St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—The strike has broken out afresh at the Putiloff iron works. All the men walked out today. Troops have again been requisitioned to patrol the Putiloff strike zone.

Grand Duke Vladimir, commander of the military district of St. Petersburg, has issued an order of the day ordering the trial by courtmartial of Captain Davidoff, of the Seventeenth battery of the First regiment of horse artillery of the guards, and three other officers and three men of the First battery artillery brigade, in connection with the firing in the direction of Emperor Nicholas of a charge of case-shot at the ceremony of blessing the Neva Jan. 19.

The Grand Duchess Elizabeth has been appointed commander of the Fifth Kiev grenadiers in succession to the late Grand Duke Sergius.

The decision of the North Sea commission has not yet been officially made public here, although it is understood that word has been communicated to the foreign office and admiralty. While the prevailing impression from foreign dispatches is that the Russian squadron under the circumstances was justified in firing on the trawlers, and there is consequent rejoicing over the discomfiture of the British. Another version of the verdict comes from Paris from a private source, according to which the committee found that the firing was not justified and fixed the responsibility on Admiral Rojestvensky.

It is reported that Maxim Gorky, the Russian author and leader of the reform party, who was imprisoned in connection with the rioting in St. Petersburg, will be released today on $2,500 bail.

War in the Balkans.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—The latest private reports from the Caucasus say trouble has broken out at Balkanhan, near Baku. The military force of the whole region is declared to be inadequate to suppress the disorder, and a spreading of the racial contest is generally anticipated. Pohl cannot be reached by telephone. Thousands of Armenians are said to be leaving Baku and Batoum. The Armenians and Musulmans are practically in a state of open war.

Warsaw, Feb. 25.—The police of this city threaten to strike for higher pay. They constitute an independent force paid by the city and receive $6 per month and their uniforms. The police subsist chiefly on money obtained from other sources. They will present formal demands for an increase of pay to the chief of police tomorrow.

The operating departments of the Warsaw division of the St. Petersburg railway struck but the train service is maintained with the aid of the army railroad corps.

The Vienna and Vistula railroad continues tied up. The military occupy the gas works the employees of which threaten to strike tonight.

A policeman was shot and killed by a student in a disturbance at the Vienna railroad station today. The police attempted to disperse the great crowds which had gathered there and arrested a student. The mob tried to rescue him, and a policeman drew his sword, whereupon a student killed him and disappeared in the crowd.

Cossacks and infantrymen are guarding the telegraph lines of the Warsaw and St. Petersburg railroad fearing that the strikers will cut off communication between the two cities.

The mails from Warsaw to Lodz, a distance of 60 miles, have to be delivered in carts.

Railroad strikers of Lodz are coming here to attend a conference with the strikers of Warsaw are obliged to travel by road.

TUNNEL THROUGH ALPS DONE.

Work Has Been in Progress for Ten Years--Will Open March 20.

Gondo, Switzerland, Feb. 25.—Piercing of the Simplon tunnel through the Alps was completed at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The work was commenced in 1895.

The meeting of the two boring parties—Swiss and Italian—was signalled throughout the Switzerland by ringing of church bells and salutes by cannon.

Many unexpected obstacles were encountered, the most serious being Hot Springs, which threatened to wreck the whole enterprise, and a temperature which at one time rose to 131 degrees Fahrenheit, making a continuance of the work impossible until the workers found means of cooling the atmosphere.

Now that the borers have met it will enable the water accumulated in the north gallery to be drawn off.

The work of preparing the tunnel for a permanent way will be pushed as rapidly as possible and it is hoped to inaugurate the tunnel about March 20.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The senate committee on interstate commerce today agreed to report a resolution asking that the committee be authorized to sit during the recess of congress and take testimony for the purpose of preparing some measure for the regulation of railroad rates.

A subcommittee consisting of senators Foraker, Kean and Carmack met immediately and drafted the resolution.

It provides that the full committee or quorum of the committee meets immediately after adjournment of the present session and at the convenience of the committee report to the next session.

In the Senate.

The senate began proceedings today by adopting a resolution reported by Mr. Lodge from the committee on rules, directing the sergeant at arms not to permit flowers to be brought into the senate chamber. The senate then took up the naval appropriation bill to secure at this time action on the provisions to which there is no objection.

The reading of the naval bill had not been completed when 10 minutes before 12 o'clock Mr. Beveridge was recognized to renew his motion for the appointment of the conferees on the joint statehood bill. There was at the time no objection to the motion, but Mr. Teller said that he would desire 15 minutes' time to state some facts which had recently come to his attention regarding conditions in the Indian Territory.

NEGRO KILLS TWO WOMEN.

His wife and Mother-in-Law Are His Victims--Escapes Lynching.

Atlanta, Feb. 25.—When Frank Strong, a negro who lives at 57 Old Wheat street, was carried to the police barracks yesterday morning about 2 o'clock, covered with blood, and an ax, red with blood, was carried with him, he stood charged with one of the most brutal murders ever committed in the city. In fact, it will probably be a double murder, for his second victim now lies at the Grady hospital in a dying condition. The woman he killed was Ella Johnson, the mother of his wife, and the woman who is dying is his wife.

Strong assaulted the two women as they lay in bed together. He was angry because his wife had left home, and he went to the house where she and her mother were asleep and had with him a heavy and keen-edged ax which had recently been sharpened.

When he was near the bedside of the women he began to strike them on the head, in the face and about the body with his murderous weapon. The women screamed until their cries were silenced by the falling ax, which each time drank blood.

When the police arrived on the scene a crowd of angry negroes were preparing to lynch the murderer, and the officers had no little trouble in rescuing the prisoner.

At the police barracks, just after his arrest, Strong seemed to be dazed and he looked like a man who had been through some terrible ordeal, and was just recovering from its effects. When asked about his crime, he said in a disconnected way:

"Yes, I hit them with the ax. I just kept on hitting them until they stopped hollering. I did it because my wife didn't treat me right."

MISSISSIPPI CAPITAL MAY HAVE LYNCHING

Young White Woman Victim of Brutal Assault.

EXCITEMENT AT A WHITE HEAT

Governor Vardaman Orders Out Mil- itia and Is Personally in Command.

Mob Listened to His Appeal in Sil- ence--Negro Church Is Burned.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 25.—The excitement aroused late last night over the assault on Miss Mamie Marsh by a negro, continued today, its effect being heightened by the burning of a negro church early today.

The flames are believed to have been of incendiary origin.

A negro with blood on his clothing and scratches on his face has been arrested, and the police believe they have the right man. The negro has been put in the city jail, which is surrounded by the local company of militia, called out last night by Governor Vardaman.

It is thought the negro will be taken before Miss Marsh some time during the day, should her condition permit, for identification.

The city is apparently quiet, but there is much suppressed excitement.

While hundreds of white men are systematically searching the homes of every negro in the city, hunting for a negro man who assaulted the young white woman, with the avowed intention of burning him to death, Governor Vardaman is working hard to prevent a lynching in the capital of the state.

When the news of the crime reached him the governor sent his friends all over the town as emissaries of law and order, telling them to plead with every man they met to allow the law to take its course. Then he started on a personal campaign. Charging up and down the main street he expostulated with every group of men on the corners and used every argument at his command to induce them to disperse. The governor soon saw his efforts were likely to prove unavailing, and finally went with the rapidly increasing mob to the court house, where, according to rumors, the young woman's assailant was under guard.

The reports were unfounded but the mob refused to believe the sheriff, and began making demonstrations.

Governor Vardaman, after instructing the sheriff and his deputies to defend the prisoner to the last, if he should be brought to them, mounted the steps and began an impassioned address. He declared the law provided fit and proper punishment for the crime in question, assure the citizens of Jackson that there would be no delay in carrying into effect, and pleaded with them to allow the law to take its course.

The governor offered to pay $500 for the arrest of the negro, provided he was delivered alive to the authorities. His appeal was listened to in silence.

The local military company has been ordered out and under the governor's personal direction will be used to protect the prisoner, if he is captured.

Miss Mamie Marsh was going home from the state house when she was seized from behind by a negro, and dragged into a yard of a residence. She was beaten into insensibility and may die from her injuries.

BRIDEGROOM HANGS HIMSELF.

His Sister-in-Law Laughed and Offered Him a Rope.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 25.—Michael Panguoz, a young baker, who had been married but a few months, hanged himself in the woodshed after a bitter quarrel with his bride and her sister. His brief marriage life had been rather stormy, and when he announced that he would hang himself his sister-in-law burst out laughing and got a clothes-line, which she handed to him, telling him he could not do it too quickly.

Panguoz declined the rope, but went out to the shed and cutting enough scraps of skin from a frozen half pork made a rope and hanged himself to a rafter.
