It is quite likely that one of those German cats has eaten up President Roosevelt's peace canary.

The President went down in the Plunger and was called a hero. Russia has several thousand heroes over in the sea of Japan.

The floods in Illinois have been quite bad of late. A woman went to haul in a clothes line and found a catfish on the end of the line.

It is now stated that radium is a failure as a germ destroyer. But it is all right for exhibition purposes and as such is a drawing card.

The planting of shade trees along the highways should be looked after, and people who wish to make the country beautiful can do it in no better way.

If the ten-year marriages should come into vogue, there will possibly be some fellows who would want a time clause inserted for good behavior.

Some papers are in politics all the time. They make so many foolish statements in one campaign that it keeps them busy until the next one opens up to share themselves.

Distinct must have something to do with some people. In the majority of cases where fellows have not seen enough, apparently, to know right from wrong, they are invariably called good.

George F. Baer is the same species as the Russian bear, uses the same letters in spelling, but only placed differently. But when it comes to having the feelings for humanity there is little choice.

In the peace conference there seems to be a desire to come to some understanding, and both manifest a desire for an agreeable termination. Komura says, "Let's have something," whereupon M. Witte replied, "Give me vodka."

President Roosevelt took a trip to the bottom of the sea a few days ago in the submarine boat "Plunger." It is thought by some that his peace negotiations between Russia and Japan must have went down with him and the rest in some manner down there.

The majority of the Russian people may be opposed to peace, a large majority also being against the government. With peace the revolutionists would have to work at a disadvantage. With the Czar watching the Japs he will not be able to keep his eye on the fellows with bombs in their inside pockets so closely.

The Daytona Gazette-News will be incorporated hereafter, with C. M. Burham, Jr., president, and T. E. Fitzgerald secretary and treasurer. The company will be capitalized at $10,000 and the daily will be issued during the winter as in the past. T. E. Fitzgerald will once more resume the editorial management and the paper, which is now...

WAR MUST STOP.

Japan wants an indemnity to stop the war and Russia does not enjoy the idea of being humiliated by paying money to the Japs. But the resources of the two countries are nearing the limit and it is quite certain they cannot stand the strain much longer. Especially is this the case with Japan.

Russia has enormous resources, however, but her great drawback is lack of leaders, men without efficiency and courage. On the other hand, Japan has developed a superb leadership from the Emperor downward. Her government is characterized by the highest degree of courage and efficiency. This has been abundantly demonstrated in both war and peace. Her leaders are masterful men both in the military art and in finance. One of our great bankers who has been brought into contact with the Japanese of late testifies to his surprise of their wonderful financial talent. Physicians are sounding the praises of Japanese surgeons during the war. Our statesmen are testifying to the ability of the Japanese statescraft. The whole world has witnessed Japanese victories on land and sea with wonder and admiration. But on the other hand, Japan has meagre resources. She has reached a point where the revenues will be a burden that the people cannot withstand.

There may be more talk yet at Portsmouth, but if they fail to agree on terms, there is a certainty that they will be confronted by those who control the great money markets, that not one cent more will be furnished them to continue hostilities.

AN AGE OF MILLIONS.

This is truly an age of millions, says one of the leading dailies of the East. Fortunes are no longer expressed by thousands but by millions. Now a man is no longer rich who has amassed a few thousands dollars; and he may possess even a million and consider himself poor. A million dollar stock company no longer excites wonder. Our great companies are capitalized for hundreds of millions. The transactions of trade and transportation and banking are so enormous, amounting in the course of the year to billions of dollars, that statisticians are obliged in making comparisons to drop three and even six ciphers and give figures in millions of dollars.

But in nothing else is the immensity of our wealth and power more striking than in our philanthropies. Money is now given away as well as acquired in millions of dollars. A gift of thousands of dollars no longer excites any particular notice. Millions are given in one lump for libraries and colleges and hospitals with a lavishness and abandonment that is most astonishing. So common have gifts of millions of dollars become that Dr. Harper's announcement of an anonymous benefaction of $6,000,000 for the Chicago University is regarded as scarcely important enough as a matter of news to require more than two "sticks" of matter in the newspapers. Even an automobile accident takes precedence.

By reference to chapter 4957, page 101, of the acts of 1901, Laws of Florida, it will be noticed that "An act for the protection of birds and their nests and eggs" makes it unlawful to kill bull-bats, which are being slaughtered by the hundreds in some sections. What are considered game birds can be killed in season, but the bull-bats are not in this list, and persons proven guilty of their destruction are liable to a fine of five dollars for each offense, and an additional fine of five dollars for each bird, living or dead, or part of such bird, or nest and eggs possessed in violation of this act. Bull-bats are included in this act, and offenders should take warning.

The best evidence that Gainesville is growing is the fact that of all the hundred or upwards of houses of all sides built here this summer, there is not a vacant one in the city.

What's fame? Some papers become famous from being called yellow although they are plain black and white, while others dash in an occasional red-headed article to attract attention. Some are illustrated, while others use rose-tinted or pink paper to draw the eye of people looking for something out of the ordinary. The Police Gazette is highly illustrated and printed on pink paper, and although it is under a ban and is not circulated with impunity or consent of the postoffice as freely as it used to be, it is still sought by many in barber shops and other places where it used to be found. A few days ago a fellow stepped into a tonsorial parlor in this city, saw a "pink paper" on the reading table and said, "Let me see that Police Gazette." The barber looked up and said, "By pardon; this is The East Coast Advocate, printed on pink paper, yet it may answer the purpose in every way except pictures."

The Bartow Record is opposed to betting on ball games. But what are you going to do if you say before you think, "I bet a dollar Bartow wins," and a fellow takes the bet as quick as you have spoken? It's a hard matter to stop betting.

There must be peace as there will be several pieces of the Russian Empire.

Rheumatism

Like Neuralgia, is now known to be a nervous disease. The kidneys become weak through lack of nerve energy, and fail to filter the uric acid from the blood; this acid attacks and burns the nerves and muscles, and consumes the oil in the joints, producing inflammation, fever, swelling—pain.

To cure Rheumatism, then, you must restore the kidney nerves and muscles, and neutralize the effect of the acid upon the joints and tissues with Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, a nerve medicine, which has made many cures of this painful disease. Nervine strengthens the kidney nerves and increases the circulation, and relief is assured.

"Before I took Dr. Miles' Nervine, I had been looking for a cure for Rheumatism for 25 years. The last time I was laid up for several months, could not get out of bed or set foot on the floor. I tried remedies to rub in, to drink, doctors' prescriptions, etc., but none of them had any effect. One day I read about Dr. Miles' Nervine and got a bottle. After the first dose I had a good night's rest, and after taking half a bottle the pains disappeared, and I went out and walked all around the town. In a week I went to work, and was perfectly cured, but continued to take the medicine for a time, to make sure the pains would not come back."
