The Five Senses

The hearing ear ministers largely to the mental nature. Its chief charm is that it waits upon the soul with a "sweet concord of sounds."

The sense of smell stands a step lower, divided about equally, in ministering to the physical and aesthetic, in man.

The sense of feeling is still lower. The nerves of sensation are its fingers, through them is fulfilled its function of handling and fashioning the mere materials of civilization.

There is the humblest among the senses. Its ministrations are devoted, primarily, to the body. The fireman that feeds the engine of the physical system.

Vision is the noblest of our senses. It presides over the activities of the lower faculties, and transcends them in the reach of its power.

Yet this most important of all senses, is the most abused. The teeth, the nose, the ears, all receive due attention upon the slightest note of warning; while aching pains and dull aches, in and around the eyes—nature's warnings—are allowed to go unheeded, while perhaps perfectly fitted glasses would relieve present trouble and save future regret.

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Heariness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared; it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and it is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

From New Zealand.

Wellington, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1899.
I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicine the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other medicines for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children. For sale by all druggists.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When trouble with a pain in the chest or side, or a lame back, give it a trial. You are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

The case, of the state against A. J. McArthur, of Westerville, who was charged with selling whiskey illegally was tried by a jury Tuesday evening and Wednesday. The attorneys in the case were L. E. Kirkpatrick for the state and Judge Wall and C. L. Gutterson for the defense. The jury brought in a verdict after being out a short time of guilty of seven of the twenty-nine counts pleaded against him. The defendant gave notice of an appeal to the supreme court.

The case of the state against Simon Young, jr., of Lomax who was brought up on the charge of an assault, with an attempted rape upon the person of Anna Simonson, the fourteen year old daughter of Neils Simonson near Lomax was tried Monday by a jury, Judge Sullivan presiding. The attorneys in the case were, L. E. Kirkpatrick and J. C. Taylor for the state and C. L. Gutterson and J. R. Dean for the defendant. The case went to the jury about 10 o'clock p. m. and after two hours deliberations brought in a verdict of an assault only. One thing the American people should be thankful for above others as a result of the late election is that business will not be greatly disturbed through fear of Bryan's election next fall. A continuation of the present administration for another four years is now practically assured, which is sufficient to keep our money in circulation.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give a Mystery Tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eastham in the north part of the city on Friday evening, the 24th. The menu given at the tea will be as follows: A product of the desert, a gift of the gods—crushed cereal; sour sustenance, very pale ale—solidified saccharine; toothsome tid bits, a little side dish for Russian revels; an Oriental square—an after dinner delicacy. Everybody invited to come Mrs. McCandless, Secy.

The case of the state against John McMahan, on the charge of bastardy, on complaint of Anna Hennis, of Litchfield occupied the attention of the court yesterday afternoon and evening. The crime is alleged to have been committed in December 1897, since which time the defendant had married a girl on the west table, and also has a child by her. The defendant denied the charges made against him, but the complaining witness produced letters from him written after her child was born, that to say the least, placed the defendant in very embarrassing condition. Attorneys J. R. Dean and C. L. Gutterson appeared for the defendant while Judge Wall and L. E. Kirkpatrick appeared for the prosecutors. The verdict of the jury found him guilty.

Mr and Mrs. O. H. Mevis entertained their friends at the Grand Central Hotel for dinner at 8:30 on Wednesday evening. Chrysanthemums were used profusely in decorating the large dining hall and the table was arranged as a cross with a large, magnificent vase as a center piece. Flowers were thrown carelessly over the beautiful white linen, causing a very pleasing effect. The favors had menu hand painted in gold in the corner and an appropriate verse from Shakespeare upon the back. One card read, "A Feast fit for the God." It was more. Course after course were served rapidly and amid merry-making and toasts. This occasion was one of the most interesting of the season and Mr. and Mrs. Mevis are to be congratulated upon their success as entertainers. May such another "Feast for the Gods" happen frequently.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the 'grandest remedy ever made.'" will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

Mother's Friend

Druggists sell Mother's Friend for $1 a bottle. The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga. Send for our free illustrated book.
