Something Worth Striving For.
Chicago Times Herald: "What," asked the lady who believes in the eternal rights of women, as she set down the glass from which she had moistened her throat, and looked defiantly at her hearers, "What has the little girl to look forward to in this country? What possible glory is there to fire her with ambition? The poorest boy that is born in our land today," she shouted, shaking a fat forefinger at a baldheaded man who sat near the stage and looked as if he were sorry that he had come, "may aspire to an office which carries with it more power than is wielded by any prince or king or emperor on earth. There is something for him to live for, to strive for. There is always the glorious incentive that makes for greatness. However humble his surroundings, there is the ever present possibility that he may some day stand in the fierce white light of publicity with the destiny of the nation in his hands.

"But for the fair haired girl who plays with him, what glorious hope is there? What dreams of future greatness are there for her to dream? What does the future hold for her, that she should consecrate herself to the achievement of the sublime? Degraded at the very threshold of life, what aspirations may find lodgement in her soul?"
She paused for breath, and also to permit the ladies present to applaud her eloquence.
"I repeat," she shouted, after the storm of approval had died away, "what glory does the future hold for her?"
"Well," said the baldheaded man, "she might strive to become worthy of one of those cornhusk bonnets that the Kansas people are giving away."
The meeting then broke up in confusion.

An apparatus has been devised for automatically photographing people as they enter shops and other places.

Bank Out Ten Thousand.
OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9.—A shortage of $10,000 was discovered Monday in an Omaha bank and bank officials say circumstances at present point unmistakably to theft unless an absent teller can give the explanation of his doctored accounts. The teller who alone can solve the mystery is Ned H. Copeland. The institution from which the money was taken is the Nebraska National bank. Copeland began work there when he was hardly tall enough to look over the counters. For ten years he has held the position of railroad teller and the discovery of the shortage in his accounts was like a thunderbolt from a clear sky.
The money was lost August 2. Fifteen days later Copeland resigned his position to go to Arion, Ia., having stated to his employers he intended to assume control of his father's lumber business there. Copeland visited the town, but did not remain long. When last heard from, six days ago, he was in Washington, D. C. His present whereabouts are unknown.

Narrow Escape for Courthouse.
WAHOO, Neb., Sept. 9.—The court house in this city escaped destruction by fire by a close shave. An outbuilding a few feet from the southwest corner of the court house took fire in some way and was all abaze when discovered. The alarm was given and the firemen responded promptly and by excellent work the fire was extinguished before it spread from the one building. It was a good piece of work on the part of the firemen, as there was a heavy wind blowing from the southwest.

Death of Dr. Hobbs.
WYMORE, Neb., Sept. 8.—Dr. P. M. Hobbs, one of the most prominent and best known physicians in southern Nebraska, died at his home in this city after several days' suffering with stomach trouble. Dr. Hobbs was one of the most popular residents of the city. He was public spirited and generous to a fault. He was at one time mayor of the city and served for several years on the city council. He was an active member of nearly every secret order in the city.

MASON CITY, Neb., Sept. 9.—The dry weather and hot winds during the last two weeks have practically ruined the corn crop in this vicinity. The prospective yield of corn is now cut down from fifty bushels per acre two weeks ago to ten bushels.
This is the seventh year that the dry weather has spoiled the corn crop at about this time of the season, yet small grain crops have generally been fair.

Telephones in School Buildings.
WYMORE, Neb., Sept. 9.—At a meeting of the school board it was decided to have telephones placed in all three of the public school buildings, and as soon as arrangements can be made with the telephone company the work will be done. This will save the principal considerable time in communicating with the ward schools and will also prove convenient when the principal desires to transact business with members of the school board.

Groom Falls to Appear.
FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 9.—Fred Hipke, a driver for May Bros., has left for parts unknown and in doing so he missed playing a principal part in a wedding which had been prepared for him on the day he left. Monday night about 8:30 o'clock Osborn Anderson, a harnessmaker, came into the police station and wanted help in seeking young Hipke and bringing him to the altar. It is charged that the young man had been courting a daughter of Mr. Anderson's, a comely young miss of about eighteen years and the wedding had been planned for Monday night. Hipke apparently decided not to assume the marriage yoke and went out of town. The wedding party waited at the house until it became evident that he was not coming and the wedding supper that had been spread was cleared away.

Fighting Hog Cholera.
MEAD, Neb., Sept. 9.—Thomas Farrow, assistant state veterinarian, was in this county and inoculated fifty head of hogs with anti-cholera serum. He was working in the plague stricken district near Ithaca on the farms of H. K. Marcy, August H. Smith and Herman Hankle. Mr. Hankle's hogs show no indications of cholera or other disease but the other two gentlemen's yards have the disease. To thoroughly test the serum after a reasonable length of time some of Mr. Hankle's wild hogs will be turned in with the sick ones in other yards. The farmers out there are of the opinion that if the inoculation should fail it will not be Dr. Morrow's fault for he did his work very thoroughly. He took some blood from the sick hogs on Mr. Marcy's farm to the laboratory for examination. This matter will be watched with a great deal of interest by farmers of Saunders county.

Capt. Zellinger Returns.
DAVID CITY, Neb., Sept. 7.—Captain J. F. Zellinger, late commander of Company E of the "Fighting First," returned here. A message from the captain to his brother Dick, stating he would be at home, spread over the city and at 6 o'clock, the time the train was due to leave Lincoln, the ovation at the home-coming of the soldiers was repeated. From that time until the train pulled in every thing was in uproar and fully 2,500 people were at the depot to welcome the old townsman. The band escorted the captain and family to the residence of A. R. Knight, where a few intimate friends met him. Captain Zellinger, though yet a weak and sick man, is greatly improved from what he was when he reached Frisco. The captain has no word but praise for the men of his command and speaks of all as being fighters.

Gage County Refunding.
BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 7.—The county board of supervisors met in special session to consider the court house bond refunding matter. There has been considerable opposition to the plan which was first proposed, which was to refund the $94,000 of bonds and make them payable only after twenty years, but State Treasurer Meserve has come forward with a proposition which will probably not meet with any opposition. He proposes to take the bonds at 3 1/2 per cent interest and make the payment of the same optional with the county after a short term of years. This will enable the county to pay off the bonds more rapidly than under the first plan proposed and do away with the necessity of a large sinking fund.

Locates a Missing Wife.
HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 7.—Papers in a divorce suit were filed in district court by M. A. Hartigan, attorney for the plaintiff, the case being Fitzgerald vs. Fitzgerald. The plaintiff, William A. Fitzgerald, has finally succeeded in locating his wife, who he says deserted him this summer to travel around the country, it is charged with a doctor named Rea, who spent several weeks in Hastings. The defendant was formerly a Miss Ida Cook and worked in the Fitzgerald family at the time of the first Mrs. Fitzgerald's death. She was married to Mr. Fitzgerald soon after this occurrence. Adultery is the ground upon which the action is brought.

New Crop in Northwest Nebraska.
GORDON, Neb., Sept. 7.—Raising onions in large quantities for market in the northwest Nebraska is a new venture made this season by Arthur Weir, a young printer, who left Chadron and went down to Gordon and rented a patch of fifteen acres of bottom land that is under the irrigation ditch and well tilled. Mr. Weir then put in all the onions and hired a horde of the town boys to spend a month weeding onions, swimming and fishing. That army of boys made the crop. It is a new industry here that many farmers next year will follow. Weir has made a few thousand dollars and the cash is in sight.

Locomotive Runs.
During the past few months, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has materially extended the runs of the passenger locomotives on through trains. Formerly engines were changed on an average every 100 or 150 miles. It was thought that the mountain grades of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad would prevent an extension of the runs. However, the experiment was made. It has proved successful and reduced the number of locomotives formerly required by twenty-four, which can be used in other branches of the service and save the purchase of more motive power. Under the new plan, locomotives are double crewed and make from 7,000 to 8,000 miles a month, as against 3,500 to 4,000 under the former method.

The best qualified to judge reckon that the fortune left by A. T. Stewart, which he left to the care of the late Judge Hilton, amounted to about $40,000,000. Mrs. Stewart survived her husband ten years, and the great Stewart fortune survived her ten years. In 1876 Stewart died; in 1886 Mrs. Stewart died, and in 1896 the last of the visible Stewart millions disappeared in the wreck of Hilton, Hughes & Co.
