

LABOR'S BIG DAY.

Trades Unions Celebrate the Event.

A PICTURESQUE PARADE.

The Wage-Workers Turn Out in Full Force.

ORATORY, MUSIC AND POETRY.

The Day Was as Fittingly Observed as in the Past in Spite of All Obstacles.

Considering the uncertainty and confusion created by the Governor's failure to declare yesterday a legal holiday, various labor unions, notwithstanding, succeeded in arranging a labor day demonstration equal in many respects to the efforts of former years.

The marshal was James L. Sullivan. The Iron-workers' Union, with forty members in line, came next, with Henry Stokes as marshal.

In point of numbers the Sailors' Union of the Pacific ranked next to the printers. They were about 150 strong, and were attired in their regulation uniforms.

Following another band came the Journeymen Coopers' Union, 100 strong, the Journeymen Tailors' Union, with 125 in line, and 50 members of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union.

Long before the time set for the commencement of the exercises the hall commenced filling and at 2 o'clock hardly a vacant chair could be found.

The Superior Judges had resolved not to risk possible error by holding court on what might be decided to be a dies non, and so all the courtrooms were closed.

At first all the municipal offices were open, but the clerk's office of the Board of Supervisors was kept open only one hour, and the rooms of the Board of Education were open to no purpose.

The quarantine officer found two seamen injured during the voyage of the British ship Primrose Hill to San Francisco from Newcastle, S. W.

A southwest gale was blowing when the accident which resulted so disastrously occurred. Three seamen were ordered aloft to shorten the ship's planks suddenly, and rigging on the crest of a wave struck by the vessel, which swung the yard around and headed the ship.

Three more deep-water ships arrived yesterday. They were the Primrose Hill, Robert Dunlop and Lamorna, all from Newcastle with coal.

An attachment has been levied on the property of Jean and Anna Weber at 1210 1/2 Stockton street, by their daughter, Marie L. DeCasse, to recover $750 due her for services and money loaned.

Don't Tread on Me. Vibrates the rattlesnake with his rattle. Sensible people take alarm at the hiss which ushers in chills and fever.

Richard Johnson was arrested last night by Officer Webster and charged at the old City Prison with assault to commit murder.

The active part of the tennis season on the Pacific Coast will be brought to a close by the championship tournament which takes place at San Rafael commencing Friday at 10 A. M.

The consoling doubles will be made up of all teams choosing to enter except those playing in the consolation singles.

BEATS ALL RECORDS. O'Brien's Sale of the McShane Bankrupt Stock Sweeps Everything Before It.

Last week we commented on the overwhelming success of J. O'Brien's sale of the bankrupt stock of the McShane Dry Goods Company of Oakland, and predicted a continued and still greater rush.

But this crowd is not to be wondered at when the attention is considered, for the stock is like a hot iron, and a crowd of buyers, and when, as in the present instance, the stock is of any first-class quality.

Fire in Chinatown. The alarm was given at 7:30 P. M. at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning when a fire in the three-story brick building 315 and 317 Jackson street.

Caught at Last. Richard Johnson was arrested last night by Officer Webster and charged at the old City Prison with assault to commit murder.

THEY DIE HARD. Democrats Striving for Compromise BEFORE NAMING DELEGATES.

Max Popper was at his headquarters at 200 Mission street from the forenoon until late this morning. He wanted the delegates elected by a majority vote of the general body.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

THEY DIE HARD.

Democrats Striving for Compromise

BEFORE NAMING DELEGATES.

Prolonged Caucusing by the Two Factions.

A COMPROMISE IS POSSIBLE.

The Committee Meets To-Night to Name Delegates to the Municipal Convention.

A busy day was spent by the local Democracy yesterday in trying to bridge over the yawning chasm that for a week has divided the factions of the General Committee.

The mid-sleeping propensities of Andy Clunie had left the temper of the statesman in such a condition that amicable adjustment of the existing differences was a difficult task, and a whole day and the greater part of the night were required to bring the warring elements to a point at which compromise was possible.

Max Popper was at his headquarters at 200 Mission street from the forenoon until late this morning. He wanted the delegates elected by a majority vote of the general body.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

THEY DIE HARD.

Democrats Striving for Compromise

BEFORE NAMING DELEGATES.

Prolonged Caucusing by the Two Factions.

A COMPROMISE IS POSSIBLE.

The Committee Meets To-Night to Name Delegates to the Municipal Convention.

A busy day was spent by the local Democracy yesterday in trying to bridge over the yawning chasm that for a week has divided the factions of the General Committee.

The mid-sleeping propensities of Andy Clunie had left the temper of the statesman in such a condition that amicable adjustment of the existing differences was a difficult task, and a whole day and the greater part of the night were required to bring the warring elements to a point at which compromise was possible.

Max Popper was at his headquarters at 200 Mission street from the forenoon until late this morning. He wanted the delegates elected by a majority vote of the general body.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

Max Popper believed that Clunie was working in the interest of Christopher A. Barnes. He thought that Clunie would give the young firebrand a say in the appointment of the delegates who would result in the selection of Buckley.

TO INVESTIGATE.

The Grand Jury Asked to Take a Hand

IN POPPER'S BRIBERY CASE.

Candidate Kelly Restless Under the Charges.

BUT MAX STANDS TO HIS GUNS.

Says if Kelly Did Not Pay the $650 to the Supervisors He Must Have Kept It.

Joseph Kelly, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fifth District, charged by Max Popper with having paid for him to Phil Crimmins $650 a month blackmail in the street-sweeping contract matter, will not remain quiet under the charge, which has wrecked his hope of election.

A few days ago he stated that he would appeal to the Grand Jury for an investigation, and yesterday he carried his intention into effect by addressing the following letter to the foreman of the Grand Jury:

Hon. Sidney M. Smith, Foreman of the Grand Jury of the City and County of San Francisco—Dear Sir: Having been mentioned as the person through whom the sum of $650 per month was paid to Phil Crimmins in regard to the street-sweeping contract existing between Max Popper and the city and county, and the charges against Popper that the money was paid for improper purposes, I deem it my duty as a citizen and in the interest of the city and county to immediately investigate this matter, and I promise you my every assistance to bring to light the truth hereon.

JOSEPH P. KELLY. Ever since Max Popper's confession that he gave $650 monthly to Kelly to be paid to Crimmins, Kelly and his friend Colonel Kowalsky, have been very busy doing the story. They have been to Phil Crimmins about it, and received from him a statement to the effect that he never received any money from Kelly.

It was reported that Kelly had been in the city yesterday, says Kelly, that he had been in the city two months ago that this money had been paid to Crimmins, so that if Mr. Kelly desires to be cleared of this damaging and untrue charge, he must take some convincing method of establishing his innocence than that of getting a denial from Phil Crimmins.

Speaking of Kelly's request to the Grand Jury District Attorney Barnes, last evening, said that the matter would undoubtedly be taken up for investigation by the very near future. As the District Attorney of this city and county, he said, he intended urging upon the Grand Jury that the matter be looked into carefully.

"Of course," said Mr. Barnes, "I have no more to do officially with the deliberation of the Grand Jury than any private citizen, and I do not intend to be regarded as its adviser, but it has the right to ignore or overlook my suggestions, as it sees fit."

"This communication of Mr. Kelly's was very properly addressed to Sydney M. Smith as foreman of the Grand Jury, and by him well presented to the Grand Jury when they next assembled. I will strongly urge that the bribery aspect of the case be thoroughly investigated."

To make a charge of bribery out of it the connection must be established between Popper and handing it over to Crimmins does not constitute a crime of any sort. To make a charge of bribery out of it the connection must be established between Popper and handing it over to Crimmins does not constitute a crime of any sort.

What the Grand Jury will do or will not do is a difficult matter to solve at this time. Its deliberations are secret and it has been suggested by several lawyers that the foreman would be violating his oath by telling in advance what they intended doing.

It will be seen from the remarks of District Attorney Barnes that a Grand Jury investigation will have to bring out the fact, if fact it is, of Kelly's knowledge of the uses to which Crimmins put the $650 per month before an indictment can be found against him.

PERSONAL NOTES. James Dunsmuir, the Victoria capitalist, is at the Occidental.

John K. Orr has returned to the city after an extended outing in Sonoma County.

General Wade Hampton went to San Luis Obispo yesterday.

E. A. Eddy of Montana, a member of the firm of Eddy, Hammond & Co., in mining and milling supplies, is at the Palace.

An Elevator Accident. Adam Eighen, 229 Jessie street, a candy-maker in Scheiber's factory, 314 Eddy street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning, where it was found that his right leg was broken and his body badly bruised.

An Election of Officers. At a meeting of the Chela Achim Reclamation held Sunday, the following officers were elected for the next term: D. Michael, president; L. Eulich, vice-president; Charles Gioia, secretary; S. Peckerman, treasurer; P. Han, R. H. Hirschfeld and S. Schloss, trustees; Arion Levy, sergeant-at-arms; H. H. Hart, doctor; A. C. Drewis, druggist; A. Jacobowitz, surgeon.

Fire in Chinatown. The alarm was given at 7:30 P. M. at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning when a fire in the three-story brick building 315 and 317 Jackson street.

TO INVESTIGATE.

The Grand Jury Asked to Take a Hand

IN POPPER'S BRIBERY CASE.

Candidate Kelly Restless Under the Charges.

BUT MAX STANDS TO HIS GUNS.

Says if Kelly Did Not Pay the $650 to the Supervisors He Must Have Kept It.

Joseph Kelly, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fifth District, charged by Max Popper with having paid for him to Phil Crimmins $650 a month blackmail in the street-sweeping contract matter, will not remain quiet under the charge, which has wrecked his hope of election.

A few days ago he stated that he would appeal to the Grand Jury for an investigation, and yesterday he carried his intention into effect by addressing the following letter to the foreman of the Grand Jury:

Hon. Sidney M. Smith, Foreman of the Grand Jury of the City and County of San Francisco—Dear Sir: Having been mentioned as the person through whom the sum of $650 per month was paid to Phil Crimmins in regard to the street-sweeping contract existing between Max Popper and the city and county, and the charges against Popper that the money was paid for improper purposes, I deem it my duty as a citizen and in the interest of the city and county to immediately investigate this matter, and I promise you my every assistance to bring to light the truth hereon.

JOSEPH P. KELLY. Ever since Max Popper's confession that he gave $650 monthly to Kelly to be paid to Crimmins, Kelly and his friend Colonel Kowalsky, have been very busy doing the story. They have been to Phil Crimmins about it, and received from him a statement to the effect that he never received any money from Kelly.

It was reported that Kelly had been in the city yesterday, says Kelly, that he had been in the city two months ago that this money had been paid to Crimmins, so that if Mr. Kelly desires to be cleared of this damaging and untrue charge, he must take some convincing method of establishing his innocence than that of getting a denial from Phil Crimmins.

Speaking of Kelly's request to the Grand Jury District Attorney Barnes, last evening, said that the matter would undoubtedly be taken up for investigation by the very near future. As the District Attorney of this city and county, he said, he intended urging upon the Grand Jury that the matter be looked into carefully.

"Of course," said Mr. Barnes, "I have no more to do officially with the deliberation of the Grand Jury than any private citizen, and I do not intend to be regarded as its adviser, but it has the right to ignore or overlook my suggestions, as it sees fit."

"This communication of Mr. Kelly's was very properly addressed to Sydney M. Smith as foreman of the Grand Jury, and by him well presented to the Grand Jury when they next assembled. I will strongly urge that the bribery aspect of the case be thoroughly investigated."

To make a charge of bribery out of it the connection must be established between Popper and handing it over to Crimmins does not constitute a crime of any sort. To make a charge of bribery out of it the connection must be established between Popper and handing it over to Crimmins does not constitute a crime of any sort.

What the Grand Jury will do or will not do is a difficult matter to solve at this time. Its deliberations are secret and it has been suggested by several lawyers that the foreman would be violating his oath by telling in advance what they intended doing.

It will be seen from the remarks of District Attorney Barnes that a Grand Jury investigation will have to bring out the fact, if fact it is, of Kelly's knowledge of the uses to which Crimmins put the $650 per month before an indictment can be found against him.

PERSONAL NOTES. James Dunsmuir, the Victoria capitalist, is at the Occidental.

John K. Orr has returned to the city after an extended outing in Sonoma County.

General Wade Hampton went to San Luis Obispo yesterday.

E. A. Eddy of Montana, a member of the firm of Eddy, Hammond & Co., in mining and milling supplies, is at the Palace.

An Elevator Accident. Adam Eighen, 229 Jessie street, a candy-maker in Scheiber's factory, 314 Eddy street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning, where it was found that his right leg was broken and his body badly bruised.

An Election of Officers. At a meeting of the Chela Achim Reclamation held Sunday, the following officers were elected for the next term: D. Michael, president; L. Eulich, vice-president; Charles Gioia, secretary; S. Peckerman, treasurer; P. Han, R. H. Hirschfeld and S. Schloss, trustees; Arion Levy, sergeant-at-arms; H. H. Hart, doctor; A. C. Drewis, druggist; A. Jacobowitz, surgeon.

Fire in Chinatown. The alarm was given at 7:30 P. M. at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning when a fire in the three-story brick building 315 and 317 Jackson street.

MISCELLANEOUS.

HYAMS, PAUSON & CO.,

25 and 27 Sansome Street,

The Wholesale

Manufacturers,

Now Selling

At Retail

At the Price

the Dealers

Must Pay.

Walk a Block

or Two and

Save a Day's

Salary by Going Direct

TO

HYAMS, PAUSON & CO.,

25 and 27 Sansome Street,

The

Manufacturers,

Now Selling

At Retail.

SCIENTIFIC

BERTELING OPTICIAN

427

KEARNEY ST.

IS THE VERY BEST ONE TO EXAMINE YOUR

eyes and fit them to Spectacles or Eyeglasses with instruments of his own invention, whose superiority has not been equaled. My success has been due to the merits of my work.

Once Hours—11 to 4 P. M.

TAMAR

INDEN

GRILLON

A laxative refreshing

fruit lozenge,

very agreeable to take,

and especially useful in hemorrhoids, bile, loss of appetite, gastric and intestinal troubles and headache arising from indigestion.

Prepared by

J. GRILLON,

33 Rue des Archives, Paris.

Sold by all Druggists.

STATEMENT

OF THE

CONDITION AND AFFAIRS

OF THE

UNITED STATES BRANCH

IMPERIAL

Insurance Company, Limited,

OF LONDON, ENGLAND, ON THE 31ST DAY of December, A. D. 1893, and for the year ending on that day, in accordance with the provisions of the Statute in that behalf made, and of the Articles of Association of the said Imperial

Insurance Company, Limited, as per blank furnished by the Commissioner.

ASSETS.

Real Estate owned by Company..... $476,634.70

Cash in Bank..... 1,099,237.00

Loans on hand..... 68,212.77

Interest due and accrued on all

Stocks and Loans..... 2,395.83

Prepaid fire and marine insurance

..... 195,909.00

Unpaid fire and marine insurance

..... 3,213.13

5 Shares Underwriters' Savings Co.,

..... 200.00

Total Assets..... $1,847,271.94

LIABILITIES.

Losses Adjusted and unpaid..... $53,018.30