

In Social Circles and in the Lodges

The Arions held forth at the German hall on New Years eve and the event proved to be one of their characteristically pleasant dances.

The Presbyterian Ladies Kensington society met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Davies. A very pleasant and profitable meeting was held.

Mrs. T. L. Hummelreich entertained on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Sue Cain. There were a number of guests present and the evening was made very pleasant by the general hospitality of the hostess.

Upon invitation of Will and Ralph Jenne a number of young people danced the old year out and the new year in. The dance took place at the Jenne opera house and was all in all, one of the most enjoyable functions that went to make up the social activity of the New Year reason.

The I. O. R. M. held installation of officers at their hall on Monday evening. The following are the new officers; C. M. Bohrer, sachem; J. M. Jellison, senior sagamore; Art Moss, junior sagamore; Fred Noah, prophet; Sam Sears, chief of records; G.H. Fallstead, treasurer; I. L. Beau- lieu, collector.

Miss Nettie Cleveland entertained a company of friends at a watch night party on New Years eve. Dancing was the principal form of entertainment and the young people enjoyed the occasion very much. By serving dainty refreshments the hostess added very much to the pleasure of her guests.

The A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor held joint installation at the hall on Thursday evening. After the installation supper was served. The following Verdor people were visitors on that occasion: Dr. and Mrs. Bourne, L. A. Kinsey and wife, C. Heinkelman, Mrs. Conover, Mrs. B. F. Veach, Mrs. M. A. Veach and Mrs. W. E. Gibson.

The fact that 1904 is leap year has found recognition at the hands of the young ladies of Falls City and this recognition was given expression by a leap year ball which took place at the National hotel on Saturday evening. It was by far the most pretentious dancing function of the season and was attended by about thirty couples. Harnacks' orchestra furnished the music. The young men who were honored with invitations were profuse in their expressions of the pleasure which the young ladies had afforded them. Punch and wafers were served during the evening.

Mrs. I. C. Maust planned a very pleasant surprise for her brother, Joe Norris who is a guest at her home and the plans were carried into effect on Tuesday evening. About twenty friends were present and they spent the evening in playing flinch, panic and other games. Dainty refreshments were served and the evening was one of much pleasure.

Henry Sanford, Fred Noah and Charles McCreary were responsible for a more than pleasant social dance given at Ryans hall on New Years eve. The floor was filled with merry dancers and they continued to enjoy themselves until long after the old year had given place to the new.

The Royal Highlanders met on Tuesday evening for the first time in the new hall in the Wahl building. At this meeting joint installatson was held, the following officers were installed. Geo. H. Fallstead, I. P.; Dr. C. H. Rush, C. C.; Mrs. V. E. Jones, W. E.; Robt. F. T. Prusse, treasurer; W. K. Knight, secretary; Fred Brecht, manager; Nellie Downs, warden; Mrs. Charles Loree, sentry. After the installation, refreshments were served.

The members of the Modern Woodmen of America and their families celebrated the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the order at the lodge rooms on Tuesday evening. The attendance was very large and the feature of the evening was the rendition of a very excellent program. The principal address was by Rev. Elmer Ward Cole and was listened to with rapt attention. The music was under the direction of Dr. Rush and formed a marked source of enjoyment for those who were present. There were also a number of recitations which were very clever. The program was rendered in the W. O. W. hall, the use of which had been secured for this occasion and at its conclusion those present adjourned to the Modern Woodman hall adjoining and then partook of the elaborate refreshments provided for the occasion. On this anniversary the local lodge of the Modern Woodmen of America finds itself in excellent condition. It has one hundred and twenty-six members; it owns free of debt one of the finest lodge rooms in the city and it has no outstanding indebtedness whatever. Its members are all enthusiastic and the future of the order in this city is very bright indeed.

Nemaha Vally Lodge No. 36 I. O. O. F. and Elizabeth Rebekah lodge kept open house on New Years day. The shades were closely drawn and the interior of the hall was lighted by many pink candles that shone forth from the smilax which was used in the decorative scheme. Cut flowers was also used with pleasing and artistic effect. Misses Dot Scott and Bessie Davis served chocolate and wafers and Mrs. Wm Uhlig and Miss Zola Jones served punch. Cigars were also provided for the gentlemen. Music was furnished by Harnack's orchestra. Many were the guests who called during the afternoon and from two until five the hall was the scene of picturesque animation.

In the evening the members of the two lodges reassembled at the hall and spent the evening in an informally social manner. A program was rendered consisting of music by Harnacks orchestra, a piano solo bo David Reavis, jr, a vocal solo by Miss Anna Dor- rington, a recitation by Miss Grace Miner and a piano solo by Miss Zola Jones. Lunch was then served, after which those present enjoyed themselves by participating in various games and in dancing to the music of the orchestra.
