The following quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, Evansville, Ind., "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and specks float before my eyes. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me."

Prizes for Model Aeroplanes.

That the mechanically inclined youth may be encouraged to become the aviator or aeroplane builder of the future, the Nebraska Aero club has arranged to offer three cash prizes for the best model of an aeroplane made by a Nebraska boy under 18 years of age.

The prizes will consist of gold coins—$25 for the best model; $15 for the second and $10 for the third. That the amounts are not larger is because the club wants the boys to build the models with the average equipment which a boy has and without assistance.

Arrangements have also been made with Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviator, who has made successful flights everywhere, to judge these models and in judging them he will make suggestions to the youthful makers of the models.

This interesting contest is to be held in Omaha during the mid-west aviation meet which is to be held there July 23 to 27 inclusive and which will be attended by the record breakers in the aviation world, including Curtiss, Willard and Mars.

The field selected for the contests is half way between Omaha and Benson, high above the city and with plenty of room for start.

GENERAL GRANT.

MAJOR GENERAL F. D. GRANT and many other noted army men have endorsed the plan to organize corps of boy scouts in this country. This movement was originated by General Baden-Powell in England some time ago, the idea being to instill and stimulate a militant national patriotism among the youths, and from a small number there are now an army of youngsters in the movement numbering over 150,000. Springfield, Mass., was the first city to take up the plan in America, and now other cities are adopting it. General Grant says of the idea:

"Give the boy the chance to drill and make believe he is a soldier and he is the proudest chap in the world. He will strive hard to do his drilling in an exacting way, and the result will begin to show in his other work. His studies will improve, he will become civil, and in time the chap of ten years will become a great man."

And now comes another scheme to reduce the soaring prices of food, and the originator is W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central. Mr. Brown is planning to organize a syndicate, with a capital of $1,000,000, the money to be used in reclaiming abandoned farms, which will be sold in tracts on easy terms to families anxious to quit the city. Mr. Brown says of his plan:

"The only solution of the problem presented by the high cost of living that I can see is to get the man and the farm together.

"The plan I have in view will make this possible. I am willing to take 4 per cent for such money as I may invest, and I believe I can interest a sufficient number of public spirited, wealthy men to make the enterprise a success from a purely philanthropic standpoint. Such a movement would increase the supply of foodstuffs and consequently decrease prices."

Los Angeles probably has the only woman deputy district attorney. Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz having recently been appointed to that position. The appointment came as a result of a request from the various women's clubs and organizations, which petitioned the district attorney for representation on his staff. The principal purpose of a woman as a member of his office is to have her assist whenever children or women are concerned in the law.

Mrs. Foltz has been a pioneer among the members of her sex in attaining prominence in public positions. She is the first woman who ever served under the appointment of the governor as a member of the board of trustees of a state normal school and is the first woman member of the state board of charities and corrections. Through her efforts the prison parole system in California was added after she had gained data from the keepers of the largest penitentiaries and reformatories in the country.

The announcement that Hetty Green is to retire from active business life has brought her daughter, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, much into the limelight, for it is she who is to handle hereafter the mother's immense fortune, estimated at $50,000,000. Mrs. Green is now seventy-three years old, and her age, coupled with her monotonous business routine, has begun to tell upon her. For years she has been quietly training her daughter to succeed her.

One of Mrs. Green's greatest disappointments in life, it is said, has been the noninclination of her son, Edward H. R. Green, who lives in Texas, to become as famous a financier as herself. At one time she put $20,000,000 into southwestern railroads for her son, so that he might become a railroad magnate. The accumulation of wealth is not a fad with Edward H. R. Green, however, who is content to live well and carry on sufficient business at the same time to keep his mind occupied.

Sylvia, the daughter, takes more after her mother, and it is on this account that the control of Mrs. Green's enormous fortune will soon be turned over to her.

Society's Surprise—Lorimer's Career—Genee to Dance No More—Amundsen's Daring Polar Trip.

MISS HARRIMAN.

JUST as society gossips had it all settled that Miss Mary Harriman was to wed Robert Walton Goellet on slipped an announcement that gave them the surprise of their lives. It turns out that her choice of a husband is Charles C. Rumsey, the sculptor, a son of L. R. Rumsey of Buffalo, who made a large fortune in the tanning and railroad business. The marriage will unite a couple whose tastes are much alike, both being devoted to art, music, sculpture and all outdoor sports.

The two first met at the Meadowbrook club, and the intimacy ripened through their love for horsemanship. It was while the sculptor was designing his new group for Arden, however, that the courtship really began. Miss Harriman posed frequently in his New York studio for a bas-relief of herself in the group, and the acquaintance ripened into the present engagement. Since the death of her father Miss Harriman has managed the Arden estate and shown herself to be a most capable business woman. She is a member of many hunting clubs, and there are few better riders among the fair sex in this country.

United States Senator William Lorimer, for whom it is alleged, votes were bought, is a striking example of a self made man, and his life story is one of hard fighting. He was born in Manchester, England, and at the age of five brought to America, his family settling at Port Sanilac, Mich. Subsequently they moved to a farm in Ohio and later settled in Chicago. For a time Lorimer went to school, but his parents were so poor that they were compelled to send him into the streets as a bootblack. He next took up the selling of newspapers and later secured a place as street car conductor, giving this up finally to work as a laborer in the stockyards. Entering politics after many bitter fights, he won a seat in the house of representatives and finally in the senate.

The charges against Mr. Lorimer are brought by State Representative Charles A. White, who alleges that he got $1,000 to vote for the senator.

All who have seen that airy, fairy little dancer Adeline Genee cannot help wishing that Frank S. Isitt had stayed over in England and buried himself in the affairs of the Duke of Newcastle, whose attorney he is. But he had to follow her to America and become so persistent in his wooing that now the stage has lost one of its greatest favorites, and while her popularity is at its height she is giving up a brilliant stage career at the beck of Cupid. No doubt she will welcome the change, however, for to hold her place as a premiere danseuse she has had to make severe sacrifices. No theater suppers, no good times, but fasting and constant practice have been her lot. She is twenty-seven years old and has been dancing since she was twelve, at that age scoring a big hit in Berlin.

Everywhere the little dancer has appeared in this country she has received much applause, and the announcement of her retirement has caused keen regret.

Explorers and scientists the world over are keenly interested in the new plans of Captain Roald Amundsen to reach the north pole. It being his intention to lock himself in the ice for seven years and drift there. With a crew of thirteen fellow countrymen Amundsen says he will start from New York in the Fram, a sturdy little craft used by Nansen in his "farthest north" explorations. The Fram will be fitted out in San Francisco after being brought around Cape Horn next winter. The cost of the outfit, it is estimated, will be close to $100,000.

The itinerary of the polar cruise will be through Bering strait to the northeast of the new Siberian islands, where the explorer will permit the Fram to "freeze in." The plan is then to drift with the ice does and currents winter and summer for about seven years,

McCook Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Citizens Prove It.

After reading the public statement of this representative citizen of McCook given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this:

Mrs. D. A. Jordan of McCook, Neb., says: "About a year and a half ago, I suffered from kidney complaint. There was a dull, bearing-down sensation through the small of my back and at times I became so weak as to miss my loins that I could hardly stoop. I did not sleep well and this resulted in a tired feeling when I got up in the morning. Headaches bothered me and I was very nervous. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at McConnell's Drug Store, improved my condition as soon as I began taking them and the contents of six boxes effected a complete cure." (Statement given June 21, 1907.)

The Cure Lasted.

Mrs. Jordan was interviewed on June 21, 1910, and she said: "I gladly confirm the statement I gave in 1907, recommending Doan's Kidney cure in my case and I am now enjoying good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"Is Life Worth Saving?"

Mrs. Mollie McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes that she had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble, and that four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured her sound and well. She closes her letter by saying: "I heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to any sufferer of kidney disease. It saved my life." Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more.
