A GENERAL ROUND-UP OF STOCK AND OTHER NEWS.

Shipments of Cattle for the Week—Runaway Horses—Bronco stock shipped—Broke the Steer-Trying Record—Other News.

The Gila Monster.
(Heterodermis Spumellana.)

In view of the accident which happened a few days ago to Walter L. Vail, through the bite of a Gila Monster, the Citizen publishes an extract of a paper written by John A. Spring, and published in the April number of Chamber's Journal (London and Edinburgh), relative to the venomous nature of this mysterious lizard.

"The long debated question as to whether the venomous nature of the Gila Monster, which the scientists have named Heterodermis horridum, was brought up at a late meeting of the College of Physicians at Philadelphia, and Mitchell and Reichart had on hand live, vigorous specimens of the lizard. Dr. Mitchell caused one of the lizard to eat a dish, and some of the saliva was caught in a watch-glass. This specimen was placed in a solution of poisonous reptiles is acid, but this was alkaline. A minute quantity was then injected into a live pigeon which died in less than nine minutes. Other experiments were made, which demonstrated the dangerous character of the poison. According to these learned doctors, a rattlesnake's poison is a mere hagelate in comparison."

A few years ago the following well authenticated fact occurred in the Huachuca mountains. A woodcutter who had laid down in complete health, fell, wrapped up in his blanket, to sleep in the morning when his co-laborers called him. Upon uncovering him they found him stone-dead, and the cause of his death was a snake, which in the excitement of the moment, made good his escape. As the body of the man bore no marks of a bite or other wounds, we must suppose that his death was caused by the mere exhalation of the lizard.

Near Magdalena, Sonora, a man was hunting rabbits with a dog. The latter inserted his snout into a hole, but immediately retreated, uttering fearful howls, while he was trying to shake off a Gila Monster, which had fastened its teeth into the dog's nose. The man was unable to help, and without interruption, could not be made to let go his hold till it was killed, and even then its jaws had to be forced apart with iron bars, when the dog's body began to act strangely, and showed something like the same symptoms as a horse does when suffering from "blind staggers," but soon began turning itself inside out in a circle, and in about twenty minutes fell down dead. The same actions before death were observed in a mule, into which this animal was bitten in a hind leg, and lived for several days.

Profit in Chickens.

One of the most neglected, and also one of the most paying industries in Arizona, is the raising of poultry, and the raising of chickens especially is a valuable adjunct to every farmer. It costs almost nothing to keep a flock of two or three dozen hens on the farm, and the sale of eggs alone will pay more than the cost of keeping them. The young chicks thrive and grow under almost any conditions in this country, and chickens at the age of three months will sell at from 40 to 50 cents each.

In calculating the gain from a flock of 48 birds, one of our suburban residents said that after paying all expenses for feed and allowing wages to himself for taking care of them, he cleared $48 per month, or $1 on each bird kept, and was confident that notwithstanding the evident made greater if he had devoted more time to looking after the wants of the flock. This gain was from the sale of eggs alone, as he took no pains in raising chicks, and he was confident that there is more profit in this branch of industry at present prices than there is in the sale of eggs.

The flock referred to above are all healthy birds of the Plymouth variety and are the pride of their fortunate possessor. He began the raising of chickens simply as an experiment and was quite surprised and pleased at the result. His plan and his success have been reported to the city of Phoenix, and he is now planning to give up the business quite extensively next year.

We wish this enterprising gentleman the success he deserves.—Phoenix Gazette.

Tomlinson's Appointment.

A petition was yesterday presented to Governor Walker for the appointment of Tomlinson as a member of the Board of Equalization of Arizona, a mayor and two councilmen for the city of Tombstone. The petition recites that N. F. Tomlinson, a resident of Tombstone, is a citizen of the United States, and is qualified to hold the office of member of the Board of Equalization of Arizona, and is a resident of the city of Tombstone.

The petition was presented to the Governor by the Mayor of Tombstone, and the Governor has appointed Tomlinson as a member of the Board of Equalization of Arizona.

There were two shipments of cattle from here this week, amounting to 860 head. One shipment—220 head—was made by L. Bryson to Cordoba, Kansas. The larger portion of them were purchased from L. Bauer, of Tombstone, Charles Lindeman, of the Whitewater, and Rockefeller and Servus and E. G. Gunn also having some in the lot. The other shipment—647 head—was made by L. H. Jones, McPherson, Kansas. These latter were purchased from the Chiricahua Cattle Company, and consisted of a steer range in Graham county. They were a splendid lot of steers, and averaged 1047 pounds in weight—a high average for this time of year. The total amount of $23,000 was paid for these steers, which would be $22.25 per head. This is the best sale we have heard of this year.

A four-horse team from the Sierra Bonita ranch ran away Wednesday. The team was at the depot, and became frightened at a passing train while the driver was out of the wagon. When they started to run, the driver, Serafino Estrada, a Mexican, climbed into the wagon and attempted to stop the team. He was not successful, though, and was thrown from the wagon, from which Norton's corral, receiving a number of painful bruises. Dr. Porter states that one of his knees is severely injured, and it may prove quite serious. The team was finally stopped, little injury being done to them or the wagon. In their flight down Railroad avenue they ran over and broke down three trees in front of Judge Nichols' office.

The steers from the Graham county range of the Chiricahua Cattle Company shipped from here this week gave more trouble than any other lot we have heard of in some years. It took over twenty-three hours to load them, and some of them had to be dragged on the cars. One steer gave a horse a bad scare, because so vicious that he had to be shot. Eleven balls were fired into the animal without killing it. The cowboys with the cattle were a sorry-looking and feeling set of men, when the carrying was completed, as they had been three days and nights without sleep.

The Stockman has received a letter from the "San Simon Round-Up Association," stating that Pim Pevler has broken the steer-trying record. On May 10th, while the San Simon round-up was in progress and a prize money of $100 was offered for the best steer in a circle, and in about twenty minutes fell down dead. The same actions before death were observed in a mule, into which this animal was bitten in a hind leg, and lived for several days.

In their flight down Railroad avenue they ran over and broke down three trees in front of Judge Nichols' office.

The steers from the Graham county range of the Chiricahua Cattle Company shipped from here this week gave more trouble than any other lot we have heard of in some years. It took over twenty-three hours to load them, and some of them had to be dragged on the cars. One steer gave a horse a bad scare, because so vicious that he had to be shot. Eleven balls were fired into the animal without killing it. The cowboys with the cattle were a sorry-looking and feeling set of men, when the carrying was completed, as they had been three days and nights without sleep.

The Stockman has received a letter from the "San Simon Round-Up Association," stating that Pim Pevler has broken the steer-trying record. On May 10th, while the San Simon round-up was in progress and a prize money of $100 was offered for the best steer in a circle, and in about twenty minutes fell down dead. The same actions before death were observed in a mule, into which this animal was bitten in a hind leg, and lived for several days.

Profit in Chickens.

One of the most neglected, and also one of the most paying industries in Arizona, is the raising of poultry, and the raising of chickens especially is a valuable adjunct to every farmer. It costs almost nothing to keep a flock of two or three dozen hens on the farm, and the sale of eggs alone will pay more than the cost of keeping them. The young chicks thrive and grow under almost any conditions in this country, and chickens at the age of three months will sell at from 40 to 50 cents each.

In calculating the gain from a flock of 48 birds, one of our suburban residents said that after paying all expenses for feed and allowing wages to himself for taking care of them, he cleared $48 per month, or $1 on each bird kept, and was confident that notwithstanding the evident made greater if he had devoted more time to looking after the wants of the flock. This gain was from the sale of eggs alone, as he took no pains in raising chicks, and he was confident that there is more profit in this branch of industry at present prices than there is in the sale of eggs.

The flock referred to above are all healthy birds of the Plymouth variety and are the pride of their fortunate possessor. He began the raising of chickens simply as an experiment and was quite surprised and pleased at the result. His plan and his success have been reported to the city of Phoenix, and he is now planning to give up the business quite extensively next year.

We wish this enterprising gentleman the success he deserves.—Phoenix Gazette.

There were two shipments of cattle from here this week, amounting to 860 head. One shipment—220 head—was made by L. Bryson to Cordoba, Kansas. The larger portion of them were purchased from L. Bauer, of Tombstone, Charles Lindeman, of the Whitewater, and Rockefeller and Servus and E. G. Gunn also having some in the lot. The other shipment—647 head—was made by L. H. Jones, McPherson, Kansas. These latter were purchased from the Chiricahua Cattle Company, and consisted of a steer range in Graham county. They were a splendid lot of steers, and averaged 1047 pounds in weight—a high average for this time of year. The total amount of $23,000 was paid for these steers, which would be $22.25 per head. This is the best sale we have heard of this year.

A four-horse team from the Sierra Bonita ranch ran away Wednesday. The team was at the depot, and became frightened at a passing train while the driver was out of the wagon. When they started to run, the driver, Serafino Estrada, a Mexican, climbed into the wagon and attempted to stop the team. He was not successful, though, and was thrown from the wagon, from which Norton's corral, receiving a number of painful bruises. Dr. Porter states that one of his knees is severely injured, and it may prove quite serious. The team was finally stopped, little injury being done to them or the wagon. In their flight down Railroad avenue they ran over and broke down three trees in front of Judge Nichols' office.
