Disastrous Fire in the Palace of the Alhambra.

Incendiarism Attributed as the Cause of the Conflagration.

Eight Persons Slightly Injured—Germany's Attitude Regarding the Slave Traffic Defined.

Special Dispatches to THE MORNING CALL.

MADRID, Sept. 16.—A fire broke out at 10 o'clock last night in the palace of the Alhambra in Granada. It originated in Alhambra courtyard and soon spread to the galleries. Great damage has been done.

Later advices from Granada are to the effect that the fire in the Alhambra Palace was extinguished at an early hour this morning. The magnificent Sala de los Reinos and the right wing of the Arraras Court were destroyed. The remainder of the palace was not damaged. Eight persons were slightly injured. Incendiarism is supposed to be the cause of the fire.

The Alhambra is the ancient fortress and residence of the Moorish sultans, and lies on the hill overlooking the City of Granada, on the north. The name, signifying in Arabic "The Red," is derived from the color of the "tapa," or bricks made of fine gravel and clay, which the outer walls are built. This famous Moorish palace was erected in various stages, between the years 1248 and 1363, under the reign of the last Moorish sultan, Ismail. It is a masterpiece of Moorish architecture, and is one of the most beautiful and interesting monuments of the Moorish period in Spain. It was destroyed by the Christians in 1492, and the ruins were left to decay until the late reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, when it was restored to its present appearance. The palace is a masterpiece of Moorish architecture, and is one of the most beautiful and interesting monuments of the Moorish period in Spain.

COURT OF THE LIONS IN THE ALHAMBRA.

Among the other wonders of the Alhambra are the Sala de los Leones, or Court of the Lions, and the Sala de los Reinos, or Hall of the Kings. The Court of the Lions is a beautiful garden, and is one of the most interesting features of the palace. It is a masterpiece of Moorish architecture, and is one of the most beautiful and interesting monuments of the Moorish period in Spain. The Sala de los Reinos is a large hall, and is one of the most important rooms in the palace. It is a masterpiece of Moorish architecture, and is one of the most beautiful and interesting monuments of the Moorish period in Spain.

Battle of Light-Weights at New Orleans.

Andy Bowen Laid Out by Jimmy Carroll in Twenty-one Rounds.

The Fight Characterized by Terrible Punches Throughout—Both Men Show Great Gameness.

Special Dispatches to THE MORNING CALL.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—The long-expected fight between the light-weights, Andy Bowen of New Orleans, who recently bested Billy Myers, and Jimmy Carroll of San Francisco, who was defeated by Jack McAuliffe in forty-seven-round fight some time ago, came off to-night, and Bowen was knocked out in the twenty-first round.

About 8000 people witnessed the battle, which was a good one. Bowen weighed 130½, and Carroll 127½ pounds. The purse was $3000, of which $500 went to the loser.

In the first two rounds, there was no material advantage on either side, Bowen having the best of it after the first.

In the third, fourth and fifth Carroll was on top, landing several severe blows on Bowen's face and body, although he was pretty well wadded himself from punches in the stomach and on the nose.

In the sixth both men were tired, but Bowen succeeded in knocking Carroll down with a right-hand swing, nearly repeating it a moment later with a right-hander on the jaw.

From this on to the fifteenth round honors were about even, some hard blows being received by both men, each of them seeming pretty weary.

In the fifteenth Carroll knocked Bowen down with a terrible right-hander. Bowen got up, but Carroll was too weak to finish him.

In the sixteenth both received severe punishment, and in the seventeenth Carroll gave Bowen a stinging punch in the stomach, and also drew blood from Bowen's nose.

Bowen clinched and they fell, Carroll on top. The referee counted round four, but Bowen got up on the eye, cutting it, and receiving in the meantime a severe blow on the head.

In the nineteenth Bowen was very weak and Carroll, getting his second wind, gave Bowen a stinging punch in the stomach.

In the twentieth Bowen tried hard to steady himself, and managed to avoid a vicious punch in the stomach, which landed right and left, and Bowen fell exhausted. He arose again, but fell immediately, and then was counted out.

He was terribly punished, but made no complaint during the fight. He was very gamely, and was loudly applauded.

Following are the records of the men: Jimmy Carroll was born in Lambeth, England, on March 23, 1870. He is 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 127½ pounds, and is a right-hander.

Andy Bowen was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, on July 15, 1871. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 130½ pounds, and is a right-hander.

A General Belief That the President Will Reconvene Congress.

Carlisle Gives His Views on the Financial Crisis—Military Reservation for San Diego.

Special Dispatches to THE MORNING CALL.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The proposition to have an extra session of Congress called for November does not meet with much favor among the rank and file of the members of Congress, who are weary with the ten months' session. It is generally believed that the President will reconvene Congress.

Carlisle gives his views on the financial crisis, and says that he is in favor of a military reservation for San Diego.

RECIPROCAL TRADE.

A Measure Beneficial to Both Field and Shop.

Secretary Blaine's Method of Extending American Interests.

The Enactment of Reciprocity a Safeguard of Protection—Its Defeat an Opportunity of Free Trade.

Special Dispatches to THE MORNING CALL.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—In response to an invitation to the annual banquet of the Boot and Shoe Club of Boston, Colonel Clapp, editor of the Journal, has received a letter from Mr. Blaine, in which the Secretary of State, referring to the portion of the invitation saying members of the club are in hearty sympathy with his views regarding the best methods of extending American trade, regrets that engagements will not permit him to address the meeting of members of the club.

He says it can do great good by countering a certain phase of New England opinion which regards reciprocity as a threat to New England interests. New England is to receive in the new tariff the amplest protection for every manufacturing interest within her borders, and it will be in the judgment of the Secretary of State, both in respect to the protection of her interests and in respect to the promotion of American trade, that she will receive a letter recently received from Mr. Blaine, President of the late convention of Millers at Minneapolis, referring to the excessive duties on American flour in Cuba, and stating that Americans will be unable to retain their share of the Cuban flour trade, unless immediate relief is secured.

"In view of these facts," says Mr. Blaine, "it is possible that a protectionist Congress can even give the protection of our markets to Cuba's products, free while allowing a great Western industry to be absolutely excluded from her markets by a prohibitory tariff. With reciprocity our markets will be driven more and more from these markets."

"Giving the fullest protection to all Eastern interests, as the proposed Tariff Bill does, surely no man of good sense would certainly not protectionist of a wide forecast, wishes to expose a Western industry to serious injury, especially when it is so widely protected by the tariff. It is manifestly easy, because at this very time the Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and public opinion in Havana are demanding reciprocal trade with the United States. Certain wise men are asked, how can we see our first fruits in South America when the same things are being done in Cuba? It is a question of the same soil and the sugar countries of South and Central America, and West India, are producing millions of pounds of sugar for the construction and maintenance of reservoirs. Agreed to."

Mr. Blaine moved an amendment, which was agreed to, giving the right of way through public lands to canal or other companies for the purpose of the proposed canal, and the Secretary of State, Mr. Blaine, moved an amendment providing that the Secretary of State should be authorized to select and acquire title to not exceed 100,000 acres of land in the State of Nevada and the Territories in which there are public lands for the purpose of the proposed canal, and the Secretary of State, Mr. Blaine, moved an amendment providing that the Secretary of State should be authorized to select and
