

GAINESVILLE IS ON VERGE OF BIG BOOM

Not a Cyclone of Prosperity, But Something That Will Stay.

MUCH BUILDING CONTEMPLATED

The Municipal Improvements, the Erection of University and Private Buildings and Other Matters, Will Attract People Here.

And real estate continues to move—especially westward, since the University of Florida has been located in that section. There is no section of the city, however, where real estate is not desirable, and those who own property and desire to sell experience no trouble in getting rid of their belongings in this direction.

The Sun made mention Sunday of a valuable deal which had been made to J. B. Fowler of Lenocon, which included the transfer of a desirable building lot on the corner of Alachua and Palmetto avenues, stating that Mr. Fowler proposed at an early date to erect a handsome residence thereon.

There were two other deals on Saturday, though they were not made public until Monday. C. A. Colclough purchased from Robert McClellan a tract of five acres at Green Sink, immediately adjoining the new University grounds, which it is understood brought a good figure. T. B. Ellis sold the same day to W. K. Wilson, immediately adjoining this property, a fifteen-acre tract. Both tracts are very valuable, especially owing to their close proximity to the University grounds, and the purchasers intend to improve the same by erecting cottages for rental purposes.

While The Sun cannot at present disclose the information, it is learned upon good authority that a ten-acre tract situated on Liberty street immediately north of the University grounds has been purchased by a wealthy gentleman from South Florida who will move his family here, and who proposes to erect a $12,000 home and beautify the grounds in proportion.

While Gainesville has enjoyed prosperity all along, it is assured that the city is just now on the eve of a season of prosperity which will increase the size and population of the city from fifty to seventy-five per cent within the next twelve months. The great amount of public improvements and building promises to attract a large number of people here, which naturally means the distribution of considerable money.

WILL LOOK AFTER BOARD.

Board of Trade Appoints Committee to Entertain Educational Visitors.

At a recent meeting of the Gainesville Board of Trade, which was well attended, the matter of looking after the comfort of the visiting members of the Board of Education and the Board of Control, collectively and individually, was discussed, and the following committee was appointed to serve permanently for this purpose:

Senator H. H. McCreary, W. N. Wilcox, Perry M. Colson, A. M. Cushman, J. Harrison Hodges, Dr. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., Marcus Endel, L. C. Lynch, T. F. Thomas and John B. Dell.

The selection was a good one, and it is needless to assure the people of Gainesville that the members of the boards will be well cared for when visiting the city.

ARREDONDO.

Business is Good—Crops Are Fine. Local and Personal Items.

Arredondo, July 17.—S Spalding Smith, who has been suffering from typhoid fever, is able to sit up a short time each day.

Venable & Swearingen, turpentine, saw mill and wood contractors, are enlarging their commissary and building a new office. J. O. Smith, their former bookkeeper, has taken the position again.

Frequent showers have interfered with the gathering of corn fodder.

W. M. Bagaley and family of Arredondo have moved to Jacksonville.

John Holly is putting in several acres of potatoes.

The cotton crop is in good condition. Business is very good here. Sales are fairly large and collections easy.

Miss Beatrice Daniel, the efficient trained nurse, has returned to Jacksonville, after a sojourn of two months in Gainesville and Arredondo. While attending to her duties, she has, by her method and manner, won the confidence and respect of her patients and their friends.

LIVING TOO HASTILY

AMERICAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but what suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacement of the womb, spinal weakness or ovarian troubles.

Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—womb trouble.

Read this letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my health and brought on extreme nervousness and despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. Day by day I improved in health while taking it until I was entirely cured. I can attend to my social and household duties and thoroughly enjoy life once more, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, without an ache or a pain."
—Mrs. Chester Curry, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular menstruation, pain in the side, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues," secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

REPLY TO DR. KELLEY.

The Discussion of Prof. Ormond Brought to a Close.

Editor Sun: Replying to Dr. Kelley's "open letter" of recent date I beg to assure that gentleman of my appreciation of his advice so kindly given, and his high (?) sentiments so freely expressed. But since, as I stated in my former article, I am not making a personal fight on Dr. Kelley, and since he has seen fit to place the discussion on that plane, I must withdraw from it out of self-respect.

Were I to express my personal and political opinion of Dr. Kelley, as he has of me, the article would not look well in print. I charged the genial Doctor with prejudiced partiality, and since he has not attempted to clear himself my purpose is accomplished. As to the "sacred institutions and customs," which he says I am violating, by teaching as principal of a faculty of white teachers, a training school for colored teachers, I have only to say that they have likewise been violated by Sheats, Holloway, Bucholtz, Murphree, Williams, Lynch, Yocum, Miss Clem Hampton, Mrs. Hamilton, and several others as far my intellectual superiors as I am Dr. Kelley's. If this be a crime, Dr. Kelley is likewise guilty in superintending negro schools.

Were I afraid of becoming "defunct," the success of those who have preceded me in this work would be a source of consolation and encouragement. With apologies to Dr. Kelley, the readers of The Sun, and all others to whom this discussion has been tiresome, I remain, Respectfully,
J. A. ORMOND.

Lively Fox Chase.

L. W. Fennell, Joseph A. Ettel and a party of friends indulged in a fox chase near the city Monday morning. The genial sheriff had his pack of a hundred dogs, more or less, along, but the fox were scarce—or at least they made themselves "scarce," with the result that only two were jumped, and they were "foxy" enough to get away. It is very seldom that Sheriff Fennell and his dogs allow a fox to escape them.

LAND OF THE SKY.

Interesting Letter from the Summer Resort of Saluda.

Editor Sun: Thinking a word from the cool mountains of North Carolina might be of interest to your readers, who are now sweltering, I know, in the heat of dear old Florida, I will write a short sketch of Saluda. This little "burg" is situated in the very heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, thirty-five miles south of Asheville, surrounded on all sides by magnificent mountains, and is the resort of visitors from every State in the Union and is unusually attractive during the summer season, not only on account of the beautiful scenery, lovely drives and walks and delightful climate, but also on account of the cosmopolitan people one meets, their sociability, refinement and intelligence.

It has two large hotels, the Charles and Melrose Inn, and numerous boarding houses, all of which are taxed to their utmost capacity during the summer season. Hack and horse hire is cheap and riding and driving is much indulged in. A large number of cottages are owned by residents of Charleston and the low country of South Carolina, and also of Columbia, which are occupied by their families during the season. Many are owned also by residents of other States—Georgia and Florida.

Col. S. C. Boyleston of Jacksonville has a lovely place here. There are many Florida people here now. Among them I note Mrs. John Taylor at the Charles, Mrs. Poggioli of St. Augustine, Rev. Mr. Blackburn of Fernandina, and Capt. and Mrs. A. R. Elmore of Gainesville, and Mrs. Thos. W. Chesnut and daughter, Miss Ellen, also of that city. Mrs. Elmore has leased for the season the lovely Hane cottage, with beautiful grounds, a green, grassy lawn, well shaded with oak, chestnut, hickory and spruce pine, with a magnificent view of the surrounding mountains, and has opened it to summer boarders.

The principal article of food here is "chicken." Your correspondent saw a country wagon load of them—over two hundred—sold to one man this morning for nineteen cents each. Mountain beef and mutton, the best country butter and eggs and fine fruits and berries of every description, and milk in abundance, are daily offered at your door.

This is a "dry" county and "mountain dew" is consequently inaccessible nearer than Asheville. There are three mail trains each way daily and we get the Charleston, Columbia, Atlanta and Asheville dailies the same day of issue. It is delightfully cool here now and a blanket at night is quite comfortable.

I must not forget to congratulate Gainesville on having secured the University. She certainly deserves it, and we Floridians up here rejoice with you. It was a well-deserved tribute paid Major W. R. Thomas, Col. Bob McNamee and your other plenipotentiaries in the magnificent reception tendered them by your citizens on their return from the seat of war. More anon.

Yours truly,

GAINESVILLIAN.
