

BUCKLEY'S INFERNO.

Riotous Meeting of the Election Commissioners. Sire here's Curious Tactics—The Roughs Support Him—Smiley's Firm Stand—Disgraceful Incidents.

Auditor Strother made a graceful coup d'etat at the meeting of the Election Commissioners yesterday afternoon, and in the estimation of decent citizens sat himself down in the midst of some glory, but has brought down on his own head the anathema of the Democratic "heeler."

At the previous meetings of the commission the Republican element had been "heeled" of rushing up and getting their names placed on the supplemental assessment roll so that they might be qualified to act on the Treasurer's Registration Board. Mr. Strother maintained that the precedent for that sort of work had been established before he went into the Auditor's office, its history never being questioned, and he thought had never occurred to him that it was not all right.

"Now the question is," he asked, "what right had these persons to be assessed, having slept on their rights from the first Monday in March, 1890, until the fourth Monday in June, when the board of supervisors finished their labors on the assessment book of personal property."

"I don't know," he answered the Auditor. "I have no right to say. You're in the majority; maintain the law. You're in the majority; maintain the law. You're in the majority; maintain the law."

HOME RUN.

Native Sons Remove to Their New Headquarters. The Question of President of the Day Comes Up—The Excursion May Land at Mare Island—Finance Report.

Visitors at the former headquarters of the Native Sons were considerably astonished to find that the Reception Committee, of which I have observed in a former issue, had vacated the Grand Hotel for the new headquarters. That was not the intention at first, and was only done as a matter of necessity that the committees be together.

The move was made early yesterday morning, headed by Colonel Doonan, each bearing a plaster of paris figure. Hardly had they entered when Chairman Heeger of the Finance Committee received a note from the London, Paris and American Bank, accompanied by a letter assuring them of their cordial good wishes.

Chairman Chamberlain, who has six exits and one entrance. The object of this is to have as few visitors as possible and to make the most of the room.

The type-writers and reporters have the adjoining room—No. 26—where tables and stationery have been provided. The Finance Committee comes here for reception room No. 25, and for business No. 30.

F. W. Covey of the Hotel and Accommodation Committee installed himself in room 25. He asks the public who have rooms to rent to communicate with him as he is in the room.

Collector Clark will start to-day among the sailors' boarding-places to collect for funds, which has been provided with a list of names by Supervisor Bingham.

R. P. Wieland, a member of the Finance Committee, reported yesterday being paid the Baldwin Hotel subscribed $500 yesterday.

The rumor that the parade was not to be a general one, which has gained some credence, has been emphatically denied at the Native Sons headquarters.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

Board of Supervisors Again in Working Harness. Action Upon the Mayor's Veto—Protest Against the Extension of Post Street Overland.

The Board of Supervisors met last night, Supervisor Boyd presiding. Mayor Pond also was absent.

The petition of property-owners for the extension of Post street, and the improvement of Alca Plaza, and the protest of Thomas Knight against the proposed change of grade at the junction of Leavenworth street and Green street, were referred to the Library Committee.

Communications were read from the Board of Health, one asking for two additional market inspectors, and the other from the City Attorney, who is instructed to prepare a by-law to condemn a lot fronting on the street.

The imperfect water supply at the small hospital was reported upon by the Board of Health, with a request that the hospital be protected from the danger of fire.

The Judiciary Committee reported recommendations for the appointment of D. J. Tooley and A. J. Clunie as special commissioners in the United States court in support of the Bingham or Clunie case.

The motion of Supervisor Bush to pass resolutions for the improvement of the streets, notwithstanding the Mayor's veto, was lost, Wieland alone voting in the affirmative.

Two votes of Mayor Pond were read and passed to print. One was of the resolution to amend the charter of the city, and the other was of the resolution to amend the charter of the city.

The annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Board of Commerce will be held on September 17th, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

McALLISTER CHECKED.

Judge Hoffman Vetoes the Discharge of the Chinese. Since Commissioner McAllister's return from his recent visit to the United States, the accumulation of Chinese habes corpus cases with some of his old time vigor, and also with some of his old time results.

Thirty-six of the coolies were discharged, free to wander where they will over the land, and the cases of the other ten were referred to the division of Police.

The Board of Police Commissioners held their regular weekly meeting last evening. There was a full board present, and the only business which came before it was the charge of Officer John A. Dolan, who was charged with the murder of a man.

Special Attorney Sebel deserves some of the credit for the bold efforts of the lawyers who have passed under the scrutiny of Judge Hoffman's eye, it can easily be understood why the reference in Chinatown has been changed to "Lick House."

Joseph Enright, the San Jose manufacturer, is at the Grand. W. H. Spencer of San Luis Obispo is taking the Grand for a week.

A. V. La Motte, a prominent viticulturist of Glen Ellen, is at the Grand. H. B. Shackleford, the Red Bluff civil engineer, is making the Grand his home while in the city.

R. D. Stephens of Sacramento is consulting his stomach for his defeat at San Jose by the late Mayor.

Stephen M. White of Los Angeles and John H. Gower, two of the members of the Democratic Convention, are still sojourning at the Palace.

Charles H. Allen of the State Normal School is stopping at the Lick House while on his way to the State Normal School.
