MCCOOK HARDWARE CO.

Buried From Pade's Parlors.

Last Saturday afternoon the remains of J. W. Spiker were buried from the undertaking parlor of Pade & Son on West Dennison street, after short services conducted by Rev. E. R. Earle of the Episcopal church, in the presence of a considerable company of acquaintances, friends and relatives of the departed.

The floral tributes were exceptionally fine.

Messrs. DeWitt, Scott, Snyder, Spencer and Ellison, members of the fire department, to which deceased belonged, were pall bearers.

The remains were buried in Riverview cemetery.

Death was hastened by over-exertion during the late fire.

The public has shown much concern for the wife and children who are left in needy condition.

Remember the Minstrel.

The M. W. A. Lodge of McCook will give their second annual minstrel at the Bixler opera house, next Tuesday evening, April 16th. This will be a much better entertainment than the first one, which gave such satisfaction. Every citizen of McCook should buy a ticket and attend—fill the opera house full for once—as it is for the benefit of Woodman drill team, and a large attendance will cause the boys to work the harder for the big log rolling meet here coming fall. Boost for the log rolling. Boost the minstrel. Boost our excellent home talent. Attend the big show—you will get your money's worth, besides helping a good cause that is boosting for McCook. Reserved seats 50c. now on sale at McConnell's drug store.

TRUE TO NAME

FLAVORS.

True to name because made from what they are supposed to be made from. The materials used are of the highest grade at that. When we sell you extract of vanilla it is extract of vanilla and not tonka-benn extract.

You'll like our vanilla. It has that rich delicate flavor that makes cake, pudding, ice cream etc., so dainty and delicious. Our other flavors are also superior to anything you can buy ready put up.

L. W. MCCONNELL, Druggist.
