CANDIDATE HEARST CONTESTS ELECTION

BALLOT BOXES HELD BY POLICE

Justice Gaynor, of the Supreme Court, Ordered the Police to Turn Over Ballots to Election Board—Chairman Would Not Accept Them.

New York, Nov. 10.—Aided by an array of legal talent in which are lawyers of great prominence not only as masters of their profession, but also as leaders in more than one movement for good government in this city, William R. Hearst has begun his fight in the courts for the mayoralty which he believes he won in Tuesday's election and his first step has created a situation apparently without precedent. Last night he obtained an order from Justice Gaynor of the supreme court directing the police to turn over all ballot boxes to the board of elections at once. The police obeyed the order as far as they could, but when they proceeded after midnight hours, to the election board's office, there was no one there to take custody of the boxes and the policemen were compelled to remain in the street for hours guarding the repositories of the people's votes.

Later John K. Voorhees, president of the board, refused to accept the responsibility in the matter pending advice from the corporation counsel. Mr. Voorhees is a Democrat and when his decision was made known, the Hearst men turned to Charles W. Page, a Republican member of the board, but he also declined to act and then the president was left in the strange position of trying to carry out the court's orders, but was unable to do so.

The street in the vicinity of the election board offices presented a strange sight as hundreds of policemen stood on guard around the patrol wagons and other vehicles in which the boxes had been conveyed from the various precinct station houses.

Mr. Hearst's order was obtained from Justice Gaynor after the circulation of a story that a printing firm had been turning out large numbers of fac similes of the official ballot and that these were to be marked for McClellan and placed in the ballot boxes in place of Hearst ballots to be removed. The moment this rumor reached Hearst headquarters it was decided that the ballot boxes ought not to remain longer in the station houses and the application of Justice Gaynor was made as quickly as the papers could be drawn up.

Among the attorneys aiding Hearst is William M. Ivins, the Republican candidate for mayor in Tuesday's election. Mr. Ivins volunteered his services to Mr. Hearst and the offer was accepted. Another attorney acting for Mr. Hearst is Judge John F. Dillon, who was at one time judge of the supreme court of Iowa.

LARGE CONVENTION AT CHATTANOOGA

Quarantine and Immigration Conference in Session.

ABOUT 300 DELEGATES MEET

Fourteen Southern States Are Represented—Welcomed by Governor Cox, of Tennessee Governor Vardaman and Others Make Talks.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Almost 300 delegates representing fourteen southern states faced Governor John I. Cox today when he called to order the southern conference of the quarantine and immigration.

Present at the opening sessions of the convention were Governors John I. Cox, of Tennessee, N. C. Blanchard, of Louisiana, J. K. Vardaman, of Mississippi, R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina, D. C. Heywood, of South Carolina, and A. J. Montague, of Virginia. Governors Broward, of Florida, Terrell, of Georgia and Dawson, of West Virginia, were delayed until later in the day.

Louisiana led the states in the size of her representation with 60 delegates; Alabama had 25, Mississippi 20 and Georgia 25.

Senators Frazer of Tennessee and Mallory of Florida, 13 congressmen from the southern states, Surgeon General Wyman, of the Marine hospital service, and other prominent medical authorities, were on hand.

The immense auditorium was handsomely decorated with the national colors and presented a most attractive appearance.

Governor Cox in calling the convention to order explained the object of the gathering to be to prevent the coming to the south of the pauper and criminal classes from Europe which now are flooding the west and northwest. Also to provide for uniform legislation by the southern states which should have the approval of the national congress and thus have the force of constitutional law, that a citizen going to any part of the south in times of epidemics should know exactly what conditions he would meet.

An invocation by Rev. Luther Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist church, was followed by addresses of welcome by Senator James B. Frazer, of Tennessee; Mayor William L. Patterson, of Chattanooga, and by Lapsley G. Walker, editor of the Chattanooga Times.

Senator Frazer advocated strongly the federal control of maritime quarantine, suggesting that if infection from foreign sources could be kept from our shores, the more difficult question of interstate quarantine would be simplified and possible eliminated from the problem.

Governor Vardaman, who made the first response to the address of welcome, was received with prolonged applause.

There is no question, he declared, of the possibility of keeping yellow fever out of the south. He stated his idea to be that the absolute control of all seaports should be vested in the federal government.

He stated, however, that he opposed federal interference in the control of state affairs.

Charles P. Lane, president of the Alabama Commercial association, in a response to the welcome, spoke mainly on the matter of immigration.

O. D. business.
