Southern Arizona is at present enjoying some of the finest weather in the United States, and this, too, almost in the middle of the hot summer months. For the last two weeks it has been cloudy, with occasional showers, which, besides doing immense good to the growing crops and ranges, has had a tendency to cool the atmosphere and bring about this pleasant state of things.

The Nacore railroad people are indeed in a hurry. A few days since five bridges were washed away on the Sonora; these were partially rebuilt when several hundred yards of track was washed out. Trains were run to the washout and transfers made. On Wednesday night the engine on the Benson end of the washout tipped over and went into the ditch. As there is no wrecking train on this side of Nogales the whole line is tied up. The express matter for Tombstone is brought up on the Bisbee train, but the mail is kept at Benson as there is no mail clerk to open the pouches; and distribute the mail. There are quite a number of passengers held at Benson on account of the washout. It is thought it will be several days yet before the track can be repaired and the wreck cleared up.

In the mixed crowd on Saturday night which had gathered to view the wreck caused the collision on the G. T. R., many no doubt noticed a passenger dressed in the uniform of the United States army. The writer had a pleasant chat with the stranger whose name was Lieut. Wilcox. He was one of Roosevelt's famous Rough Riders and took command of the company after their captain had been wounded in the first engagement, near Santiago. He landed at Montauk Point several days ago and was on his way to join his wife and family at Sand Beach, Michigan, where the have been since the transportation of the troops to Cuba. Their home is in Arizona. Lieut. Wilcox has put in a considerable amount of active service and endured many hardships during the past three months.—Ingersoll Chronicle.

Something must be the matter with Tucson's climate, judging from the following item which appeared in the Citizen last evening: "A wagon loaded with baled hay, standing in front of the G. A. R. hall, took fright this morning and turning down Convent street started down that thoroughfare at a gallop as you please gate, scattering bales permissively and colliding with the garbage wagon, badly wrecking it and injuring the horses."

SECRETARY ALGER has passed through the letter writing stage and is now engaged in making public threats of prosecution of newspaper editors who have had the temerity to publish the facts about him. We hope his thread is nearly spun, and that it will soon be severed.

Do not, in the coming election, allow some politician who has an axe to grind through your credulity, lead you astray. Think for yourself. The ballot is your salvation, and if you use the great prerogative of the American citizen for the good of all, you protect yourself and preserve our institutions.

Sam Pollock, the young forger, was given his preliminary examination before Judge Williams today. He was bound over to appear before the grand jury.

From Friday's Daily. Walter Veil, the well known Pima county cattleman, was an incoming passenger on the train this morning. J. V. Vickers, president of the Chiricahua Cattle company, was a passenger on the incoming train this morning. B. A. Packard returned this morning from his eastern trip looking hale and hearty as ever. C. W. Hiche, clerk in the auditor's office of the A. & S. E., will shortly leave for a vacation in Southern California. The Copper Queen company shipped today a large invoice of mining supplies to Nacosari. C. C. Warner and Richard Hans will represent Bisbee on the Grand Jury at the coming session of the district court. Prof. J. McCrea, who is to have charge of the public schools here this year, was an arrival on the train this morning. Mrs. L. W. Howland daughter Louise, returned today from a two months' visit to California. John Cornell and wife returned today from San Diego where they have been for several months past. Last Tuesday night lightning struck the residence of J. H. Walker at Benson doing some damage to the house, and although a number of persons were present, no one was injured. E. W. Land and wife were incoming passengers on the train today, having spent several days at the Land ranch near Benson since their return from California. Miss Flora Cohn, daughter of our townsman, Adolph Cohn, arrived on the train this morning. Miss Cohn is to have charge of one of the rooms in our schools this year. She is a recent graduate of the normal school at Tempe. C. W. Feaderson went down to Benson last evening to meet his family who arrived from Albuquerque. They will make their future home in Bisbee and are located in the Oberst house near the opera house. J. A. Irwin, the genial proprietor of the Free Coinage saloon, returned this morning from his visit to his old home in Texas. He reports having had a first-class time, though the weather was somewhat warm. He thoroughly enjoyed his stop-over at Galveston, where he took a plunge in the surf and left the dregs of his feet in the salt sea sands.

The ORS is always willing to correct any error or misstatements that may occur in its columns. A few days since we were informed that the attention of a certain young gentleman who, it was said, had made slight remarks in regard to eating at the same table with miners. The young man has entered a protest and emphatically denies the truth of the assertion, and naturally feels that an injustice has been done him. We have investigated the matter and are frank to acknowledge that our information was not reliable; hence this apology.

W. C. Kelso, an old time printer, who formerly worked on the Pick and Drill at Prescott, has established a new paper at Florence called the Enterprise. It is printed in English and Spanish and is independent in politics.

F. C. Fenner left yesterday for the Mule Mining company's properties on the west side of the mountains. He took with him a wagon load of mining machinery which he will put up in order to facilitate matters. This property is rapidly coming to the front and ere long will be one of the most promising in the district.

A fine example of what can be raised in Arizona soil, is a corn field at the San Bernardino ranch, owned by J. H. Slaughter. A few days since several of the stocks were measured and found to be a little over fourteen feet high, it being eight feet from the ground to the first ear of corn. The ears are full of fine, rich-flavored corn.

Brent Tarbell, son of C. B. Tarbell, of Tombstone, left last night on his way to Kansas City, where he will take a four years' course in a medical college. During the past year Brent has been acting in the capacity of steward at the county hospital. He has many friends in Bisbee who wish him the best of success in his studies.
