LOCAL NEWS.

The Colorado River is low. Our townsmen T. S. Bunch, Esq., is visiting Prescott.

Sheriff J. L. Hubbell is expected home in a few days.

There will be a warbling match tonight at the school house.

Alfred Banta formerly a resident of this city is in El Paso, Texas.

I will sell, for the next thirty days, dry goods at actual cost. H. F. BANTA.

Frank Lewis has received a large supply of fresh fruit direct from Los Angeles.

Romulo Martinez, of Santa Fe, has been appointed United States Marshal of New Mexico.

Robert E. Morrison, of Mount Morrison, came into town on Tuesday from his ranch in the Esquidilla mountains.

Mr. Henry Smith, President of the Apache County Stock Growers Association, paid the Herald a visit on Tuesday.

The Prescott Journal kicks because John W. Young, son of the Mormon prophet Brigham, owes them a balance due on his subscription.

Bishop Milner in his Mormon vindicator, the Orion Era, keeps constantly harping about his truthful statements. This is the sheerest kind of bunkum, as his statements stand about as much show of being taken for the truth as he has of being translated for virtue.

Brother Milner says the Herald has a reputation that he does not envy. We would state for this rattle-brained nincompoop information that the Herald has a reputation for truth and veracity, which is something that will never be gained by the Orion Era or any of its conferrers.

In our last issue we stated that Edmund Ellsworth, of Show Low, would spend the winter months in Yuma. We now understand that this saint has made other arrangements, and will only remain there during the months of June and July, after which time he will again join the hosts of his polygamist brethren.

Mr. Serafin Apodaca, County Assessor, and his deputy, Harry Silver, returned from the southern part of the county on Monday, and will leave in a few days to assess the central portion of the county. These gentlemen are making a very thorough assessment, and the taxable property on their rolls will exceed that of any previous year.

We do not believe that any man would, of his own free will, submit to incarceration in the Territorial penitentiary for sixty days, or even sixty hours, rather than pay a fine of three hundred dollars, as did Edmund Ellsworth; he evidently acted under instructions from the church, the vampires at the head of that institution most seriously object to any money being used for any purpose other than that of swelling their own individual coffers. They have for years impoverished the masses to provide means for their own comfort and the maintenance of their harems.

Voluntar Number 1, of the Wallapai Tribune, published at Kingman, by Anson H. Smith, formerly publisher of the Mohave County Miner, has been received at this office. It is a five column paper, and if the first issue is a sample of what we may expect in the future, the Tribune will undoubtedly be a permanent fixture. It is neat, newsy and full of life and far above the average in typographical appearance. Long may she wave.

J. F. Wallace was in the city this week.

Ye Editor is still on the line of the railroad.

Mr John Swinburne came in from the round-up on Tuesday.

Thomas Brady is again in the city after an absence of two months.

Cattle are reported as being in extraordinary fine condition this year.

J. W. Atchison, of Springerville, passed through town on Friday bound for Holbrook.

All parties indebted to H. F. Banta are requested to call and settle without further notice.

Supervisor Tee was in town this first of the week, as was, also, his colleague W. B. Leonard, Esq.

Two of the Tewksbury Brothers, of Tonto Basin, are in the city in attendance as witnesses before the County Court.

Tombstone has two members of the sporting fraternity who rejoice in the names of Picnic Dave and Beefsteak Mike.

The mails between Springerville and Navajo are being carried according to the new schedule to the satisfaction of every one.

According to the Tomstone, Capt. Overton of the Sixth Cavalry showed the white feather during the Indian campaign of April 1882.

Mr. Miller, of Springerville, passed through town on Monday en route to Prescott where he has business before the Register of the Land Office.

Jose Cordova, who was arrested a few days ago on the charge of cattle stealing, had a preliminary examination before Judge Rudd on Tuesday and was discharged.

The western bound trains on the A. & P. R. R. are carrying very large loads of passengers. The road under the influence of reduced passenger rates is making itself wonderfully popular.

Genl. Manager Warren of the Aztec Land and Cattle Company arrived in Apache County during the early part of the week and will oversee the distribution of the Co's. cattle over their broad acres.

Mr. Alfred Ruiz, after a short sojourn at Holbrook and Albuquerque, has returned to the county seat, and can be found sitting at his mosaic topped escritoire in the County Recorder's office.

J. H. Breed, Apache county's "dealer in all kind of truck" was in town on Saturday. Mr. Breed left on Sunday for his "shanty" at Winslow, where he has "more goods than would patch a sheol a mile."

Justices of the Peace in the several precincts of Apache County who are desirous of obtaining a copy of the laws passed by the last Legislature, can procure a copy of them by application to the County Recorder.

Governor Tritle came into Holbrook on Monday last from Prescott, where he met his wife and daughter, who had been visiting their eastern relatives and friends. The united family left the same day for Prescott.

The Arizona Canal connecting the upper Salt river with Cave Creek, which has been in course of construction for the past two years is completed. The canal is twenty-two miles in length and will afford cultivation to 100,000 acres of heretofore sterile lands, and provide homes for several thousand people.

Lieut. Ga'evood and Lieutenant Parker came in Holbrook on Sunday last from the scene of the late Indian out rages. From these officers we learn that the Indians were closely pursued and every trail and signal observable followed as rapidly as movements were possible; but the wary redskins were not out to fight and easily managed to escape from their pursuers.

C. L. Gutterson, District Attorney of Apache county, arrived last evening to attend the present terms of the District Court. Mr. Gutterson reports that Apache county is experiencing a big boom, and that it is rapidly filling up with emigrants of a very desirable class seeking investments in grazing and farming lands. The recent vigorous prosecutions of the Mormon polygamists, Mr. Gutterson states, has had a most salutary effect in elevating the moral tone of the followers of the Sainted Brigham located in that portion of the territory.—Prescott Miner.

The Commission, of Hon. F. A. Tritle Governor of the Territory of Arizona, under date of May 14th, as a member of the Board of Wagon Road Commissioners of Apache County was issued to Pedro Montana, of Holbrook, to fill the place made vacant by the death of Morris Barth. Mr. Montana has forwarded the required bond in the sum of $8000. The appointment of Frank Hubbell of St. Johns, as a member of the same board (in place of E. S. Stover, who was disqualified from the fact of his membership of the 13th Legislative Assembly) with Eben Stanley makes the board complete; and we shall therefore expect that active work will at once be commenced on the roads and bridges of the county.

R. Carr, Blasingame spent several days in town this week in attendance at the County Court.

The Albuquerque papers are continually boasting of the superior journalistic talent displayed by the papers of that quiet hamlet, and recently declared "that one Albuquerque paper contained more choice reading matter than all of Arizona's papers combined." The truth of the unlimited amount of talent (?) possessed by said journalists was made painfully apparent upon reading an editorial, evidently inspired, in which the following brilliant sentence illumined the page: "E. G. Ross has got there: we told you he'd get there, Eli!" Poor brother journalists, somebody has diagnosed you all wrong, it is not talent that afflicts you you are suffering from a dislocation of the gall, and enlargement of the spleen. We would advise you to place yourselves under treatment immediately.

COMMUNICATED.

We have often while sitting in our domicile admired our beautiful angelic form. But never did we so much admire ourself as we do on such occasions as the Fourth of July when we are called on to deliver the oration, and our sweetheart is setting back amidst the throng that is always gathered to hear the eloquence of the great mogul of the far west, when it has been publicly announced that he is going to deliver the oration at such a place as Shoe String Flat. Now it is no easy matter to make a speech on the Fourth of July, for on such occasions as that people expect to hear something about our nation; of course every man who can deliver an oration expects to be called on to do so, but that is where they get left; but with us it is always a sure thing—consequently we have our subject selected for about thirty-five Fourth of Julys ahead. Perhaps our brother orator would be more successful if he would select his subject out and post himself on it—I do not mean to nail himself up to a post, but to acquaint himself with what he is going to talk about—and if he is inclined to be dull in selecting his subject, I will suggest for his benefit that he mention George Washington as the father of his country, and branch off from that. I have often thought how restless the founder of our American freedom is in his grave when he knows that every one in all this glorious Union who is able to buy a two and a half dollar ring is hashing his name up along with that of Ingersoll and Thomas Pane. Now Pane was a great man and so is the pain in the back of our head after we have partaken freely of the snake bite remedy, and I do not see why Washington should groan every time his name is mentioned in connection with that of Pane, nor do we know that he does, yet something must cause those earthquakes. I have often laid awake at nights and thought what is the cause of such convulsions of the earth, and I could never come to any other possible conclusion why the earth trembled on or about the Fourth of July, and then sometimes later in the year we hear of an earthquake happening somewhere on this ecumenical, and are inviting scientific investigation. I find that it is because Washington is getting tired of having his name brought forth from the tomb and hurled through infinite space with that of the British lion every Fourth of July. Long about the year 1850, when the California gold excitement was at the acme, and the people had a Fourth of July speech about every day, and some hero who had fought under Washington would take his departure for worlds unknown, and no doubt but what he would call on Washington as he would so journey, and tell him how he had just fought a hard battle for him and how he fell in the conflict. Then Washington would turn over and cause one of the greatest earthquakes that was ever known to take place in the last hundred thousand years. No doubt but what he was proud to meet one of his old veterans, and he would cause this earthquake to take place in the hopes that some more of his old pals would come along and tell him how he died for him. But I think G. W. is getting pretty tired of such things nowadays, so I will take this opportunity to inform the gentle public that they must not expect to hear anything about the great hero, the founder of America's freedom, at the coming Fourth of July in 1920. But I will talk on what Mr. Fisk aptly calls "deaththromporphization," if you know what that is.

THE FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT Winslow will unquestionably be a grand affair. Pyrotechnics at night, horse races and base ball by day, and the thousand and one efforts to be put forth by the citizens generally and the multitude of railroad employes, will ensure a grand old fourth. Let us begin to prepare in St. Johns for a proper celebration by the usual festivities.
