MADE TO ORDER GLASSES!

Think of eye glasses that don't pinch the nose. No skin abrasions. No black and blue indentations. And yet—no slipping, or tipping, or falling of the glasses. That's our kind. The complete satisfaction and comfort given by our made to order glasses is daily making our optical work more popular. The frames fit so perfectly that they are not felt. More becoming than ill-fitting ready-made glasses, and yet the price is no higher.

Card of Thanks.

MR. AND MRS. ALVIN BURK.

The reception for members of Co. M, given at Ansley, Tuesday was largely attended and an excellent time was had. The speech of welcome by Judge Armour, was exceptionally good, as was also the address of Judge Sullivan in the afternoon. The Broken Bow, Litchfield, Mason City and Ansley bands furnished the music for the occasion. The decoration of the town was elaborate and tasty. Nearly two hundred went from Broken Bow to assist in the entertainment.

Will Winston, of the West Table, was quite seriously hurt Friday, of last week, by being thrown from a horse. He sustained a double fracture of the ankle and before medical assistance could be secured the injured member had swollen so badly that the limb could not be set. The unfortunate man was brought to the city, where he could have special attention, with the hope of being able to reduce the swelling sufficiently to set the limb. Dr. R. B. Mullins has charge of the case.

The State Reception First Neb. Reg.

The state reception of the First Nebraska Regiment will be held at Lincoln, Sept. 13, 14 and 15. All members of the regiment will be transported to Lincoln and return free. The ladies of Lincoln will feed them. The military parade will be Wednesday, the 14th. The G. A. R. reunion will be held on the same dates. One fare rates will be given to Lincoln from the 9th to the 16th, good to return Sept. 18. The battle of Manila will be put on in the fair grounds each night of the reception.

The old soldiers were not forgotten Friday by the several speakers, at the reception of the returned soldiers of the Spanish-American war. Their work was referred to by the speakers as being of great value to the nation. This is true. Too much credit cannot be accorded the union soldiers of the rebellion. It was by their efforts that we can today boast of the greatest nation on earth. The grand reception extended to the boys returning from Manila is the fruit of their sowing. When the boys of the civil war returned, they did not, as a rule, receive the plaudits and public demonstrations that our returning heroes do today. Yet the old soldiers should not feel jealous, but proud of the fact. When they returned, the conditions were different. First, the most of those to receive them were widows and orphans. Their husbands and fathers had been left with the unnumbered dead on the battle fields of the south. A large per cent of the men at home to receive them were not in sympathy with the administration, and the returning heroes were looked upon as "Lincoln hirelings," and the supporters of an unjust cause. By the persistent advocacy of the principles of the union, and their examples of loyalty to the flag, a strong sentiment of patriotism has so permeated the nation, that even the copper-heads of today are compelled to join in with the supporters of the administration in extending a welcome to our returning heroes.
