

IN MASS-MEETING.

Oakland Non-Partisans in Earnest.

THEY WANT CLEAN POLITICS.

The Leading Candidates Address a Large Crowd in the Big Tabernacle Last Night.

"Down with the bootleggers!" was the motto of the Oakland Non-Partisans displayed on a covered wagon that drove about the city yesterday.

Below it was the announcement of the second mass-meeting of the campaign to be held at the Tabernacle in the evening.

The motto and announcement were effective, for the building was crowded when the speakers began to speak.

Councilman J. W. Nelson presided. There were no vice-presidents, the only persons seated on the platform with the chair being the candidates.

Mr. Nelson made a brief introductory speech as follows:

Ladies and gentlemen: I have been requested to introduce to you the candidates for the city of Oakland in the coming election.

I believe that our people want a better and more honest government. They want only one way to get it and that is for citizens and taxpayers in the different wards to rally together and elect a city government.

He then introduced O. B. Smith, who spoke for twenty minutes, interlarding his speech with many amusing anecdotes.

THE MUSIC WAS APPLAUDED.

An Entertainment That Was Well Received by a Fashionable Audience.

Last night the grand concert of the University of California Glee Club took place and the college boys turned out en masse to applaud the singers.

The concert was given at Odd Fellows Hall, which was very tastefully decorated in blue and gold, the colors of the State University.

Many students crossed the bay to attend the concert, but they went to the trouble not only to hear the singing but also to help clear the debt of the club.

The debt was incurred last winter when the singers traveled through the southern part of the State.

They had not advertised their concerts enough and the consequence was that they sang before poor audiences. Their trip left them in debt to the amount of $250, and they were much chagrined over it.

But they had a gay time and were entertained royally wherever they went. They were at Los Angeles soon after the Stanford football team had played there, and they were much chagrined over it.

THE UNEXPLAINED DEATH OF LETA WILSON.

The body of a young woman named Leta Wilson lies in the Morgue.

She lived with her father-in-law and became ill a few days ago, when she said that she had taken medicine.

His relative summoned Dr. Grisold of 850 Market street, but he could do nothing for the patient.

Owing to rumors that the girl had been buried, her death was reported to the coroner, who sent an autopsy and inquest will be held over the remains to-day.

ABOUT THE GEYSERS. The Lecture on Yellowstone Park by Marsden Manson.

The California Camera Club's thirty-third illustrated lecture on the Yellowstone Park by Marsden Manson in Metropolitan Hall last night was largely attended.

The lecture was profusely illustrated by many views, and the causes of the action of geysers was illustrated very graphically by a device built for the occasion.

On their return from the south they went to Sacramento and filed the same trip ticket with the largest crowd it had ever held.

There were about 500 people present, and all enjoyed the lecture, which was well illustrated by slides.

The slides which were shown were of the geysers of the park, their formation and area, cause, etc.

THE MATE'S DEATH.

Some Light as to How William Skeet Died.

PROBABLY FELL OVERBOARD.

He Was Under the Influence of Liquor and Mistook His Friends for Thieves.

The six men who were arrested on Thursday morning at Sausalito for being implicated in the death of William Skeet, the mate of the steamer George W. Elter, were to have had a preliminary hearing yesterday, but the District Attorney of Marin County was too busy to attend to it and it was postponed to-day.

T. D. Deane, attorney for the Elter; W. B. Byrne, boatswain of the City of Puerbia; James Nimmo, 533 Natoma street; M. Grandin, 130 Howard street; H. W. Gable, 13 Madison avenue, and Frank Dooling, Greenwood street, are the names of the prisoners locked up in the jail at San Rafael, and they are wondering what is to become of them.

They are confined in separate cells and have no method of communicating with each other.

N. Boyne told a CALL reporter yesterday that he with a party whose names are just being recalled by the District Attorney at Washington's birthday. William Skeet was on shore, and he joined the party and they had a drink.

William Skeet had had a drink of liquor and it was decided to take him to his vessel in the Puerbia's boat. When the Elter was in the water, the mate of the Puerbia, Skeet, went up the ladder with the mate and they were talking to each other.
