DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Real Sport.

The ticket speculator entered the private office of the great manufacturer. "Now, sir," said the former, "let me sell you a season ticket to the baseball grounds."

The great manufacturer shook his head sadly.

"No," he sighed, "I'm only the boss. You'll have to see the office boy."

Six Doctors Failed.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 24 (Special) --After suffering from Kidney Disease for three years; after taking treatment from six different doctors without getting relief, Mr. J. O. Laudeman of this place found not only relief but a speedy and complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills. Speaking of his cure Mr. Laudeman says:

"Yes, I suffered from Kidney Trouble for three years and tried six doctors to no good. Then I took just two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they not only cured my kidneys, but gave me better health in general. Of course I recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to others and I know a number now who are using them with good results."

Mr. Laudeman's case is not an exception. Thousands give similar experiences. For there never yet was a case of Kidney Trouble from Backache to Bright's Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills could not cure. They are the only remedy that ever cured Bright's Disease.

An Understanding.

She--You must remember that ours was a summer engagement.

He--That means, if you see any one you like better, you'll break it?

"Yes."

"And if I see any one I like better--"

"I'll sue you for breach of promise."

Weighing Out Change.

From far-away Ohio comes news of the death of one of the original pioneers of the Transvaal gold fields when these were what may be called rediscovered in the early '80s. Every man who visited Moore's in 1884 will remember the quaint dispenser of tinned provisions, sugar and whisky, in his Bucksall establishment, consisting of canvas and pole framework. When you got anything from him over his rickety counter you did not get ordinary change for your sovereign. Dust currency was in fashion.

If you would not accept gold dust for your change you had to wait till silver was flush. If you accepted the dust, "Yankee Moore" would take a thing like a small screw of tobacco out of his waistcoat pocket and hand it over to a man standing at a little pair of scales. The precious packet would be opened, the amount of dust wanted to make up the change weighed scrutinizingly off, the screw would be twisted up again and placed in Moore's waistcoat pocket, while the customer walked off. Moore dealt in the gold at £3 10s an ounce and got $3 12s 6d for it at Martizburg. And now Moses Moore is dead.

Moore had a very adventurous career, being born as far back as Aug. 3, 1822. He had been on most of the gold fields of the world and landed at Capt Town in 1882 without a dollar. He managed to scrape a few dollars together, and started a refreshment stand, doing all his own cooking and serving. When he had accumulated £50 he went to the Transvaal, which he left in 1889 with a fair competence. --South Africa.

Legends of Ossetinians.

In the highest parts of the Caucasus Mountains, around the Kasbek region, there is a tribe, very tall and handsome, which speaks its own peculiar dialect of the Georgian language, and has its own peculiar customs, differing in many ways from those of the Tscherkesses, Armenians, Circassians and other tribes that dwell in the same country. It is the tribe of the Ossetinians.

Like the rest of the Caucasus tribes, they have recognized Russia's authority. But they adhere to the claim that they are not descended from Asiatic races, like other tribes, but that their ancestors were German knights who had gone to the crusades, and who, after the disastrous end of the last crusade, had been driven into the wild valleys of the Caucasus, whence it was impossible for them to win their way out and homeward, owing to the vigilance of the Moslem foe. So at last they settled down and took wives among the Caucasus Mountain women, who have always been noted for their beauty. --Kansas City Journal.

Future Mandarins Wanted.

Three of Sir Chentung's daughters are living, and the eldest, Miss Wun Mei, has come to this country with her father and two small brothers. There is a little family joke connected with the young woman's name, which doesn't detract, however, from the statement that girls are welcome in intelligent Chinese households.

Still, to have future mandarins about the house, there must be boys.

The first child in Sir Chentung's household was a little girl. That was as it should be. But the second was a girl, too.

Just for luck they named the second baby Wun Mei, which means "Change." That is, Wun means change and Mei means the lintel. That was a hint that the third baby should be a boy. But the stork flying about Kwang-Tung Province didn't take the hint. The third and fourth children were girls, too.

"So the laugh was on us," said the jolly Sir Chentung as he finished the story of his daughter's name. He can spring a purely Yankee joke with Oriental gravity, and never misses an opportunity to do so. --Charles A. Selden, in Pearson's Magazine.

The peninsula of India, which in area is half the size of the United States, has a population of 300,000,000, of whom 200,000,000 are farmers.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. JONES, Parker City, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

A Long Step Forward.

Mr. Binks--In spite of all Miss Fine-mind's talk about advanced woman and higher education, she is just as fond of a cat as any other old maid.

Mrs. Binks--Yes, but she speaks of it as "a domesticated carnivorous quadruped of the family Felidae and genus F. domestica."

OFFENSIVE CATARRH

I suffered for a long time with a bad case of Catarrh, and took a great deal of medicine without any benefit.

I had a continual headache, my cheeks had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath had a sickening and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly.

I heard of your S. S. S. and wrote you. I commenced to use it, and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease. MISS MARY L. STORM, Cor. 7th & Felix Sts., St. Joseph, Mo.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 29, 1903.

I had Nasal Catarrh for years for which I used S. S. S. with very gratifying results. I tried local applications for some time, and getting no permanent relief I came to the conclusion that the seat of the trouble was in the blood. Knowing S. S. S. to be a good blood medicine I began its use, and after using it for some little while it did away entirely with the offensive mucus in the nostrils, and I did not have to hawk and spit, especially in the morning, to dislodge the catarrhal matter.

The filthy secretions and foul mucus that are continually dropping back into the throat, find their way into the stomach and are absorbed into the blood. Catarrh then becomes constitutional, and the only way to get rid of it is through the blood. Write us if you have Catarrh, and our physicians will advise you without charge.
