VOL VII-NO. 6 MADISON, FLA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1907. $1 A YEAR

RUN-OVER LOCALS.

Going over to Valdesa to-morrow to see Buffalo Bill's Wild West show?

Miss Bessie Sanders is at home again after a delightful visit of several weeks with friends at Coleman, Fla.

Mrs. C. B. Ashley is at home again having returned last Friday from a delightful stay of several weeks in Georgia and North Carolina.

Rev. R. T. Marsh left for Jacksonville this morning to attend the quarterly meeting of the State Board of Missions of which he is a member. He will return to-night.

J. B. Brinson, jr., has resigned his position in the drug store of D. G. Smith and is resting up a bit preparatory to his return to New Orleans in a week or two where he will resume his medical studies in Tulane University.

James W. Cobb of Perry spent several days of last week in the city renewing acquaintance with his many friends. Jim looks fat and prosperous and we are glad to know that he is prospering down in the "wilds of Taylor."

Next Wednesday afternoon and evening, 16th inst., in the corner store of the Jordan block, the ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold an Apron Sale and will serve a salad course, home made candy, tea and coffee. It is for the purpose of raising funds for the church. The public is cordially invited.

The Confederate Veterans are reminded that to-morrow is the date set for a meeting of the Colquitt Camp, U. C. V., and all members are urgently requested to be present. Important business is to be transacted, and delegates to the annual re-union to be held shortly in Pensacola, are to be selected.

Rev. C. Fred Blackburn arrived in the city last Thursday and on Sunday occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church for the first time. His sermon on this occasion was most pleasing and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation which gathered to hear him. Mrs. Blackburn and the children, three in number, are expected to arrive to-morrow from Athens, Ga., and the family will at once occupy the parsonage.

W. B. Davis went over to Thomasville Tuesday morning on business relating to material for the new hotel.

W. C. Pleasants, the bustling general agent for the Florida Life Insurance Co., spent several days in town this week.

Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Davis, with the children, reached home last Thursday from Waynesville, N. C. Mrs. Davis and the children have been enjoying the mountain breezes of that favored section for the past two months.

Miss Nellie Childress came down Saturday evening from Madison, where she is a member of the faculty of the normal school there, and was a guest of Prof. and Mrs. W. F. Cate at the college. Miss Childress is from Sweetwater, Tenn., and a number of old friends in the city—not counting the many, many new ones that she made—were delighted to see her and hope from her a renewal of such a pleasure.—Lake City Index.

Henry E. Jones of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good till I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney medicine." D. G. Smith.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shaw, sr., the parents of the bride, in the Moseley Hall district, Dr. Leonard H. Remsdell of Jacksonville and Miss Fannie Shaw of Madison county, were united in marriage by Rev. R. T. Marsh at 11 o'clock, a. m., Monday, October 7th. After a sumptuous wedding dinner the bridal party came to Madison where they took the train for Jacksonville. Dr. Remsdell is a promising young optician and is associated with Dr. Armstrong who is well known here. The bride is very popular among her many friends here and everywhere. We wish them every felicity in their Jacksonville home.

Mr. John Cowart, sr., of Pinetta was a business visitor in the city Monday.

Sam Marks returned to his Jacksonville home Monday afternoon. The young gentleman made many friends during his visit here and they all hope for his early return.

At her home near Ellaville last Sunday morning Miss Willie Blanton, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. W. J. Blanton, was found dead in her bed by her mother who went to call her in time to leave on the early morning train for Jacksonville where she had purposed entering a school for a business course. The young lady was in perfect health at the time of her retiring Saturday night and seemed in high spirits. The discovery of the dead body of their beloved daughter was a terrible shock to the parents and in their grief they have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and relatives. The young lady was a student at the Normal in this city last term and had successfully taught several county schools. She was much beloved by all who knew her. The funeral was held Monday, interment being in the family plot at Corinth cemetery. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

The Cemetery Association held an enthusiastic meeting Monday afternoon at which several minor matters were disposed of and plans for the great bazaar discussed and perfected. The bazaar is to be held on the last Thursday of the present month and will be one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind ever carried out in Madison. Under the control of harmonious committees, the arrangements are like clockwork. There will be, among the varied attractions of the occasion, a fancy work table, a home-made candy booth, a pickle and preserve table, beside the serving of cream and cake, and substantial meat suppers. They are cordially urging all their friends throughout the town and county to attend and help make it a success, and are hoping that their friends everywhere in the State and out, for the sake of their hallowed dead, at rest under the oaks of Madison, will promptly send in their contributions to the cause.

In Memoriam.
(One year ago on Monday, September 30th, Mrs. Florida Lipscombe Moseley passed beyond the sight of mortality. The following lines are in loving memory of her.)

Just a year, dear heart, since you went away
On a journey where I could not follow,
Nor you come back for a single day
To lift from my heart its load of sorrow.

Surely more than a year has sped
Down the aisles of time, since you
Waved your hand
And passed across to the blessed dead,
To dwell in that wonderful, saint-filled land.

You had such a marvelous smile on your lips,
And your face was again so youthfully fair,
That I knew, my own, you had surely slipped
In among those who "His glory shall share."

Dear, your beautiful life here below
Whose lesson is still our choicest treasure,
Has made us all to assuredly know
That now you reap a reward beyond measure.

But, oh, my dear one, the days are slow
And dreary, dreary the lonely way,
Which I must walk 'till I'm summoned to go
To Him and to you, there forever to stay.

Tabernacle Meeting.
To-day is the date set apart for the beginning of the tabernacle meeting under the auspices of the Madison Circuit to be held at Hanson. Rev. Mann, pastor of the Madison Circuit, has completed all necessary arrangements and the meeting will open to-night and continue for at least a week. Rev. C. C. Cecil, Conference evangelist, will have charge of the meeting and will be assisted by Rev. J. Edgar Wilson, presiding elder of the district, Rev. T. C. Bradford, Rev. C. Fred Blackburn and probably others.

A cordial invitation is extended to everybody irrespective of denominational ties, who desire a real rich blessing of God, to come and attend all the services during the entire term. The meeting has been designed and is projected for the benefit of all the people of Madison county and the lower part of Lowndes county, and indeed any and all from anywhere and everywhere who may desire to benefit thereby.

All during the term of the meeting there will be services three times each day. Let all good people and those seeking for knowledge of the Word attend and assist in making the meeting a period of great usefulness and joy.

"Nothing Succeeds Like Success."
The Cemetery Association of Madison is "making good." For several months after its organization it dragged out such a feeble existence that some even covertly hinted that it was still born—that its feeble signs of life were as those of a galvanised frog. But with unshaken resolution born of conviction, its president, nobly supported by her co-officers, has held on and worked on until this organization is now a grand, a sure success. One needs but to be present at one of their meetings to realize that it stands for all that is cultured, philanthropic and ambitious in Madison's womanhood. "Joining" is no longer "urged" upon outsiders, but rather presented as a gracious privilege and a social opportunity not to be ignored. It is not always that growth and success keeps pace with merit, but this is a noteworthy exception. It is not always that it is the privilege of the masculine element to co-operate with women in a work so great and far-reaching. And we are told that the men of Madison are warmly encouraging and assisting the women, thus, proving the existence of a satisfying type of real, virile manhood in Madison. A report of their plans for the near future is elsewhere in our columns.
