

WHITE OAKS

Ray and Nettie Lemons entertained company from the county seat on last Sabbath.

About everybody in town with a gasoline tank on wheels was out exercising it on the road last Sunday.

There are now twenty-one automobiles owned in and around White Oaks and all of them standing in a row would not create half the excitement that Sol Wiener did chugging into town with his little one horse power gas cart five or six years ago.

Judge Medler and Major Llewellyn came up Sunday with Col. Prichard to look over the latter's mining properties here. These claims consist of the Rip Van Winkle and Comstock and lie near the center of the gold belt and contiguous to the mines lately sold.

The transfer of the Wild Cat mining properties was completed the fore part of the week, the second installment of money paid and the deed made and placed in escrow awaiting the final completion of the deal. The mines and mill are now running under the new management and everything is again assuming its usual activity. The Old Abe and the Wilson properties were taken over about a week ago and Mr. Weightman, the new owner, will shortly be on the ground to start things on a larger and busier scheme, it is to be hoped.

A blaze and a scare was created here a few days ago by the burning of a stable occupied by Will Owens. A small boy and a match was the starter. The building and two loads of hay, one of which had been stored not more than ten minutes before, went up in flame and smoke before half the people could get within standing room. The outside of the Owens dwelling was somewhat overdone on the high side, but a persistent sprinkling of water from the buckets and cans saved it for future use.

OSCURO

Mrs. Howland has gone to El Paso to spend the winter months.

Mr. Hewitt and Ray Stoddard spent Sunday at home.

E. F. Jones and Earl Black who are serving on the jury at Carrizozo spent Sunday at home.

The So and Sew club met with Miss Monroe October 23d. This item was overlooked in the last week's items.

Mrs. Hewitt has returned home after spending several days with her husband on the water service cars.

Last Saturday night the Perritt home was broken into while the family were absent. The principal object of the burglars seemed confined to carrying off foodstuff only.

Services were held at the school house Sunday, October 31, by Rev. E. D. Lewis of Carrizozo. We are informed that there will be another meeting held here sometime in the near future.

A most enjoyable Hallowe'en party was held at the school house October 30th. The first part of the evening was taken up by a program rendered by the school children, after which dancing was participated in. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening and all departed professing to have been well entertained by the various ghosts and witches.

NOGAL

Deputy Sheriff John Baird was in Nogal last Monday subpoenaing more witnesses for the court.

Quite a scope of country has been burned near the foot of the Vera Cruz mountains on the south side.

The orchardists in this vicinity are all very busy gathering their apple crop. The apples this year are as nice as heart could wish.

Mrs. May Gatewood having secured a divorce from James Gatewood was united in marriage last week to Boyd Zumwalt in Carrizozo Judge Ed. Massie officiating.

Mr. Robinson of the Helen Rae and American mines has gone east to purchase concentrator machinery for the Nogal mining district. There is a lot of ore here that will pay to concentrate.

M. B. May has sold his entire apple crop delivered at Walnut station for sixty cents per box, so we learn. This is a very fair price considering the quantity of apples in the country.

A splendid little home 5 miles from Albuquerque, N. M. 11 acres under fence, 8 1-2 acres in alfalfa yields from 4 to five crops each year. This is on the upper ditch and always gets first water on the ditch, there is outside range for stock adjoining this place, place is equipped with a good 4 room adobe house, and barn 40 by 80 feet has a small orchard of choice fruits. Price $25.00 terms $500.00 down balance to suit purchaser.—Stadtman & Byron.

STREETS OF MANY LEVELS

Time May Come When Multiple Roadways Will Be Matter of Necessity.

Fifty years ago the notion of a 20-story building would have seemed extravagant. Now it is commonplace. We have with us some prophets who talk about the city of the future as a place of many stories. We have now but one level of streets. They foretell many levels, the Portland Oregonian states. Perhaps there will be a plane of streets for every floor in the big buildings. The streets will be laid on concrete arches and lighted by electricity. Keeping them clean will not be much of a task because no horses will be permitted upon them, nothing but gasoline trucks. The horse, amiable and useful creature that he is, must be blamed as the great defiler of the streets. When he has taken his final farewell of the world, dirt and flies will vanish too. The need of some such modification in municipal architecture has become apparent. In a few years it will be pressing. Few single streets are wide enough to accommodate the population of the big buildings which border them in the busy quarters of our cities. There is always congestion, turmoil and delay when the cave dwellers pour out in a body. In case of a great fire there would be terrible panic and destruction of life. Besides all that, there is great loss of time in continually going from the top to the bottom of high buildings. The elevator service is usually exemplary, but it cannot work miracles. With streets connecting all the tenth stories of the same city with one another the dwellers at that altitude would constitute an independent community. There would be another set of streets at the fifteenth story and still others higher up and lower down. Business would naturally tend to segregate its departments on different levels and an endless saving of time and toll would ensue.
