

ON ONE HOME RUN How Tom Power Won the Game for Uncle.

POLICE AND THE SMALL BOY. A Large Crowd and a Close and Very Exciting Game at Piedmont Yesterday.

One of the very best games of ball that the second half of the season has thus far developed took place at Piedmont yesterday afternoon. So close was it that a home run, contributed by Tom Power in the last half of the eighth inning, won the game for San Francisco.

It was not until the first of the eighth that Oakland managed to get in the lead. Before that the score had stood 3 to 2 in favor of Uncle Henry's men. A passed ball on three strikes of Earle by Spies led in those two runs practically, and made the aspect seem dismal for Henry for the time being.

But Henry's men are batters. That is where they excel at playing the national game. Power waited until he got a man ahead of him on the base line and then he picked out one that just suited his eye and slammed it over the left field fence.

Griffith and Balz both pitched a fine game, and the support that Griffith got was really a shade better than Uncle's men gave Balz, but Balz didn't mind that. He struck out six batters, kept the total of his outs down to six, and not one of them was over a single.

It was ladies' day at Piedmont and the grand stand was crowded, while the driveway and the benches were both well populated. At one stage of the game it was necessary to stop playing and wait for the officers of the law to quell the horde of small boys along the fence.

BASEBALL IN THE EAST. Events of the Day on Various League Diamonds.

BALTIMORE, July 19.—Brilliant fielding by both teams was the feature. Brooklyn 2, Baltimore 12.

CINCINNATI, July 19.—The Reds lost the game in the ninth inning, Louisville 9, Cincinnati 12.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Phillies halted Esper all over the field. Washington 3, Philadelphia 14.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The champions won the first game by hard hitting. Boston 12, New York 6.

The William Kerr Company has incorporated for the purpose of engaging in a general farming and merchandise business. Capital, $100,000.

THE HOWELL CASE. At Midnight the Jury Had Not Agreed on a Verdict.

The Howell case went to the jury in the United States District Court at half-past 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The jurors immediately retired for dinner, returning about an hour later. The whole afternoon was spent in deliberation, and at 7:30 a recess was taken to enable them to get a second meal.

At midnight no verdict had been reached, and the jury was locked up for the night. District Attorney Garter finished his argument a little before noon, and Judge Morrow at once charged the jury. The charge showed great preparation, and was fair and impartial. Though he explained what the practice of the Federal courts is with respect to the custody of the statements of an accomplice, he left it to the jurors as to whether they should believe Marsh's statements or not without confirmation.

The Matt Jones theory he discussed at length. Jones' poverty and Howell's access to his well-to-do wife's funds, were both circumstances, he said, for the jury to consider, but it did not follow that because a man has access to money he would not commit an offense.

A COWGIRL'S CHAT Mrs. Stanfield Tells of Life in Arizona.

First Recollections of the Apache Indians—A Revolver is a Handy Thing to Have.

"Come right into the tent and sit down. There are only dry-goods boxes for seats, but those are all the chairs we have in Arizona." Mrs. Lydia Stanfield of the Wild West show gave this hospitable invitation to a CAZ reporter last evening. The fearless little rider had just been caught by her own husband in "the chase for a wife."

"Yes, it is much cooler here than in Arizona," she said, throwing a wrap around her shoulders, "but I am delighted with the city and find the trails much better than the cowboys."

"How long have you been riding?" asked the reporter, edging the dry-goods box a few inches further from a fierce brave who had crept up to the light to examine his bow and arrows.

"Well, I have been a cowgirl all my life," replied Mrs. Stanfield. "The girls, as well as the boys, most live in the saddle. I've often started out in the morning and had nothing to eat till sunset. When we have to camp, it means coffee in an old fruitcan and a bed made of a saddle blanket. They say the cowboys are rough, but I tell you they are considerate to girls. I have camped out with them many times and I know it."

MONEY POURS IN. Managers of the Winter Fair Encouraged.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railroad held a meeting of its directors and voted the sum of $3000 in cash toward the fair.

A RAILROAD CONTRIBUTION. Applications for Space in Golden Gate Park Are Coming in Now From All Sides.

At noon yesterday Chun Kin, manager for Chy Lung & Co., called at the headquarters of the finance committee of the Midwinter Fair and handed Secretary Kahn a check on for $300, and in doing so said that his fellow-countrymen in business here were strongly in favor of the winter fair and that this amount by his firm was the beginning of what would be a series of handsome donations.

CRITICAL ARTISTS. Opinions as to the Design for the Fair Buildings.

While all classes of the community are taking an interest in the Midwinter Fair that is to be, it is particularly gratifying to note that the artists are particularly anxious that the fair be a pronounced success from an artistic standpoint.

WANT DAY WORK. What the Laborers Will Ask of the Fair Commissioners.

A large number of laborers met in Trades' Hall last evening and organized themselves into the Pacific Coast Laborers' Union.

ROAD RECORD BROKEN. A Pennsylvania Team Makes Phenomenal Time.

ERIE, Pa., July 19.—Charles M. Reed's brown road team, Lunette and Evangeline, broke the road record this morning. The race was for a wager of $2000 and the distance from Girard, Pa., to Mr. Reed's barn in this city, sixteen and a half miles.

POLYGAMISTS MAY VOTE. Important Decision Made by the Utah Commission.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 19.—A question having arisen on the right of polygamists, in a case favoring President Harrison, issued a proclamation of amnesty to vote, the Utah Commission referred the matter to the Department of Justice at Washington. The Attorney-General replied that he was not the adviser of the commission, and declined to express any opinion.

THE SPANISH RENAISSANCE WINDOW. A Spanish Renaissance Window.

California," said Ernest C. Peixoto yesterday. "We made a hit at Chicago, and the State of California is architecturally ought to be followed in erecting the several buildings in the fair grounds in the park."

"I have noticed somewhere that the assertion has been made that with the contemplated arrangement that has been proposed here will be terraces and fountains rivaling those at Versailles. That kind of talk does no good, and very possibly much harm."

Others of the artist brotherhood also echoed the opinion of Mr. Peixoto as to the advisability of eschewing, in the architectural design of the fair building, all those of the decorative style that necessarily appear incongruous and out of place.

Willis Polk was enthusiastic on the subject. "We have too long ignored the only source of art we can lay any claim to, and this style of architecture, as seen in the bottom of the amphitheater, is in hand some in appearance, offering scope for unique treatment in detail, and is furthermore thoroughly characteristic."

Proponents of the style in question are seen in the bottom of the amphitheater, and are seen in the bottom of the amphitheater, and are seen in the bottom of the amphitheater.

HIS CHANCE GONE. De Young Told to Cease His Importunity.

NO TOGA FOR THE EDITOR. He Fusses and Fumes, but His Threats Have No Effect on Governor Markham.

Contrary to expectation Governor Markham did not return to Sacramento last night, and as a consequence he is still being besieged with visitors in his rooms at the Palace Hotel. Yesterday above all others was his busy day, for what with exchanging calls with Vice-President Stevenson and listening to complaints of office-holders and hearing arguments for Senatorial candidates his day and evening were completely occupied.

The official visit of the Vice-President was not of course connected in any way with the senatorship, and in the exchange of courtesies no mention of Mr. De Young was made, strange as it may seem, but the visit passed off pleasantly for all that.

It seems, however, that prior to the visit of the Vice-President there had been an interesting interview between the Governor and Mr. De Young and the latter was told, not in so many words but in an incidental way, that he was not in line to succeed Senator Stanford. Among the friends of Governor Markham at all events this was the story that passed current, and great was the rejoicing as it became generally known.

Most important of the visitors who dropped into room 78 during the evening was Justice Fitzgerald of the Supreme Court, who came to give his ideas of the situation, and who made it his task to advance a few reasons to show why Morris M. Estee should be named for the vacant place.

The justice is not at all backward when he feels it his duty to speak for a friend, and for more than an hour he struggled with the Governor. That his errand was not successful was indicated very clearly by the looks which were seen on the Market-street door of the hotel and thru his way homeward with a puzzled expression upon his smoothly shaven face.

Senator Mahoney called later on, and he, too, had a long list of arguments to show that the only man for whom the people were in perfect accord was Estee; but he went away feeling discouraged and downhearted.

The truth of the matter seems to be that Markham has fully made up his mind not to appoint either Estee, Selton or De Young, and his friends openly admit that the fight has narrowed down to Stump, Scott and Perkins, with the first named far in the lead. There is a settled conviction, in fact, that Stump has been practically decided upon, and that unless some radical change takes place within the next forty-eight hours he will be given the commission.

WORLD'S WHEAT CROP. Farmers Advised to Hold for Better Prices.

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—The Journal of Agriculture of this city, treating editorially on the condition of the present wheat crop and the probable advance in prices, says: "The best American and European authorities agree that the world's deficiency will be at least 100,000,000 bushels."

The most reliable figures now place the total American crop of 1893 at about 383,000,000 bushels, which, added to the surplus carried over, will make less than 450,000,000 bushels. England will want probably 250,000,000 bushels, and the home trade needs 570,000,000 bushels."

The Journal believes, in view of the fact that the American crop is 130,000,000 bushels short, as compared with last year, and as Europe, with a short crop, is now grabbing up American wheat as fast as it can without attracting much attention, the time has come when American farmers should not sell a bushel of wheat at the present prices.

CHRISTIAN SOCIOLOGY. The Latest Scheme to Promote Good Morals.

CHAUTAQUA, N. Y., July 19.—A society to be known as the "American Institute of Christian Sociology" was formed here to-day. Some of the leading educators of the country are interested, Bishop Vincent being one of the chief promoters of the organization. Committees were appointed and will report to-morrow, when the election of officers will take place. The objects of the society are to claim for Christian law the ultimate authority for the rule of social practice and to apply the teachings of Christianity to social and economic difficulties.

Cut in Passenger Rates. CHICAGO, July 19.—The rates between Kansas City and Chicago and Kansas City and St. Louis will, beginning to-morrow, be 50 cents each, the cause being the action of the Alton road, which has informed the Western Passenger Association that through rates were being used by brokers to demoralize general business, and that the other lines were getting the best of it.

NOTHING LIKE SWIFT'S SPECIFIC is totally unlike any other blood medicine. It cures diseases of the blood and skin by removing the poison, and at the same time supplies good blood to the system. Don't be misled by cheap substitutes, which are said to be just as good, if not better. No medicine has ever performed as many wonderful cures, or relieved so much suffering.

"My blood was badly poisoned last year, which got my whole system out of order—diseased and a constant source of suffering, no appetite and no enjoyment of life. Two bottles of Swift's Specific brought me right back. There is no better remedy for blood diseases."

Attractive exhibit of their products and the process of catching and packing. In addition to their regular space they made a subscription of $100.

A letter was received from the clerk of the Board of Supervisors of San Benito County notifying the committee of the appointment of James A. Seefeld, Thomas McMahon and William Polkay as the County Board of World's Fair Commissioners.

One of the most important communications received by the executive committee was a letter from Chicago, being an application for three acres, each to be 600 by 200 feet. The first was for the Algerian theater, bazaar and cafe and the transfer of the entire Algerian village from Chicago to San Francisco; also for the same amount of space for the Turkish village, theater and bazaar, and then for the transfer of the famous streets of Cairo or the Egyptian exhibit. In the Egyptian exhibit alone there are 480 altitudes.
