

CARTER AT THE HELM

CHAIRMAN OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

CHRIS MAGEE CHOSEN SECRETARY.

Mr. Payne of Wisconsin Was Strongly Urged to Accept the Chairmanship, But Was Compelled to Decline—J. P. Burke of Pittsburg for Assistant Secretary—Carter's Career.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Thomas H. Carter of Montana has been elected chairman of the Republican national committee. His place as secretary has been filled by the selection of Chris Magee of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Payne of Wisconsin, who had been prominently mentioned as the choice of the committee, pronounced himself last night as strongly in favor of Senator John C. Spooner, and said he would certainly retire from the committee if he would consent to take the position. Secretary Rusk, Senator Sawyer, Messrs. Sutherland, Payne, Kerens and Clarkson held a conference in which Mr. Payne was strongly urged to accept the position. After an hour's conference Mr. Payne announced that no decision had been arrived at. Said he: "I have not yet decided whether I will accept the position, and their will be no definite settlement of the question before tomorrow. My private business interests are such that I am not sure that I can afford to take the chairmanship."

J. F. Burke of Pittsburg, president of the college Republican clubs, will probably be chosen assistant secretary for the campaign. It has been decided to establish in the national headquarters in this city a separate department for the college league, and Burke will probably fill both positions.

Thomas Henry Carter was born in Scioto county, Ohio, in October, 1854. He received a common school education in Illinois and for a number of years was engaged in farming, railroading and school teaching at various times. He studied law, was admitted to the bar and in 1882 removed from Burlington, Ia., to Helena. He was elected a delegate to the Fifty-first congress as a Republican from the territory of Montana, was nominated by the Republicans in their first state convention and elected. A year or two ago he was appointed United States land commissioner. During the recent fight for the Republican presidential nomination Mr. Carter, John C. New and L. P. Michener marshalled and led the forces of Harrison to victory.

EXTRA VIGILANCE.

Military Discipline More Stringent Than Ever at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 18.—Patrols are all carrying loaded rifles and most of them have their bayonets fixed and the officers in command manifestly expect that something is to happen soon, for the discipline is more stringent than ever before. When a striker approaches the guards he is asked if he has a pass and on a negative reply he is ordered to keep away. The soldiers themselves have strict orders to hold no communication whatever with anybody save in the direct line of duty and the discipline of the Pennsylvanians has asserted itself over and above all sympathy they have on personal grounds. The troops are obeying orders to the letter and the stern and resolute manner in which they are going about their work has made a most serious impression upon Homestead.

The strikers have copies of the different orders as soon as they are issued and they know as well as though they were present all that is going on in the various camps. General Snowden on the other hand is constantly informed of all the movements in the town and each side is perfectly aware that the other is getting all the information it can. The question of the captured Winchester keeps cropping up at the most unexpected times and this morning it was stated that a number of guns were taken across the river and sent to Braddock, a town about two miles away. The advisory committee repeats the assurance that it is prepared to do all in its power to gather and deliver the captured guns as soon as it learns the proper person to receive them.

ALABAMA FLOODS.

People of Sumter County in Imminent Danger of Starvation.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 18.—News continues to come of the suffering of people in Sumter county, where three rivers have left their banks and overflowed half the area of the county. Colonel J. J. Altman, who returned from his plantation near Lexington yesterday, reports that nearly 3,000 people are destitute, having lost their crops and all earthly possessions by the floods, and are now on the verge of starvation. The Tombigbee, Noxubee and Sucunoochee rivers have overflowed a large section of the country. The damage will be nearly $1,000,000. The greatest suffering is around Gainesville, where the Noxubee and Tombigbee unite. Unless aid is given soon the people there, surrounded by water, will starve to death.

Impaled on a Pitchfork.

PERU, Ind., July 18.—Will Winkle, the 18-year-old son of Henry Winkle, of Mexico, this county, fell from a load of hay upon an upturned pitchfork, which he was using. Four prongs entered his side, causing injuries which are likely to prove fatal.

Natural Gas Strike at Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, Utah, July 18.—An immense reservoir of natural gas has been opened in a well on the shore of Salt Lake, twelve miles from the city.

Governor Boyd Pardon Him.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18.—A wretched, hollow-eyed youth reclining on a stretcher at the B. & M. depot yesterday afternoon, tenderly cared for by his father and brother-in-law, formed a pathetic picture that enticed sympathy from all beholders. The pleading eyes of the suffering boy served as mute conveyance of misery, for his tongue was stilled by disease that may end in eternal silence.

The name of the unfortunate youth was Michael Cochran and he was being taken to South Omaha by his father and brother-in-law, Bailiff Spaulding of Omaha, having been released from the penitentiary by a pardon issued by Governor Boyd. The young man was serving a twelve years sentence and has been in the prison about four months. He was convicted of assaulting a Swede at South Omaha with almost fatal results, and of robbing him. Other young men were known to have been implicated and it is claimed that Cochran was innocent of the crime. For several weeks he has been in the hospital unable to speak or take nourishment on account of an ailment resembling paralysis. He is only eighteen years old and goes home to fight the battle of life or death.

Lexington's City Dads.

LEXINGTON, Neb., July 18.—Lexington is indulging in a city council war of large proportions, over the construction of city water works. The voters of the city have expressed themselves almost unanimously three different times in favor of their prompt completion. At the last council meeting two members, desiring to leave in order to break the quorum, were forcibly detained while the balance of the council proceeded to sell the bonds. The merry fight has now reached the stage that a quorum cannot be secured, and such feeling has developed among the council members that their resignation and a new election seems to be the only way for the long suffering citizens to have their wishes for improvements carried out.

Chadron's Distro Fire.

CHADRON, Neb., July 18.—The Jerry Mahoney Furniture company's store was yesterday the scene of the worst fire in this city's history for some years. Loss on the building is about $10,000; insurance as follows: Springfield, $2,000; London and Larchshire, $2,000; Fireman's Fund, $1,000. Loss on the stock about $15,000; insurance: Norwich Union, $2,000; Commercial Union, $2,000; North British, $1,000; Liverpool, London and Globe, $2,000; Royal, $2,000; Connecticut, $1,000; Hartford, $1,000; German-American, $1,000; Sun Fire, $2,000; Continental, $1,000.

Found in Lake Manawa.

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—On Thursday Dr. E. S. Sloman of this place went to Lake Manawa to spend the day. From that time until this morning nothing had been heard of him, and many conflicting stories were circulated regarding his disappearance. This morning the doctor's body was found floating in Lake Manawa and brought to this city. The most plausible theory is that he fell out of a boat while under the influence of morphine. He was known to be addicted to the habit, and two empty bottles were found in his room at the hotel at Lake Manawa.

Incendiaries and Robbers.

CORTLAND, Neb., July 18.—This morning between 3 and 4 o'clock some miscreant set fire to the barn of Wm. Stewart, one mile west of Cortland, completely consuming it, together with four sets of harness, a new spring wagon and about $300 worth of farm machinery. While the family was trying to save what they could from the barn the incendiaries ransacked the house and took what money Mr. Stewart had in the house, which was about $45.

A Much Wanted Young Man.

THURSDAY, Neb., July 18.—Elmer Gibson, the young man suspected of tapping the B. & M. railroad's money till at this place last spring, and who is now under bonds to appear at the next term of the district court to answer to the charge, was arrested last evening by Sheriff Crow and turned over to Deputy Sheriff Foster of Custer county to answer to a charge of petit larceny committed in that county a few days ago.

Scotts Bluff County's Crops.

GERING, Neb., July 18.—Scotts Bluff county, according to a carefully collected estimate, has this year in crops about 20,000 acres, of which 11,000 acres is irrigated. Wheat is the largest crop in the county, with oats a close second and corn last in amount of acreage. Good rains fell last week, which makes a certainty of the grain crop; hence the farmers of the county are now making their calculations to handle the largest crop in the history of the county.

Knocked Out in the Sixth.

HASTINGS, Neb., July 18.—Joe Jefferson of Chicago and Jack Gorman fought six rounds at 5 o'clock this morning at a point two miles from this city. Gorman knocked Jefferson out in the sixth by a terrific drive in the neck, and won the purse of $750. About 300 sports saw the fight.

THE TEXAN INTERFERED.

For Once the Authority of the Pistol Worked in a Good Cause.

A great deal has been written about the wild, untamed attributes of the Texan cowboy, but an incident witnessed by the writer in a railway train down south seemed to indicate that this terror of the plains is possessed of many more pleasing characteristics. The train was just pulling out of Laredo when a woman with a child entered the car and took a seat in front of a Texan whose appearance was far from prepossessing. He had black tangled hair, his trousers were tucked into his boots, and he looked mean enough to steal a horse. He seemed, however, to feel much interested in the prattle of the child and the responses of the mother, for something like a grim smile lighted up his unprepossessing features. When the conductor came around the mother presented two tickets, one of which was for half fare. "This won't do," said the conductor gruffly. "That child is more than 12." "Oh, no; indeed he isn't." "But I say he is, and you must pay." "I have no money. I tell you—" "Then you'll have to get off." Here the Texan interposed. "I reckon not." He touched his revolver significantly and looked the conductor squarely in the eye. "I reckon, Mr. Conductor, that kid is about 7. What do you think?" The conductor returned the glance and hesitated. "Well, he might be," he said, and turned away. Then the woman murmured her thanks, but the Texan's face resumed its former villainous expression, and no one, to look at him, would have deemed him capable of a kindly action.

THEY FIGHT IN JAPAN.

The Noble Art is Practiced and Taught in That Land.

"The noble art of self-defense," as practiced in Japan, has been lucidly explained by a Japanese gentleman in a lecture delivered in the hall of the Society of Arts, in Paris. The science was first brought from China in the sixteenth century, and is now taught in numerous schools scattered all over the country.

In Tokio, where the chief institution is situated, thousands of young men annually undergo a course of training, and all the policemen of the city are compelled to show efficiency in the art before they are engaged. The science differs from the British system of self-defense in that it seeks to obtain victory by ingenuity and expertise, coupled with a knowledge of certain anatomical facts, rather than by mere force.

Some practical experiments with the interesting science were given by two Japanese gentlemen, who despite the fact that they professed themselves mere novices, illustrated in a very striking way the ingenuity of the Japanese method of overcoming an enemy. Altogether it was a most interesting evening, and if the Japan society goes on as well as it has commenced, it will make a name for itself.

A City in Two Hemispheres.

In one respect at least Quito, the capital of Ecuador, is the most unique city in the world—it is situated in both the northern and the southern hemispheres, a distinction claimed by no other place of importance on the globe. At Quito the sun rises and sets at 6 o'clock the year around. You may forget to wind your watch while you are visiting the Equadorian capital, but you need not hunt up a regulator—set it when the sun rises or sets and you will be sure to be right. Old Sol makes no mistakes. In one part of the city the summer season does battle with old winter, who is just across the street. The seasons, as far as names are concerned, change almost instantly; but, as the temperature is remarkably even, these curious points are seldom thought of or commented on by the 50,000 people who make Quito their home.

A Case of Disenchantment.

There is a story told of a Virginia gentleman, scrupulous in his taste, who, being deeply enamored of some lady fair, rode forth to tell his love. He took her hand, rested his eye upon it before asking it as a gift, saw the pink nails of his ideal edged with black, dropped it, said farewell, and such was the end of this chapter, called "Disenchantment." Moral: Cupid must make sure to tie tighter the blindfold in the hand-taking act, or the curtain may fall there; or the ideal should manipulate the manoeuvre case before the curtain rises, lest it fall before the drama be complete.

Wouldn't Pay.

James Rediker, of Fort Fairchild, Me., has just been released from Houlton jail after an incarceration of four years for debt. He was able to pay but wouldn't, and transferred all of his property, worth several thousand dollars, to relatives, saying that he could stand boarding at the jail as long as the county and his creditors could. The amount of his indebtedness was insignificant.

An Old Man's Vigor.

"That Good Medicine."

Mr. C. D. Cone, attorney, of Parber, South Dakota, says: "I take pleasure in saying to the public, as I have to my friends and acquaintances for the last five years, that I consider Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the best medicine for the purpose it is intended that I ever tried. Since I have used it I would not be without it. I was always subject to cholera morbus and never found anything else that gives the relief that this remedy does. I never leave home without taking it with me; and on many occasions have run with it to the relief of some sufferer and have never known it to fail. My children always call for 'that good medicine,' when they have a pain in the stomach or bowels." For sale by Geo. M. Cheney.

The following, clipped from the Burlington Junction, (Mo.) Post, contains information of no little value to persons troubled with indigestion:

For years the editor of the Post has been subject to cramp colic or fits of indigestion, that prostrated him for several hours and unfitted him for business for two or three days at a time. About a year ago we called on S. J. Butcher, druggist, and asked for something to ward off an attack that was already making life hideous. Mr. Butcher handed us a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We took the medicine according to directions, and not only found relief on that occasion, but have several times since tried its virtues and found relief in every instance. We take this method of acknowledging the benefits derived and recommending the cure to all others subject to indigestion. For sale by Geo. M. Cheney.
