

IT WAS A TOUGH DAY.

Not One Loney Favorite Had His Number Up.

FERGUSON HAD AN OFF DAY.

Jim Flood Won the Gunst Stakes in a Drive.

MY LUCK WON THE HURDLE STAKES.

Enthusiast, the Hot Favorite for the Last Race, Got Away Badly and Finished Third.

Pleasant weather drew a large attendance to the track yesterday, the principal features being the Gunst stakes, worth $900 to the winner (one mile), and the Four Hundred stakes, worth the same amount to the winner—one mile and a half, over six hurdles. The first named was won by the Kentucky stables' black colt, Jim Flood, son of the game Blazes and Hessalina, after a hard drive with imp. Percy, carrying the green colors of the Chicago horseman, Ed Corrigan. The hurdle stakes went to Corrigan's My Luck, very cleverly ridden by the veteran jockey, George Withers, defeating the very hot stable up, Argenta, who was considered an "air-tight."

Backers of the favorites went home in a very gloomy mood, not a solitary one having his number hoisted on the top. Enthusiast, the favorite for the last race, would undoubtedly have swept the day but for the very poor start he got, and starters in general received a severe overhauling by Don Dunne's horse last.

With Griffin up, Lawyer went to the post favorite for the opening race of the day, a five-furlong selling affair. Three Forks, who has won two races over the hilly course, was at the very remunerative price of 5 to 1 at post time, but his owners did not overlook it. Banjo, who came very near being the surprise in the race, had 25 to 1 laid against him. Norlie, Clacquer and Mainstay were all well backed.

Norie, the quickest away, led the field at the first quarter, followed by Mainstay, but the big Mariner colt tired early in the game and gave way to Three Forks, who became the contending horse. Up the stretch hill Three Forks made up a lot of ground, and when they struck the flat was soon on equal terms with Norlie. Soon passing her it looked easy for him, when Banjo came with a great burst of speed and was beaten out but a short head. Norlie finished third. The favorite, who was third at the three-quarters, died away at the finish.

The second run was another five-furlong dash. Major Cook was a very pronounced favorite over his field, going to the post 8 to 5. W. O. B. Macdonough had Burmah in the race. Bred in the purple, a full brother to Bermudas, and with Griffin up, the young millionaire bet early to give him some savage concern or sell him for a car horse if he did not win. Van Ness' pair, Olivia and the Mab filly, did not attract much attention at 8 to 1, nor did Ike L. El Tirano, Olivia and Loughmore, the other starters.

Burmah showed well in front as the flag fell, followed by Ontario and Major Cook. The Major showed more speed, and soon took command of things, leading the Macdonough all the way to the stretch hill. As they came into view up the hill Griffin, by hard riding, had gotten Burmah in front again, but it was only through vigorous riding that he kept him there and beat the Major out half a length. Ontario finished a bad third. El Tirano, away badly, could not get to the wire, and was the only one to give up.

The contest for the four mile, was the third event on the card, and had but four starters. Melanina, Jim Flood, Don Fulano and imp. Percy, who came very near being the jolly-joker. Don Fulano, opening at even money, went back in the betting to 13 to 10 and was backed down to even money again. Jim Flood, on the other hand, was about stationary at 7 to 5, although some 8 to 5 could be had, and a lot of money went in at that price on the black colt's chances. Five to 1 could be had on imp. Percy all through the betting, but just race being very much off color. Melanina was a rank outsider, apparently outclassed.

Imp. Percy, full of run, jumped into the lead as the flag fell and led Jim Flood by about three lengths up to the last quarter, the Don lumbering on in the rear, very much after the style of that useful animal, the cow. Jim Flood went at the Corrigan's and when he had a good start, he came into view was but a length behind. Carr on Percy was rather inclined to look upon the black colt as a joke, but when young Mr. Isom ducked his head and began pushing Jim along the expression on Felix's face began to take on a serious aspect. Both boys were riding for dear life, but the Kentucky colt gained on his rival every jump and won at the wire by a head.

Don Fulano finished a very poor third. The Four Hundred stakes for hurdlers, one mile and a half over six hurdles, was proffered by one of those get-out-quick things that are common in the betting, and were from the Corrigan stable, My Luck and Tyro, and the stable went to the post 2 to 1 in the betting. Eli Kendig, a splendid jumper, had many friends in the betting, and he was backed up to 10 to 1. Most of the stable boys and stable people bet everything but their chewing tobacco on him. Nick Long's Longwell was the outsider in the betting.

Mr. Ferguson evidently labored under the impression that very little depended on the start and let Eli Kendig off three lengths ahead of the others. He took the first jump in front, followed by Tyro and My Luck, but on nearing the second hurdle he was struck by the other two, and they struck the flat stretch to the wire George slipped by the third leaders on the inside and won pulling up. Argenta in a drive beat Eli Kendig a head.

Pat Dunne's gelding, Enthusiast, ran such an excellent race on Thursday that he was a hot favorite for the last race of the day at seven furlongs, going to the post 10 to 10. Mollie B. had 10 to 1 marked against her, and the other starters, My Volt, Sir Reel and Grandee all had liberal prices laid against them.

The start was a very bad one for the favorite, who got away fully three lengths back of the field. Getting out off at the first turn also militated against his chances, and it was evident he was beaten from the jump. Mollie B. with a feather coat back led the stable, winning at the wire by a length from Sir Reel, who had be the contending horse. Enthusiast struggled on gamely under Chorn's hard riding, getting third place.

Track Items. Bob Isom carried off the palm in the riding line yesterday. He landed three winners first past the wire.

Mr. Macdonough added considerably to his already large wealth by the victory of Burmah.

Three Forks made it three straight. Carr was three times second.

Mainstay ran well for a eighth of a mile, then closed up like an umbrella, finishing "absolutely."

Eli Kendig would have made a hard bid for the money, but for the mistakes he made the last part of the journey.

After a thorough investigation the board of stewards yesterday reinstated Thomas Lundy and E. C. Sachs, owners of the Thornhill stable, it having been shown they were not in any crooked work in connection with the running of the horse Thornhill. The ban of suspension had not yet been removed from Sullivan, the jockey that rode Thornhill.

Without Being Sued. A Settlement for the Killing of Miss Coates.

The Railroad Company Pays to the Widowed Mother Five Thousand Dollars Damages.

OAKLAND.—Mrs. Coates, the mother of Miss Mae E. Coates, who was killed in the collision between the Seventh-street local train and a San Pablo avenue cable-car on the evening of December 4, will not sue the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for damages on account of the death of her daughter. The company has offered to compromise and negotiations have been conducted by W. W. Blow, a personal friend of Mrs. Coates, with the result that the railroad company will pay $5000 to Mrs. Coates tomorrow upon her receipt in satisfaction of all claims.

It will be remembered that on the night of December 4 Miss Coates, in company with W. H. Waste, a young attorney to whom she was engaged, started to go to San Francisco. They took a San Pablo avenue cable-car for Broadway station and the car slowed down before crossing Seventh street.

The doctor ran ahead to see if the crossing was clear. The cable-car started forward and at the same time the local train reached Broadway and struck the car, overturning it. Miss Coates was thrown overboard and her head, resting on her neck, Mr. Waste was badly injured and rendered insensible. He was taken to the hospital and finally recovered.

Mr. Waste has been under the care of a physician since. Yesterday he was able to be on the street.

The gripman claimed that he attempted to stop his car when he saw the local train coming upon him, but that his car was in the race and he was unable to do so. The inquest upon Miss Coates severely censured the company. The San Pablo avenue cable-car is practically owned by the Southern Pacific Company.

Mrs. Coates, the young lady killed, was a teacher in the public schools and the sole dependence of her aged mother.

Joseph Found Not Guilty. Three minutes was the length of time that it required the jury to decide that W. F. Joseph, the gripman, was not guilty of murder in the death of Miss Mae E. Coates, who met her death at the time of the collision between a San Pablo avenue cable-car and the Seventh-street train. The witnesses were Dr. Johnson, M. M. Martin, George Green, Dr. J. H. W. Waste and Judge Green for the people. At the close of Judge Green's testimony District Attorney Melvin rested for the prosecution and Thomas Garrity announced that he had no witnesses.

After reconvening at 2 P. M. the arguments were made and the case snubbed. A verdict of not guilty was rendered.

Rev. Mr. Gregory to Preach. Rev. U. Gregory, D.D., of the Children's Home Society, will preach at the Hamilton-square Baptist Church, Post street, near Steiner, at 11 o'clock this morning.

The Fire Record. An alarm of fire was turned in from box 264 at 8:15 last evening. It was caused by the burning of some paper on California street, near Front.

For Being Concerned in a Fight. Charles Schaefer was arrested last night for participating in a prize-fight at Ocean View a week ago last Sunday.

A French physician has devised a vibrating machine for the relief of neuralgic headache. It is constructed on a steel plate in vibration by a small electric motor. The sensation produces drowsiness, the patient falls asleep under its influence and awakes free from pain.

STANFORD GAINS.

An Alameda County Election Contest.

BOOGAR'S BODY IS BURIED.

The Piedmont Foreclosure is Finally Entered.

BISHOP TURNS OVER THOSE BOOKS.

The Large Estate of the Late Judge William H. Glasecock Being Settled Up.

OAKLAND.—The recount in the contest of the election of O. M. Sanford as Treasurer by M. J. Layman was completed about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The entire vote of the county was counted in seven days, with four night sessions, and some remarkably rapid work was done by the callers and tallymen. During a portion of the time a rate of fourteen ballots a minute was reached by George H. Furry, who called the vote, and as high as 3942 ballots were counted in one day.

As a result of the recount Sanford received 5182 votes and Layman 5075 votes, which are unquestioned. In the progress of the recount question was raised as to the regularity of 194 Sanford ballots and 247 Layman ballots, which were put aside for future consideration. Adding these to the unchallenged ballots would give Sanford 5326 and Layman 5322.

The official canvass of the Sanford 5333 and Layman 5311, which shows on the totals Sanford a gain of 44 and Layman's 11 by the recount over the returns. This gives Sanford a gain of 33 votes added to his majority of 100 before the recount. The contest has been continued to Tuesday morning, when argument will be heard upon the disposition of the ballots which were put aside for informalities in the canvass at the head of Layman. The contest has been continued to Tuesday morning, when argument will be heard upon the disposition of the ballots which were put aside for informalities in the canvass at the head of Layman.

The recount in the contest by J. A. Trefry of the election of S. B. Vandervoort as Constable of the City of Oakland was made no change in the result. The recount showed that Trefry received 362 votes and Vandervoort 363, electing the latter by three votes. The judgment was entered up for costs against the contestant.

Boogar is Buried. The remains of Philip Boogar were laid in the Mountain View Cemetery yesterday afternoon without a new suit being filed. The funeral took place from the residence of the widow, 70 Franklin street, at 10 o'clock, and was attended by a number of her friends and a few of the men who had been life-long friends of Mr. Boogar.

Shortly before the services began Mrs. Boogar came down the stairs leaning on the arm of a lady, and she was seen to have her head and face were entirely covered with a heavy black veil. She took a seat near the remains and sat throughout the ceremony. Mrs. Louise Whitmore did not attend the house, but awaited the start to the cemetery in front of the Galindo Hotel. Her carriage fell in line and followed the body to its long home.

Rev. Father Ackerly conducted the services, which included a selection by the Mendelssohn male quartet and the Episcopal ritual. The pall-bearers were: James Elliot, J. T. Hogan, E. Kraft and H. D. Houghton. The remains lay in a lead-lined casket, which was placed in a hearse on which was carved Mr. Boogar's name, age and nationality. While ill, a floral pillow and a sheaf of wheat was all of the floral tributes.

The will still remains in the Oakland Bank of Savings, as the officers desire to have an order from the court before removing the papers, as other valuable documents are also there.

Henry Evers, who shot Boogar, paid a visit to the Police Court yesterday morning, but his arraignment was continued until Monday morning, when he will appear, plead and have a date set for an examination.

The Piedmont Foreclosure. The judgment and decree of foreclosure in the suit of the California Title Lsureance and Trust Company against the Consolidated Piedmont Cable Company, which was entered upon default of the defendant, was entered in the County Court, has been entered at the request of the attorneys for the plaintiff.

The judgment as entered is for $1,000, 197 33 and $2500 allowed as compensation for attorneys' fees. The balance of the decree provides for the sale of the property in one parcel by the Sheriff. When the foreclosure was entered it was thought by the creditors of the company that it would be a simple matter to get the receiver for permission to borrow $20,000 to add to the $23,000 of the receiver's certificates already outstanding shows that a considerable barrier of priorities is piling up between the bondholders and their security as the receiver's certificates are a priority.

This is supposed to be the cause for entering up the judgment at this time. It is rumored that the sale of the road under the decree may be proceeded with in the near future.

Something Still to Answer For. A petition for a writ of habeas corpus has been granted in the matter of the imprisonment of Wong Chung Fee, who it is alleged is held under an order of the Justice of the Peace at Berkeley after the case was dismissed. The Chinese was arrested for trying to run amuck at Berkeley. He was arrested upon three charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Only one of these was admitted and the Sheriff is still holding him upon the remaining charges.

Scheel's Soloists Coming. Some of Scheel's leading soloists will appear in a concert at Elite Hall next Friday evening. Oakland's music-loving people will hail this announcement with delight. Many went to San Francisco to hear them, but others could not.

Among the most notable who have been secured are: Joseph Reiter, the celebrated French horn player; E. Mollenauer, the great violinist; Hans Schuy, the viola artist; Herr Brand, the distinguished cellist; and August Rodeman, the flutist.

George H. Glasecock, late Judge, died at his residence in Berkeley on Saturday last. The estate of the late Judge William H. Glasecock has been in probate for six years or more. Yesterday a deed was recorded, given by J. R. Glasecock, trustee under the will, to Mrs. Mary R. Blow, wife of W. H. Blow, conveying to her the portion of the estate, viz, three-eighths of the residue of the estate. It covers such valuable estate, mortgages and stocks, and is valued at $150,000.

George H. Glasecock will receive a like amount, and the balance, one-fourth, will be set aside for the children of the two.

May See the Books. Ira Bishop, receiver of the Consolidated Piedmont Cable Company, has been ordered and authorized by Judge Ogden to deliver to the president and the secretary of the company all books and papers of said corporation not included within the property mortgaged to the California Title Lsureance and Trust Company, and to the receiver in the conduct of the business of the road.

Men's Meeting. A great meeting for men only, will be held to-day in the First Methodist Church,
