

Wachapreague Business, there is next to none. Fishermen have become disgusted with the small catch of fish, and have turned their attention to the clam business, which proves more lucrative.

Mr. A. B. LeCato is rapidly growing rich. He considers himself $1,000 richer to-day than Monday, in consequence of the arrival in his family of a fine little girl.

Matules is all the rage here, old and young alike, seemingly have gone crazy over this innocent, and child-like game. "Play you for knucks" is the popular phrase.

Mrs. Arthur Bowden and children, daughter-in-law of Mr. Severn Bowden, of Baltimore, will occupy for the summer months, the "Custis" property so beautifully located on the banks of the quick and sanguine Wachapreague River.

The Union, T. S. School will celebrate "Children's Day" on Sunday June 28th inst. An interesting program, consisting of alternative and concert readings, addresses, recitations, and singing by the children, will interest and edify all who may avail themselves of the privilege of attending upon the occasion.

Mr. G. A. Fox, of Wachapreague has associated with him in the mercantile business, his brother, Mr. Jno. Fox. Young men so active and enterprising cannot fail to receive their share of the public patronage.

In a match game of baseball between "lady nines" of Onancock and Drummondtown, at Onancock on last Saturday, the infants, who represented the Shire town, came out second best by a score of 3 to 12.

A member of the firm of Fletcher & Parazore will visit Chincoteague the week preceding every county court to give their attention to matters in the line of their profession in that locality.

Dinah Winder a very respectable old colored woman, honored and trusted in the ante bellum days as a faithful and efficient servant, died at her home near Drummondtown last Tuesday, aged about 75 years.

Mr. W. E. Doughty, of the firm of R. P. Bayley & Co., visits us this week. No one "on the road" is more popular with our people or receives more orders from our merchants. Favours in our opinion could not be bestowed upon a firm or commercial tourist, more deserving.

Mr. A. Parker, proprietor of the Peninsula Hotel at Salisbury, Md., will have a hotel erected shortly in our town. Bids of builders in Maryland and Virginia have been invited. Plans and specifications furnished to contractors show that the new building is to be large, conveniently arranged and a sightly structure.

We invite the attention of shippers of produce to the card of M. W. Gladding, Baltimore. He has had a long experience in the commission business and believe is prepared to secure highest prices for produce. His reference in advertisement is first class, and we believe him in every respect worthy of the patronage of our farmers.

A "Cantata" will be rendered at the Masonic Hall, Drummondtown, on Monday, 22nd inst. All those who wish to enjoy a grand musical treat are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served in the lower room of the Hall after the entertainment. Doors open at 7:30; performance commences at 8:30.

Decision in the case of Bates against the N. Y. P. & N. R. R., was rendered by Judge Gunter on the 12th inst., in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $250. In this case, suit was instituted by Bates to recover $20,000 for services as secretary and treasurer of said road for several years before the building of it was commenced.

Messrs. Ellison & Harvey, Richmond, Va., advertise through our columns in this issue and with Messrs. G. F. Parker & Co., as sole agents for our town province to dispense the beverage sometimes taken for the stomach's sake known as "Old Durham Whiskey." A chemist's analysis appended to advertisement shows it to be free of poisonous drugs.

Photographs of several objects of interest, in our town taken by Mr. U. H. Painter, of Washington, a few days ago, have been forwarded us. They are handsomely gotten up, and the objects they are intended to represent could not have been more accurately portrayed. The gentleman has our sincere thanks for the favor received at his hands.

Hodson & Co., W. O. Rogers & Co., Chapin Bros., Patch & Roberts, Rice & Holwar, commission merchants of Boston, each and all of them, we can very cordially commend to our farmers as first-class in every respect. We have informed ourselves as to the standing of each firm and know whereof we speak.

Mr. H. P. James, Sr., of Occoquan, is reported seriously ill. John Willis' baby seriously ill of late is better. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Walkley left by train on Wednesday for Philadelphia, on a protracted visit to friends in that city.

West & Willis have just received another supply of dry goods, consisting of lawns at 5 cents up, gingham, worsted, white goods, etc., also furniture.

A building boom is prevailing in our midst. A new dwelling has been erected by G. L. Doughty, Trower's storehouse has been rebuilt and enlarged, the dwelling of Capt. D. R. Myster is being repainted and three more new dwellings are to be built during the summer.

Saxes' Island. Dwellings are being erected by Decatur Linton and Welly Young.

Our church is to receive a coat of paint soon and to be enclosed. Dredging vessels are being purchased by some of our citizens and put in order for the coming season.

A temperance sermon will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Wallace, to the two tents of Rehalites of Saxes, and Pocomoke at Sanford Church on 28th inst.

The School census taken here last week by Mr. John D. Parsons, showed that Saxes' school population was one hundred.

Our oystermen are not "laying on their oars" this summer as in previous years, but have turned their attention to catching clams and find it lucrative employment.

Our heavy weight doctor draws the reins on the fastest colt in our section. A Bonnie Scotland.

The fishing crews of Bunting's factory succeeded on Tuesday in leading their boats with black drum fish. They counted about one thousand. Thus far no Menhaden have been taken.

Our public school has closed. Some of the pupils have been preparing to enter other schools during the coming scholastic year. Miss George Tracy goes to Onancock, and Master Aug. Wheaton and Jo Kenney to Dover.

Mr. Editor—Your paper of last week contains a letter signed "X," giving to the N. Y. Post an account of this peninsula and people. It is rather interesting—but its pharisaism and general impertinence. Among other most interesting items, he details a speech by a "railroad magnate" to the gaping crowd he was "deputed to address."

As became a magnate his gravity was owl like, his impudence corresponding to his station, and "he was very frank with them." He with one fell blow "took all the starch out of them." With awful majesty he addressed his trembling auditors. "You are incorrigibly lazy," "this is your great trouble," and "you are wedded to parties." How awful that audience felt as Magnate scowled! Well, he, the Magnate, who by virtue of the fact that he is a Magnate, and "a railroad magnate," is able to say what no other man ever presumed to say. But the trouble with Magnate, or his Boswell, is that the statement is untrue.

Magnate lashing away thunders, "you are in a rut and lack the knowledge, courage and enterprise to climb out." Here is a medium of truth—and let us accept it. We are not "in a rut," but "the railroad will bring new ideas and new methods." Our people are slowly and cautiously advancing because they "have no money to spend in experiments," yet they are pushing on. Hundreds of acres one year ago in corn and potatoes are being laid down in fruits, and preparing for the trucks. With supercilious impudence Magnate says we "are patiently waiting for some northern man to come down and teach us." Well, some have been here—and of these many are as good citizens as we have—but we have thus far learned from them only how to lose money farming after their fashion.

Despite Magnate, X, et al omne of that ilk, our people will "climb out of the rut," and through that road an almost free gift in lands of this people to its builders we shall with a "knowledge, courage and enterprise" roused by the opportunity, develop into a garden our country so blessed by climate and soil. Still, we must remember we have to "climb out the rut." Let us not be afraid, because of the mendacious and ignorant giles of Magnate, X, & Co., to look over our affairs squarely in the face. Gather wisdom, as the bee honey whenever it can best be had even from Magnate when he may show it—gather it and garner it, and apply it to make our waste places glad and our productive land mines of gold. If we are behind the times let us squarely face the disagreeable fact, and to the triumphant music of a new departure bravely seek and apply the remedy. If there are northern men, with capital, brains, "knowledge, courage and enterprise," who desire to cast their lot with us let us heartily welcome them; and if they can "come down and teach us" so much the better. Let us learn "what they know about farming."

KEBOTANK. Dr. James D. Pitts, who was convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Dr. Walter, on Tangier Island, and sentenced by the Elizabeth City County Court to eighteen years in the penitentiary, was brought to this city Thursday evening and lodged in jail. He was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court, and will be tried in the Norfolk County Court, his counsel succeeding in having the case removed to this county. The trial was to come off this month, but Hon. John Gooch, one of the attorneys for the prosecution, will not be able to be away from Washington at the time, and therefore it has been postponed to July.—Norfolk Virginian, June 13.

N. Y. P. & N. R. R. The Philadelphia News, after saying that there are "panhandle" lines, "air" lines, "grapevine" lines, & c., suggests that the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad be called the "strawberry" line. Very good, as far as it goes but it is not comprehensive enough. It is pushing through a vast amount of vegetables and fruits.—Norfolk Ledger.

Notice to Shippers. Messrs. J. C. Justis & Co., of Hunting Creek, have put their wharf in good repair and are now prepared to receive freight. One of their schooners will leave every Saturday and Tuesday for Baltimore. Empty barrels will be furnished shippers, and no charge made on money letters.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE AND MILL FOR SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION. By virtue of the authority vested in me, by the last will and testament of John R. Drummond, deceased, I shall, as the executor therein named, offer for sale at Public Auction, on Thursday, the 9th day of July, at 3 p. m., on the premises, the following valuable real estate and mill property, situated at Wiseville, of which said John R. Drummond died, seized and possessed.

1. A valuable water grist and saw mill known as Drummond's mill.

2. A tract of land containing about 80 acres, especially adapted to the growth of trucks, well timbered, with almost inexhaustible resources and improved by a good dwelling and all necessary out-buildings.

3. A small parcel of land and a storehouse located thereon; a first-class site for the sale of merchandise, and business carried on successfully there for many years.

4. A parcel of land containing 20 acres with dwelling thereon.

5. Two small parcels of land with small houses thereon.

The property advertised is four miles from Accomac C. H., and one mile from Leemont, and will be offered for sale as a whole and not as subdivided in description given above.

TERMS OF SALE. Five per centum of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale, the residue in three equal installments in six, twelve and eighteen months from the day of sale, with interest from the 1st day of January, A. D. 1886, secured by bonds of the purchaser with satisfactory personal security thereto. Purchaser to be at liberty to anticipate said deferred payments and to have a conveyance of the premises at his own expense when all the purchase money is paid. Possession to be given of the premises on January 1st, 1886, and all rents from said real estate or said mill property during the year 1885 are expressly reserved.

Premises are to be at risk of purchaser from the time the same are bid off. Given under my hand this 9th day of June, 1885. FLETCHER DRUMMOND, Executor.

NOTICE. Take notice that on the 13th day of June 1885, I shall apply to the Circuit Court of Accomac county, Virginia, for an order directing that the funds under the control of the court belonging to Mabel Adair, Edwina Adair and John Adair, infant children of Edwin L. Adair, deceased, said funds being the proceeds of their real and personal estate, be transferred to me as their foreign guardian, with authority to me to remove the same out of the State of Virginia and to the State of Delaware in which latter State the said infants reside, and to place under my control and management all bonds, notes and other evidences of debt belonging to said infants.
