Epecial to THE MORNING CALL

PLACERVILLE, Oct. 10.—This city is fairly ablaze with enthusiasm to-night and from every hillside bonfires are blazing a livid tongued welcome to Colonel Markham. The air is resonant with the thunder of exploding giant powder and bursting fireworks, and a thousand tongues have roared an ocean-sounding ovation to the popular favorite. In no place during his entire tour has his reception been more boisterous or more spontaneous than here. The mountaineers, who do everything with a generous hand, have made great preparations and hundreds of people from the surrounding country had flocked into town and when Colonel Markham was driven down the street on his arrival the sidewalks were thronged with an eager crowd of spectators, who cheered him wildly while he was kept busy bowing his acknowledgments.

It was a splendid ovation, and one of which the recipient had a right to feel proud. It convinced him that here as elsewhere the residents of the mining sections of the State had ignored the slanders circulated by Buckley's committee, and are, so far as the Republicans are concerned, in line to support the tall son of Pasadena, who is sweeping everything before him.

Colonel Markham left Auburn at 9 o'clock this morning by private conveyance for a drive through the mountains to Placerville, in order that he might stap at Georgetown en route. The party accompanying him rode by rail, going by way of Sacramento and arriving here at 7 o'clock this evening, while Colonel Markham had arrived an hour earlier. When he arrived in the outskirts of the town volley after volley of giant powder thundered a deep-mouthed welcome, and a brass band struck up the stirring strains of "Marching Through Georgia." The streets were lined with a cheering multitude of people of all classes, and Colonel Markham was driven to the hotel where hundreds were waiting to greet him personally, and where, until the dinner hour, he was kept busy shaking hands with those who thronged his rooms.

In the evening a torchlight procession es corted the party to the Placerville Opera House, which was packed to suffication there being fully 1500 people present, who greeted Colonel Markham with thrice repeated cheers as he entered, and which were repeated again with a will when he was introduced by C. A. Swisler, who acted as President of the evening. The latter on taking the chair announced the following as Vice-Presidents: J. W. Edmonston, W. E. Baughman, M. P. Bernett, Professor e, F. F. Barss and William Yeadon etary, M. J. Allhoff. He then introduced Colonel Markham and the audience crose and cheered lustly He then spoke briefly, and was followed by George A. Knight, the "Humboldt howler," who kept the audience in roars. The party leave to-morrow for Jackson, where a meet-ing will be held to-morrow night.

Modesto, Oct. 10.—Mayor Poud, accompanied by Hon. E. E. Leake of Solano and Hon. James H. Budd arrived on the 4 and were received by a reception committee with a band of music and a large delegation of citizens, and driven about the city. This evening an open-air meeting was called to order by J. F. Tucker, Chairman of the Depresentia County Care. Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, who introduced Judge A. Hewell as Chairman. Mayor Pond and Messrs. Leake and Budd made able speeches, which were listened to with marked attention by a large audience which crowded the street, and remained throughout the entire meeting. Large bonfires, booming of cannon and fireworks were the features Each speaker was accorded liberal applause To-morrow the distinguished party will go to Stockton via Oakdale.

M'KENNA'S RETURN. VALLEJO, Oct. 10.—Thursday afternoon the platform of the railroad station at Suisun held a large crowd of the representative citizens of this place, who had gathered to welcome Hon. Joseph McKenna on his return from the scenes of his labors and triumphs. The Suisun band was in attendance of the suisun band was i dance and discoursed appropriate music as board came to a stop. As the gentleman stepped from the car he was quickly sur-rounded by a throng of old friends and neighbors, who testified by their fervent grasp of hands and hearty words of welcome the feeling that is entertained for our Con-gressman at his own home. Mr. McKenna returned from Washington alone, his wife remaining with her daughter, who is attending school in the East.

REDDICK AT CLOVERDALE. CLOVERDALE, Oct. 10.—Hon. J. B. Redick and R. Clark of Yolo addressed one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this place last night. Every allusion of the speakers to the tariff legisla-tion of the Republicars, and particularly the Sweet-wine Bill, was loudly applauded. Reddick's reply to the Examiner's question, "Who is Reddick?" brought down the house, while Clark's scathing review of the Buckley Democracy of San Francisco and of the party's obstruction tactics in Congress was cherred to the echo. The tour of the speakers through the wine-producing districts is an ovation. This county is good for 300 m ajority for Markham and Reddick.

Cold-Blooded Assassination. Boise City (Idaho), Oct. 10 .- Word was received here this afternoon that Ross Holchins, living on Ten-mile Creek, near Hunters, about nine miles from this place, had been shot twice by a man named Jennings. The trouble grew out of a difficulty between the two men in reference to the land on which Holchins had filed a pre-emption claim, but had neglected to properly comply with the law, and Jennings had filed a homestead claim over his head and jumped the claim. Holchins was in the city a few days ago, alleging that Jennings had fired three shots at him without effect about a week since, but being considered rather simple no attention was paid to the story as reported. This afternoon Jennings sent his wife to lolchins' cabin to say that her husband wished to see him, and on his coming, as requested, shot him twice with a Win-chester rifle. No further particulars have been received, and it is not known how bedi Fereived, and it is not known how badly Holchies is wounded. On receipt of the news Sileriff Robbins at once started in pursuit of Jennings, who is said to have made his escape on horseback immediately after the shooting.

he land lawyer, who was recently tarred and feathered by a mob at Bakersfield, is able to appear on the streets. He announces that he will sue Kern County for damages in the sum of $100,000 and will also prosecute the men who assaulted him. He declines to say that he knows the men who composed the mob, and does not want to talk about the man who shot him while he was lying on his face in the jail.

Herrington has received information at an enthusiastic meeting at Delano, Kern County, last Tuesday, the farmers raised $1000 to bring the perpetrators of the outrage to justice. Herrington exhibited to-day a letter which he had just received from his wife. It was dated at Poso, Kern County, October 8th, and stated that Harpham, the man who swore to the trumped-up charge of perjury upon which Herrington was arrested in order that those scheming against him might get him to Bakersfield and into their clutch, had disappeared. The letter continues: "Lawyer Ahern of Bakersfield went to the Visalia land office. The men there say it is a base lie—you never annoyed them. On the other hand, you had lewer contests than some others and were a shrewd, safe investigator. others and were a shrewd, safe investigator. Ahern told all this last night at the meeting at Delano. A reward of $1500 has been offered for the first conviction."

Herrington is a native of Iowa, 36 years of age. He came to California in 1864, and after farming and teaching school studied law and was admitted to practice in San Benito County in 1883. From that county he came to Stockton in the year 1885, and engaged in the business of a land lawand engaged in the business of a land law-yer. Three years ago he removed from Stockton to Visalia, where he remained one year. Then he took up a claim of 120 acres of land near Poso. Two days ago he received information from Washington that the contest over this claim had been decided in his favor. He is a School Trustee at Poso, and also Superin-

streets. that was just quitting work. Both are said to have been deadly enemies for some time and only waiting for the slightest pretext to come together. This opportunity came at the time mentioned.

One was a large and the other a small man. After striking each other with their fists, each seized his shovel, which it seems had been sharpened to a knife-like edge. With these they fought almost with the dexterity of swords, each raining the blows upon the other with deadly intent. After each had been badly wounded on the shoulders, legs and head, the larger man succeeded in compelling his enemy to drop to his knees for an instant when he followed up his advantage by dealing the little one a harribly murderous slash over the head with the keen edge of his murder-

The result was a sickening wound extending almost from ear to ear, and fracturing the skull in a manner that will probably cause death.
Still not satisfied with his fiendish work the big fellow drew from his bootleg a great glittering stiletto fully six inches in length

NAPA. Oct. 10 .- Judging from the rush for hotel accommodations the attendance at the breeders' meeting, commencing to-morrow, will be very large. All the hotels are as full as they can be and no additional sleeping quarters can be had at any of them. This need not, however, deter visitors from attending the races, as a committee has arranged to furnish all who apply good rooms in private families convenient to the hotels. The trainers out at the track are unanimous in declaring that it is in the very best possible condition, and that fast time is sure to be made over it. Especial care has been taken in preparing it for Stamboul's attempt to-morrow to beat the stallion record. He is to go against his own time of 2:121/4, but this is not considered to be within a second of what he will show.

All the leading stables that took part in the cir cuit this year are at the track and in good order. With the exception of the last inning, Perrott pitched good steady ball and Carsey did likewise all through the game. Both catchers worked hard and gave their pitchers encouraging support. The infielding was sharp and clever, while what went to the outfielders was well handled. Holliday was sick and Pache played in right, doing well, and Stockwell went back to

The Oaklands were retired in short order in the first inning, Cantillion being assisted out at first on his ground hit to Fudger. Dooley was struck out, and after Sweeney lined out a double to left Dungan emulated Dooley's example by wafting, leaving the midget on second.

The Stocktons, when they came to bat, showed evidence of being recently im-pressed with the knowledge of the benefits resulting from sacrifice-hitting, and started in to put their newly acquired precepts into pra tice. Selna opened with a slow hit along third-Selna opened with a slow hit along third-base line, which he beat out before Tip O'Neill recovered from the pick-up. Pache sacrificed by dropping one just in front of the plate, and, on Lohman's slowness, reached first in safety, Selna taking third on the catcher's poor throw to Dooley. Hoffman was thrown out at first by O'Neill, but Fudger sent a hot one skimming past Cantillion to right, Selna and Pache scoring. Armstrong sacrificed, but Stockwell ended the inning by hitting to McDonald, who threw him out. Stockton added another run, which was their last, in the third. Selna hit safely to left center, and Pache was credited with a hit on his short grounder, which ited with a hit on his short grounder, which Carsey could not effectively handle. A wild pitch advanced each a base. Fudger then hit to Dooley, who fielded the ball to Lohman to catch Selna, but the backstop dropped it, and Selna tallied. These three runs were gained before the Oaklands got a man across the plate.

In the fourth a bad throw by Hoffman gave the Oaklands one. Dungan led off with a single to short. Lohman followed with a safety to center, and both moved up a bag on C. O'Neill's sacrifi e. McDonald lifted one out to left, which Hoffman captured and then threw wildly toward second to cat h Lohman, who was returning to that bag. The ball passed Fudger, and, striking a rock, bounded over Selna's snoulder out of the diamond, Dungan scoring. Tip O'Neil retired the side, Pache making a splendid catch of his long foul fly.

In the fifth, with one out, Cantillion took smashed out a pretty double to left, Cantillion crossing the plate. The only double play of the game then occurred. Armstrong, by a fine effort, caught Sweeney's high foul, and by a splendid throw to Wilson caught Dooley at third.

The seventh gave the Colonels the lead. The seventh gave the Colonels the lead.

McDonald opened with a corking single to left and after Tip had struck out reached third on Carsey's safe shot. Cantrilion's sacrifice enabled McDonald to get home tie-Dooley was hit by a pitched ball and stole second. Carsey scampered home on Sweeney's slow single to Fogarty.

In the ninth, with two out, Perrott, foolshly gave Cantillion his base on balls, and that player immediately stole second. Dooley's second two-coshion shot scored him. Then Sweeney banged out a beauty to the right-field fence for a triple. Dungan was sent to his base on balls, stole second and went to third on a short passed ball. and went to third on a short passed ball, which permitted Sweeney's tallying, and Lohman's safety to left gave Dungan his second tally. C. O'Neill also hit safely to right, on which hit Lohman attempted to score, but was nailed at the plate on Pache's the Sacramento Grounds. SACRAMENTO, Oct. 10.-The home team and San Franciscos put up the finest game of the season to-day before a very small audience, not more than 100 people being pres. ent. Inning after inning both sides were blanked, until the seventh, when the visitors scored one run. This lead the home team tied in the eighth and each made a run in the ninth. No more runs were scored until the twelfth, when a series of errors gave the visitors the game. Harper was in fine form and pitched a splendid game, allowing but two hits, one of which was a triple. He gave but four bases on balls and struck out seven men. Time and again the visitors had men on bases and nothing but Harper's fine pitching kept them from scoring.

Lookabaugh was very wild, giving eleven bases on balls, and being touched up for seven hits, including a triple. He struck triple. He struck out eight.

The outfielding of Roberts, Goodenough, McHale, Levy and Stevens was very fine, each making some marvelous catches, McHale in the first inning doubling up a runner at the plate by a great throw from deep Everett played a splendid game at shortstop, accepting eight difficult chances without an error.

The first run was scored in the seventh, when Levy reached first on balls, stole sec-ond, went to third on Ward's wild throw and scored on Speer's sacrifice.

In the eighth Reitz' triple and a sacrifice by Ward tied the score. In the ninth Goodsafe hit, third on a sacrifice and scored on Beach's error. In the last half Ebright hit for a triple and scored on Godar's error. No more runs were scored until the twelfth, although the home team had men on bases first on bails. Lookabaugh hit to Daly, who threw wild to second, Speer going to third and scoring on McHale's wild throw. Had Daly thrown the ball accurately a double play would have resulted and more innings would probably have been necessary.

Donahue umpired an impartial game and gave satisfaction both to the trees.

ENERGETIC BURGLARS.

They Are Finally Caught With the Stoler

Property on Them.

Three charges of burglary are appended on the City Prison register to the names of William Siebert and Percey Marraville, two energetic and very successful workers. They had a liking especially for silver plate, and were doing a thorough business until interrupted by Detectives Seymour and Haley. About midnight on the 30th of last month they entered the residence, at 1320 Sutter street, of F. Jacoby, of the firm of Lachmann & Jacoby, and made away with about $150 worth of silverware. On the 3d inst. they secured about $200 worth of plate from the hovse of Charles Coleman, at 905 Hyde street. Their depredations were continued by next invading the residence of Dr. A. S. Cook, of 224 Post street, where they met with an adventure, in consequence of Mrs. Cook having arisen for a drink of water while the burglars were searching the rooms The lady, who is quite stout, collided with one of them and knocked him over a chair. Both were frightened, and while the woman was screaming the thief escaped through the back window, leaving his hat, which had a candle in it. In their flight the men took with the men took with them a pair of diamond studs, a breast-pin, a pair of pearl ear-rings and a pair of gold spectacles. Gold spectacles.

On Monday last the detectives watched the pawn-shop at 1204 Stockton street and saw Siebert and Marraville enter. They searched the suspected men and found all of Dr. Cook's lost property on Siebert. Apart from that he had a silver fish-knife with the initial "D" on the handle and a number of socks for which owners are wanted. All the lost property, which was worth in the aggregate about $600, was recovered, and last night the men made a full confession and were charged.

Siebert is an ex-convict and has been out of San Quentin only two months, after having served a term for burglary. hat was found to fit him periectly.

SAVE THE TREES.

Be Preserved. Garden and Forest has warmly advocated saving the last grove of giant sequoias, "the big trees," in Tulare County, California, and both houses of Congress have passed unanimously a bill setting apart the grove torever as a public park. The act secures also the springs of streams that flow through the park, and provides for the preservation of the timber and natural objects, for the protection of the fish and game, and for the maintenance of the park in its natural con-

Garden and Forest now asks why a similar reservation should not be made of a tract of the redwood forest in the Coast Range. The trees are so valuable that they are rapidly falling under the axe, and trees almost as interesting as the big trees, and even more beautiful, will disappear. It hopes, also, that the committees will report the Yosemite Park Bill, and undoubtedly in reserving these noble tracts from destruction Congress might be sure of universal public approval The public interest in forestry, which has been faithfully and forcibly fostered by Gar-den and Forest, has arisen happily in time to save much that ought to be saved, but could be saved only by a strong expression of opinion. The great beauty and the universal enjoyment of the parks which have been laid out within recent years have shown what an immense benefit and delight a little forethought may secure to our chil-dren. The reservation of Niagara, in New York, and the earnest struggle for the Ad-irondack forests, are fluits of the spirit which has been awakened, and whether the parks are vast tracts in the wilderness or breathing spaces in the city, the feeling which reserves them, and which in turn they develop and encourage, is a source of the purest public pleasure.—Harper's Weekly.

THE LAW OF MOSES.

A Couple Divorced According to the Hebraic Faith. The Rev. Solomon Philo has recently suc ceeded in making four people happy and quieting the voice of slander among certain members of Hebrew society in this city. Over eight years ago the domestic relations of a Jewish couple named Platzek, residing on Green street, became somewhat strained, and a separation was decided upon. The case was then taken into the courts and the wife was granted a divorce. Soon after she married one Roberts, a merchant of good repute and some means, soon after which it was whispered that, though divorced from her first husband according to the laws of the State, the Jewish faith had not sanctioned the separation, and conse-quently by marrying another she had committed a crime in the eyes of the Mosaic law. Social ostracism was the result, and the friends who once entertained and welcomed her at their homes now refused to recognize her. Several people, high in church and social circles, interposed in her behalf and be-sought the first husband to grant her a church divorce, but he was deaf to their entreaties, replying that she had already vio-lated the law of Moses and could make no

A few week since Rev. Solomon Philo became interested in the case, and last Monday induced Mr. Platzek to grant the much-desired divorce. On the Wednesday following Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were remarried and the so ial ban has been removed, the four individuals most interested in the case are happy, and Dr. Philo is jubilant at his success in the affair.
