TERRITORIAL.

A party of ten is being formed in Phoenix to go to the Alaska gold fields, each person being required to put up $500.

From reading the Territorial exchanges it seems that nearly every city, town and hamlet in Arizona is sending delegations to the Klondyke gold fields.

Ed S. Gill has been appointed clerk of the Supreme court and C. H. Holmes court reporter, both of Phoenix. J. H. Carpenter was appointed court commissioner at Yuma.

Jim Smith, Walter Logan and a few other young gentlemen left yesterday for a trip to the Grand Canyon. They expect to be gone about six weeks.—Phoenix Gazette.

The shaft for the rescue of the imprisoned miner at Goldfield was sunk 125 feet in ten days and four hours. The dimension of the shaft was three and a half by six feet.—Journal Miner.

Col. Head of Yavapai is a candidate for Territorial Treasurer. Boss Head will find a vigorous and deserving opponent in Councilman Asplund of Navajo county, one of the best men in Arizona.—Gazette.

The Japs who were discharged by the canal company are still in Phoenix—about sixty of them. They have secured the services of a good lawyer and will sue the company for the balance of wages due on their contract and for transportation back to California.

An experienced Alaskan miner gives this bit of sensible advice to those contemplating a rush into the gold fields of that region. "Now, a word to all these people who are getting ready to rush off to Alaska just now. The man who starts from here on the 1st of March, 1898, will be as far advanced on the 1st of April, 1898, as far as the Klondyke diggings are concerned, as the man who starts to-day. And the man who starts next March will live here for $30 a month in comfort during the winter, while the man who starts for Alaska now will pay $5 a day for poor grub, have no chance to earn a cent, suffer from cold and storms and next April be ready to work for the man who waited until next March to start."

For years Winslow, although a division headquarters, had a disgracefully inadequate station and Harvey House facilities. A building is now going up, however fine enough to compensate for it all. It will be 172 feet long by 30 in width, with an "L" 32x73, a basement under the latter. The stone for foundation walls was quarried on the company's property at Putnam, twenty-eight miles east, while that used above ground, dressed stone, will come from Flagstaff. Winslow brick of a cream tinge will form the super-structure, cost $30,000 in number being required. The intermingling of these bricks, with trimmings of Flagstaff stone will give to the building a pretty effect.—Los Angeles Times.

Major John Reese, who returned yesterday from Mohave county, reports having given a year's bond and lease on the Burro mine, owned by him, Paul Pierce and others. The party who has bonded the property is J. T. Douglas, of Chicago, who represents eastern capital, and who will be remembered as having been here recently to examine the Bullard property. The negotiations were carried to a successful issue by John Owens brother of H. A. Owens. The mine is located on Burro creek, about six miles across the Yavapai county line, in Mohave county. Although not extensively developed, the ledge is quite large, and carries both gold and silver, the latter predominating in value. It is rich enough, though, in either metal to pay all expenses and leave a small margin of profit without figuring the value of the other. The capitalists who have taken hold of it propose to put a large force at work developing the mine, and will also erect a plant of from 100 to 200 tons daily capacity for treating the ore, the water required being secured from Burro creek, where there is an ample supply, not only for milling purposes, but for power as well. While the properties are located in Mohave county, the nearest railroad point is Hillside station, on the S. F. & P. railroad, from which the distance is forty-five miles. Major Reese says the mining outlook in Mohave county was never so bright as it is at present, and that Kingman is a very lively town. "Mining interests are so prosperous over there," he added, "that he did not see a single miner afflicted with the Klondyke fever," a disease just now very prevalent all over the United States. He says the forty-stamp mill at White Hills is almost completed, and will be started up soon.—Journal-Miner.

Even the Walls Carry Gold.

Now and then some disgruntled being for some reason or another starts the report that the King of Arizona is playing out—that instead of the ledge widening, it is growing narrower as depth is reached, says the Yuma Sun. It is well known that there are always some who are ready and anxious to peddle defamatory reports, and their tales, in the case of the King of Arizona, have hardly ever gotten further than their own tongues.

Late developments show that no matter what may be said, the King of Arizona is the greatest find that was ever made in the Territory, the greatest in the entire West.

The ledge has been cross-cut at a depth of twenty feet, and the hanging and foot walls are just eighteen feet apart. For 3000 feet the ledge may be plainly seen on the surface. According to the numerous assays which have been made, and according to the opinion of Superintendent Frank Guerra, one of the most conservative of mining men, the entire ledge will go, at the lowest reasonable estimate, $150 per ton. Many places it much higher. A streak from eighteen to twenty-two inches in width goes away up into the hundreds, much of it reaching the fabulous figures which the rock was, when first discovered, reported to carry—$2000 per ton.

Speaking of those first reports, which many regarded as unreasonable and highly colored, causing the newspapers of localities where such wonderfully rich mines are unknown to publish editorials enlarging upon the great damage which may be done a community by overdrawing the reports of the new discoveries made therein, it might be well to remark that as regards the King of Arizona we have as yet failed to see a single report which was overdrawn, fabulous as they have seemed, and read as they have like fairy tales.

The two mills of the company—a 5-stamp and a two-and-a-half-foot Huntington—at Mohawk, are daily crushing from sixteen to twenty tons of ore,

Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means energy, good digestion, robust health, and blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, catarrh or other disease. The way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and the elements of health and vigor in every nerve, organ and tissue. It gives a good appetite, gives strength, and cures that tired feeling.

and the gold piles up on the plates in a manner which cannot be realized in any way other than seeing it.

Culver & Young, who have the contract for hauling ore to the mill, are at present working six teams of twelve mules each, and with their continued improvement of the roads are now able to deliver in the neighborhood of twenty tons daily.

Boring for water at the mine is going steadily on. It is thought that water will be reached in 400 feet, but if it is not, the seat of operations will be changed to a canyon about half-a-mile from and across the mountain from the mine. This canyon drains all the mountains around, and it is thought that water can be found there at a depth of 100 feet. The idea of piping water from Castle Dome has been abandoned, as a careful estimate shows that a sufficient quantity could not be obtained to operate a 20-stamp mill, which the company will erect as soon as the mine has been sufficiently developed to keep a mill of that size pounding.

It has been decided to make a road through the pass in the mountain range between the Castle Dome mines and the King of Arizona, which will make a direct highway from Yuma and shorten the distance a great deal.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for consumption, coughs and colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head.
