

LEGISLATORS ARE BUSY

Santa Fe, N. M., May 31 — The ancient capital city is a busy place today, as the legislature, after adjourning over because of Memorial day, starts upon the final stretch confronted by every important piece of legislation on the calendar and with but a few days to enact it.

The indications still remain as gloomy as ever for a finance bill or a county salaries bill. The house and the senate are far apart on these two important measures. The house bills are excessive from the senate view and the senate bills are not generous enough from the house view.

The city today is filled with visitors from all over the state. There are county officers from nearly every county in the state; there are big delegations of boosters asking for the passage of the Holt good roads bills now on the senate calendar, and there are any variety of lobbyists for some one hundred various measures.

The committees of the senate and house worked a portion of yesterday on pending bills. No new bills can now be presented in either house under the ten day limitation imposed by the constitution so the battle narrows down to the bills on hand.

It is apparent that no further action is likely to be taken on prize fight legislation of any kind at this session, despite the message from the governor asking for a law prohibiting prize fighting. The anti-prize fight bill was not reported Wednesday despite the efforts of some of the Democrats to force the Republicans to show their hand. In fact the outlook at this time is not bright for any important legislation although the usual rumors were current over the holiday that a final Republican legislative program would be adopted and rushed through the senate and the house. Owing to the absence of some of the members of the legislature on Decoration day, who took advantage of the occasion to visit elsewhere, and who will return today, not much headway was made in some of the committees.

The senate will probably pass the Holt good roads bills before the week ends and the fight for their enactment will then be centered on the house.

Dr. J. I. Seder of Albuquerque, a representative of the Anti-Saloon League, lectured to a large audience in the Baptist church Sunday morning. The meeting had not been advertised and it is doubtful if many people were present who were not in entire accord with the speaker, but his talk was interesting and no doubt encouraging to those present.

Judge Medler was here today on his way north, and during his brief stay signed orders for some of the attorneys in cases they had on hand. During the last term of court the Judge expressed his intention of holding court in chambers about once in each month in each county of the district to sign orders and dispose of routine matters, but so far he has been so busy that he could not do this. However, he said today that he thought he would be able to visit Estancia for this purpose some time between now and the convening of court in September.

MOUNTAINAIR

Is Socialism an insidious menace or is it the next logical step in social evolution? Individuals differ but the question is pressing for solution and thinking men, not only in this country but all over the world, are setting themselves to the task. In the past Socialists have charged the church with evasion and ministers with cowardice in handling this subject but the charge can be true only in degree. Some of the ministers are meeting the challenge, one way or the other and whenever they do they no longer speak to empty pews. Rev. B. F. Summers, the Methodist pastor, spoke Sunday night on the subject, "Is Socialism Opposed to Christianity" and there was no evasion on his part. He met the issue squarely and to some of his audience the doctrine of Socialism, as explained by him, was somewhat in the nature of a surprise. He defined Socialism as the "Co-operative ownership of all the means of production, distribution and exchange," as opposed to the present competitive system and then he analyzed Christianity and showed that essentially, Socialism and Christianity were identical and that one implied the other. His statement that the practice of Christianity was an impossibility under the present methods of business evoked considerable discussion and possibly some real hard thinking. He will preach the same sermon at Estancia Sunday night June 9.

R. D. Stevenson has bought the R. O. Locke place in Baranca canon and will try ranch life a while, driving back and forth to his business.

J. A. Beal brought his whiskers down from the Manzano ranch to spend Sunday with home folks.

The Mountainair Mining company is getting ready to continue development work on its property in the Pine Shadow camp. Only two men are working at present but more will be added at once and the work pushed.

Things move on—Last summer was the hottest—last winter the coldest. The Mississippi has been higher than ever known. There is war in Mexico, Turkey, Italy, Persia and India. Tornadoes, floods, mine disasters, railroad wrecks, and the sinking of the Titanic. Woman's suffrage in six states in the U. S., in Norway, Switzerland, New Zealand and Australia. Initiative Referendum and Recall in nine states, and in Switzerland, New Zealand and part of Australia. China has made some wonderful strides. The women of Turkey have adapted Parisian fashions. There is a great world wide movement toward liberalism and democracy. And Roosevelt is in the ring three times—and Bryan our times—What next?

Mrs. Lizzie Smith who is in charge of the Cottage Sanitarium here, has three guests from near Pittsburg, Pa. Miss D. H. Patton, Miss Edith Morrison and Miss Teem. They are delighted with our country and climate.

Mrs. W. M. McCoy has returned home after a few months' visit in the Capital city.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

The wonder of baking powders—Calumet. Wonderful in its raising powers—its uniformity, its never failing results, its purity.

Wonderful in its economy. It costs less than the high-price trust brands, but it is worth as much. It costs a trifle more than the cheap and big can kinds—it is worth more. But proves its real economy in the baking.

Use CALUMET—the Modern Baking Powder.
