The Human Ostrich.

If it were not so ghastly and hideous, it would be amusing to note how vice and sin and crime operate in this city. Men and women break the laws of God and man here every day and go on their way as though they felt and thought no one knew of their crimes and vices and sins. These law-breakers deport themselves even as though they knew no one in this city cared. Crime carries its mark no less conspicuous than does virtue. Like the stupid ostrich these violators of law hide their faces in the sand all unmindful and heedless of the hideousness of the uncovered part of their anatomy.

Pythian Installation.

The officers-elect of McCook Lodge No. 42, Knights of Pythias, were duly installed in their respective offices, Wednesday night, Knight Lon Cone acting as grand deputy for the occasion.

The membership was well represented in the meeting which was of interest and profit.

After the work of the evening, the boys, in the body of a representative and efficient committee, served refreshments, and an impromptu toast program proved of unusual interest.

The officers for the ensuing year are: H. W. Conover, C. C.; J. N. Gaarde, V. C.; Earl O. Vahue, prelate; M. Lawritson, M. of W.; D. N. Cobb, K. of R. and S.; L. W. Jennings, M. of F.; L. Thorgrimson, M. of E.; A. B. Campbell, M. at A.; R. L. Lyon, I. G.; J. F. Cordeal, O. G.

The retiring chancellor commander, M. Lawritson, was presented with a handsome jewel as a token of the esteem of his fellow-knights, J. R. McCarl performing the office of presentation feelingly.

A committee was appointed to secure data concerning a proposition to make a lease for quarters in the new temple-opera house.

Further Postal Conveniences.

The postoffice department has granted a request for the installation of receiving mail boxes at the Burlington depot here. Two boxes have been ordered, one for trains going east and one for trains westbound. Mail will be gathered by the carriers the same as from the mail boxes now located in various sections of the city; in addition the railway mail clerks of all trains arriving and departing will be required to gather mail deposited in these boxes. This will be a convenience to postal patrons.

Commercial Club Session.

The Commercial club held its regular monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, with a fair representation of the membership present. President McConnell in chair.

A formal resolution was adopted favoring the request of the railway mail clerks of America for allowance of expenses while on duty away from home. A just request.

The rest room matter was once more discussed and the committee urged to secure the basement of the library for such purposes, if possible.

The matter of road improvement was considered, and the sum of $100.00 was appropriated by the club for the purpose of improving roads leading into McCook. Messrs. J. E. Kelley and A. G. Bump were added to the committee which as formerly constituted included F. A. Pennell, F. M. Kimmell, S. S. Garvey, Fred Brunns and J. F. Cordeal. The committee hopes to be able to do a small piece of road making on a scientific basis, in the expectation that it may serve as an object lesson for future work.

Messrs. Kelley, Pennell and Real were appointed a committee to investigate the proposition to change the quarters of the commercial club from the postoffice building to new temple-opera house block. The committee will secure price and dimension and accommodation data and report to a future meeting of the club.

Over one hundred invitations were out and the guest-list included most of them.

THE ARISTOCRATIC HEN.

When we read in the poultry journals of hens that are valued at from five to ten dollars, we begin to realize that the hen is getting into the plutocratic class. As a money maker she has become a top notcher. Just now your hens should be turning out dollars for you. If this is not the case encourage them with some of the poultry foods and egg makers we handle. No matter what you want in poultry supplies we have it.

L. W. McCONNELL, Druggist.

Inquiries from several sources, apropos of the electric company stringing bare wires to carry high voltage, brought the quite general opinion that bare wires are safer than insulated wires; that the insulated wires are not the protection they appear to be with high voltage, and that bare wires are known to be dangerous and will not be handled by any one.

As we devote $100.00 a year free to this purpose, we expect those receiving the benefit to keep the cards corrected. #### Notice to Children and Parents.

Children in this city make a habit of throwing of sticks and larger pieces of wood at and into the wheels of my automobiles, as I drive over the streets of the city. This is both dangerous to the children and to me, and a source of expense to me as well. Parents should see that their children are not guilty of such dangerous and expensive conduct, and that life and limb are not unnecessarily endangered. D. G. DIVINE.
