Anyhow, He Tried.

The dinner was given by a colored man named Ebenezer White, and the guest of the evening was George Washington Creen, chief deacon of the little church that White occasionally attended.

Grace, of course, was eloquently said, and at its conclusion Mr. White began to carve the chicken. Then Deacon Green became facetious.

"Bradder White," he smilingly re-marked, "do dat nex'-do' neighbor ob you'n keep chickens?"

"No, sah," came the prompt re-sponse of Mr. White, as he deftly pried loose a well-roasted wing; "but he try hard 'auff to keep 'em!"

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS WHEN BLADDER BOTHERS

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids-Splendid for the System.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call because they can't control urina-While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four sances of Jad Salis from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a gliss water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

PUZZLED OVER NAVY

War Lessons Leave Uncertainty as to What to Do.

American Students of Naval Affairs Will Have Much to Learn From European War-May Change Whole System.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

(Staff Correspondent Western Newspaper Union.) Washington.—Congress was at sea for some time to know what it should do for the navy. It is still at sea as to whether or not what it is doing and has done are the right things to do.

Here is the trouble: The navy de-partment made its recommendations for battleships and smaller craft prior to the time that any naval lessons had been learned as the result of sea fights between nations now at war. The naval committee of the house of representatives amplified the building program of the navy department, adding thereto several ships of war of vari-ous kinds. Now it is admitted that the sea lessons of the present war may tend to prove that the kind of ships which are to be authorized will not meet the requirements of the lessons learned from the fighting now going

In the navy department today every detail of recurring sea engagements is being studied closely. The battle between the British ships Lion, Tiger, New Zealand and others, and the Ger-man ships Bluecher, Moltke, Derfflinger and the others seems to have shown, so American naval officers say, the su-periority of fast ships of the battle cruiser class with a certain number of big guns, over smaller ships with a much larger number of guns of slightly smaller caliber.

The information concerning the battles between English and German vessels in the South Pacific, South Atlantic and in the North sea is not as full as it might be, but the service men are able to read between the lines and they get a lot of material out of meager reports in which laymen might not be able to find anything, even if they applied a microscope. The war is still going on and as in all human probability there will be more sea fights before it is over there will be plenty of lessons yet to be learned by the American students of naval affairs. Navy men say it is possible when the European war ends that there will be a complete change of ship building procedure on the part of all the nations of the world. of all the nations of the world.

IS CHECK ON DEATH IN WAR

Progress in Surgery and Sanitation Reduces the Fatalities in Mod-ern Warfare.

Amsterdam.—Contrary to the popular impression that modern wars result in a greater number of deaths than those of the past, the opposite is true, according to an article repro-duced in the Tijd. It is pointed out that this is largely due to the progress in surgery, the use of efficacious anti-septics, the great development of modern army sanitation and the high effi-ciency of the medical troops. Beginning with the Seven Years' war, the number of deaths in battle and from wounds received have decreased in the following percentages: Saven Years' War, 42; Napoleonic wars, 35; Crimean war, 15; Italian war, 10; Franco-Prussian war, 14; war, 10; Franco-Frinalan war, 14; Chinese war, 10; Anglo-Boer war, 9; Manchurian war, 25; Turco-Bulgarian campaign, 12; Turco-Servian cam-paign, 10; Turco-Greek campaign, 8,

The tendency of modern wars to show a constantly diminishing number of deaths is indicated by some of the most important battles of these and other campaigns, as the following list of percentages of the losses through death during or after the action shows: Borodino, 30; Austerlitz, 25; Waterloo, 17; Solferino, 12; Mukden, Lule-Burgas, 12.
