

THIRD DAY OF BIBLE CONFERENCE

Great Crowd Thronged to Hear the Blessed Word of God.

THREE FINE SERVICES

Rev. Dr. Sullen Preached in the Morning, Dr. Blackstone Lectured in the Afternoon, and in the Evening Dr. Stewart Entertained the Audience.

The third day of the Winter Bible Conference was one of success, great crowds attending each service.

In the morning Rev. Dr. Sullen of Cleveland, Tenn., delivered an interesting sermon. In the afternoon Dr. W. E. Blackstone, one of the Conference favorites who made so many friends by his excellent work here last year, gave a lecture in the nature of a Bible study, and in the evening Rev. George Stewart spoke to a large and attentive crowd.

The Conference this year is going to prove a big success, and it is believed that much good work will be accomplished.

The Council Meeting.

There was an interesting meeting of the City Council Monday evening, being the regular monthly meeting.

There was present a full board, with President Broome in the chair.

Among the more important business transacted was the acceptance of a proposition from the Cemetery Association to turn over, or deed, the cemetery property, to the city, with the understanding that the city was to bear the expenses of taking care of same, which was accepted. This burden has formerly fallen upon the ladies, who formed a voluntary association and paid the expenses from charitable funds derived from various sources.

The matter of extending the free mail delivery was brought up, and it was learned that this service could not be extended unless the streets were properly posted and the houses properly numbered. The matter was referred to the street committee, with instructions to ascertain the cost of performing this work.

After the transaction of some other business the council adjourned.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 19th, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

WILL TELL WHAT THEY KNOW.

Kentucky Outlaws Surrender to Officers Without a Fight.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 7.—Moses B. Feltner, who is supposed to know much about the Breathitt county murders, and Sam Fields, who is supposed to know as much as Feltner says he know, are here in charge of Special Constable Dock Pigg in default of bail fixed at $500 and $200 respectively. The prisoners were brought here from Jackson.

Sheriff McCord and Deputy Stockley, accompanied from Jackson by Will Hurst, brother of Mrs. J. B. Marcum, went to Hazard, in Perry county, on Thursday night. Moses Feltner was there and submitted quietly to arrest. He told the officers that Sam Fields was at Mad Dog, 10 miles from Hazard, and if they would go by there Sam would go along with them. The party left Hazard at 9 o'clock Friday morning and shortly before noon reached Mad Dog. Fields welcomed them, and, throwing up his hands, said: "Boys, I surrender. I want the people to know the truth and I" tell it."

HAWTHORN HAPPENINGS.

No Damage to Orange Trees From Recent Cold—Personal Mention.

Hawthorn, Feb. 6.—The recent cold snap did no damage to the orange trees here in the groves which had been cared for. We thought that they would all shed the entire crop of leaves, but many may not. The white fly eggs seem to be all destroyed. The scale insect is also killed it seems. The leaves are beginning to droop since the rains of the past two days.

The farmers are rushing their farm work. Tractors were damaged, but are coming again. The cattle are in the best condition for years. We see no dead cows on our quail hunts.

The guests of Moore's Hotel are having fine sport shooting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knotts of Kansas City, Mo., are among the recent arrivals.

Gordan S. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moore, was recently married in Ripley, Tenn. He is here on his bridal trip visiting his parents. Mr. Moore is a rising business man of Ripley, and his wife was the charming and popular Miss Annie Tucker of the same city. They received 115 wedding presents, many very handsome and valuable. They will remain a month in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Waldo and Dr. Waldo of Berkshire, N. Y., are guests of Moore's Hotel.

The many friends of Ed. Greer of Jacksonville were much pleased to see him in our town last week.

The evenings at Moore's Hotel are much enjoyed. Cards, music, recitations and a tea party, a Welch rare bit or a quail roast add to the substantial features of these occasions. Last Tuesday a party of twenty-three went from the hotel to the famous Lochloosa Creek and had a fish fry. The fish and coffee and hot hoecake was a great treat.

The twelve-foot windmill and large tank and waterworks for Moore's Hotel was completed Saturday. F. J. Hammond will take water for his store for use and fire protection.

Big Fire at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 7.—Fire, which started in the wholesale commission house of Franklyn, Stiles & Franklyn destroyed property valued at $240,000. Assistance which had been asked from neighboring cities of Montgomery, Atlanta, Chattanooga and Gadsden was cancelled about 5 o'clock the necessity being obviated by the veering of the wind and a soaking rain. Two firemen were severely injured by falling walls. One of the smaller steamers exploded, but no casualties were connected with the latter accident.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women." Sold under guarantee by all druggists at 50c a bottle.

RISKY SURGERY.

Danger For the Doctor Who Inoculated Empress Catherine.

Inoculation against smallpox preceded the modern method of vaccination and was attended with a good deal of danger. Thomas Dimsdale was the foremost advocate of inoculation. He inoculated Empress Catherine of Russia. This was in 1768. There was considerable danger to life in undergoing this artificially induced disease. The czarina, therefore, arranged that during the whole course of the illness of her son and herself there should be relays of swift horses kept constantly ready attached to carriages all along the post road the nearest way out of Russia.

Catherine told Dimsdale that if bad symptoms displayed themselves he was not to remain to look after them, but to fly for his life without delay or compunction. She well knew that he would not be safe if she or the heir of Russia died in his hands.

She gave him an order of the most urgent kind on herself to the successive postmasters not to delay him for a minute on any pretext. Dimsdale received a fee of about $50,000 from the empress and other gifts besides.

I Was in Bed for Three Weeks

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered a great deal during Change of Life. I flowed steadily for eleven weeks, and it made me so weak I was in bed for three weeks. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, although it was against my doctor's will and I had to hide it. I took it regularly until I had taken five bottles, and it brought me out all right, a perfectly strong, well woman. The Bill Was Not in the Senate.

One of Senator Frye's scintillations as presiding officer, when the Philippine bill was near its passage in the senate, should not be lost to the world. Such measures, till perfected, are considered in committee of the whole, not in the senate, as the term goes. The distinction is of little popular significance, but of great parliamentary importance.

Senator Bacon, wishing to make a certain motion, was informed that the bill was not in the senate, but in committee of the whole.

"Oh, I thought we were in the senate," replied Mr. Bacon.

"We are in the senate," Mr. Frye responded, "but the bill is not."—Washington Post.

Henry VIII. and Puddings.

Bluff King Hal, otherwise Henry VIII. of England, was exceedingly fond of puddings. At one time he gave a certain Mistress Cornwallis a house in Algate for herself and her heirs forever "in reward of fine puddings." In King Henry VIII.'s private accounts occur again and again entries of his rewards to different housewives for bringing him puddings. A typical instance runs thus: "Item. The same day paid to the wife that made the king podings at Hampton corte, vis. viijd." This would be about $1.75, but its value was much greater when the entry was made. This love for "fine puddings" explains much in the familiar rotund figure of King Hal.

Ambiguous English.

"Have you ever tried to explain the various meanings of some of our English verbs to a foreigner?" asked a lady who employs many servants. "My German maid went to the drug store the other day for some headache medicine and returned very much puzzled. "The man say, 'Will you take it or shall I send it?' she reported. 'Eef he do not send it, how can I take it?'"

Just Like a Woman.

Ma Twaddles—Tommy, you've been a bad boy today, and I shall tell your father all about it when he comes home. Tommy Twaddles—Aw, that's jest like a woman—can't keep a secret, can you?—Cleveland Leader.
