SUNDAY MORNING IN BED.
When the tiresome week is over,
Worn limbs then ask for ease;
No grim task is then before you,
No one but yourself to please.
How delicious, then the feeling
That dawns through the drowsy head,
Of a rest unbroken, unsummed,
Sunday morning in the bed.
And such fancies throng around you,
Half asleep and half awake,
Dim defined, yet all so pleasant—
Fancies like the dawn, opaque,
Waking dreams of love and fortune,
Brighter far than can be said,
Give a foretaste of elysium,
Sunday morning in the bed.
And the early sounds contrasting,
Add still more to the repose;
Praise who will the morning risers,
Sweet 'r stills the morning dower!
Labor, bustle, care all banished,
And the only sound you dread
Is the breakfast bell's rough clamor,
Ringing from the Sunday's bed.
Poets sing of early morning,
Heathful, active, fresh and fair,
Riches reaped, industry's harvest,
In the morning's early air—
Well, in week's days let's admit it;
Think how soon one's life is sped,
Let poor mortals' joy be undimmed,
Sunday mornings in the bed.

Wit and Humor.

Josh Billings says "One of the funniest scenes I ever saw was two old maids waiting on one sick widower."
— In a dime novel recently published, the hero is made to climb one hundred and fifty feet up a tree. "How is that for high?"
—"I will preach from that portion of the scriptures this evening," said a colored sermons, "I will preach from the 10th chapter of the book of Job, 'The Jews have a proverb, that he who brings not his son up to some employment makes him a thief. The Turks say, 'An idle man is the devil's playfellow.'"
— A Texas negro on being arrested for polygamy, said: "Why, hi! hasn't got four or five hundred yet, and he law openly 'lows de colored man fifteen!"
— Missouri has a pupil in the primary department of a public school 107 years old. He is a colored youth, and claims because the other children won't play tag with him.
— A Southern negro, when they get a new pair of pants, are in the most intense agony until the garment is ripped up the leg so they can hear it 'clap' when they walk.
— A girl at Olympia Washington Territory, threw some blasting powder in the fire place supposing it to be coal. They had to send eight men miles for lumber for the coffin, it was so scarce there.
— A Cincinnati judge has decided that a blow from a husband to a wife is sufficient ground for a divorce. How fast when the wife does the blowing? There is a friend of ours wants us to find out for him,—he thinks he's got a case.
—"Come Bob, how much have you cleared by your speculation?" said a friend to his companion.
—"Cleared!" answered Bob with a frown, "why, I cleared my pockets!"
— A negro parson in the West preaching concluded the love of money, concluded his sermon by saying: "And finally brethren, you can judge what God thinks of money by the class of people he gives it to."
—"All over town," "Jane," said a wag "it's all over town."
—"What's all over town?"
—"Miss Jane's eyes dropped—and so did her waterfall!"
— At Sydney, Ohio, a young woman went into a shop and asked for "fine intestines for lyrical purposes." He said he was out of them, but had some mighty good cat-gut fiddle strings. She faltered, and had to be carried out on a revenue stamp. Such is life.
— A Newark man is getting very suspicious because with but several times, lately asked him why he didn't apply for work at the nitro-glycerine factory which has exploded twice lately? He wants a divorce.
— Love is like a hunter, who cares not for the game when once caught, which he may have pursued with the most intense and breathless eagerness; love is stronger in pursuit, friendship in possession.
— A jilted swain spitefully says: "Eve did not know as much as her daughters of the present day. Had they been in her place, instead of being deceived, they would have deceived the devil."
— Don't be too anxious to solve a conundrum. We know a man who got two black eyes in endeavoring to find out the difference between a man and a woman fighting in the street.
— A darkey gives the following reason why the colored race is superior to the white race:
—"All men are made of clay, and like the meerschaum pipe, are more valuable when highly colored."
— A celebrated preacher, in a sermon on the duty of wives, said: "I see in this world a great many women who have been guilty of disobedience to her husband, and in order to point her out I will ring my Bible at her head." He lifted the book, and every wife's head was instantly ducked.
— At Fort Wayne, Indiana, when women begin to run around the street bareheaded, people know that "spring has come, gentle Annie." Talking about feet, an Indiana woman that can't show a foot thirteen inches long is hoisted out of society.
— The Texas magistrate who postponed a case for two weeks, in order to find out whether the state was in or out of the Union, was one of your crank kind. In the meantime the citizens hung the horse thief that was going to be tried, because they hadn't any jail.
— A slight misunderstanding, at a temperance meeting a number of ladies who desired to throw their influence on the right side, came up to sign a pledge when a son of Erin exclaimed: "Be gorra! who would think so many fine looking Yankee women rank!"
— A young married couple in Wisconsin were lately having a keeping and the first purchase of the head of the family at the village grocery were: "cents' worth of soda, five cents' worth of salt, two cents' worth of pepper, one cent's worth of chewing gum, twelve cent's worth of soap. The couple amounted to twenty-five cents, which was paid by the young Benedict; and as he left the store he remarked to the clerk that "keeping his wife is cheaper than boarding."
