Quarterly meeting for Madison Circuit will be held with the Pinetta church next Saturday and Sunday when Presiding Elder Wilson will be present and preach. As this will be the last quarterly meeting of the conference year it is hoped that there will be a full attendance from the several churches of the circuit.

Bob Davis says that all the stock has been subscribed in his Diamond Producing Company, and those who were not so fortunate as to get in on the ground floor will now have to pay a liberal premium for the stock. He has not yet succeeded in finding a young man for the job of holding the pan, however.

We have received a copy of the Tri-County Weekly, published at Tallahassee, Ala., and the name of J. R. Borland appears at its head as Editor and Business Manager. Mr. Borland was formerly a resident of our town, worked in this office for several years and edited the Recorder through its last year of existence. We wish him success in his new field.

The many friends of Donald A. Beasley in this county where he was born and reared to manhood's estate, will regret to learn of his death which occurred at his home in Jacksonville on last Sunday. He was a brother of D. P. Beasley, late a citizen of Madison, and of Mrs. Emma Weeks, who resides in our town, and Mrs. J. H. Milliner, also of the county. He will be well remembered by many former friends and acquaintances here. A widow survives him. The funeral was held in Jacksonville Monday afternoon.

An interesting business meeting of the Philatheas class of the First Baptist church was held at the Lines House Monday afternoon. Since the organization the membership of the class has increased to double the original number. All ladies of the city unidentified with other Sunday schools are cordially invited to become members of the Philatheas. Class Reporter.

The death angel invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Serier P. Griffin on Saturday morning last and bore away the precious soul of little Clyde, the lovely five year old daughter of the home. The little one on Tuesday of last week stepped on a nail which penetrated the foot. The usual remedies were applied and the wound gave little trouble, no one anticipating serious results. At the breakfast table Friday morning the child's jaws became locked while masticating her food. Medical attention was at once secured and everything known to medical science was done for the little one, but the deadly tetanus germ had gained too much headway to be overcome and early Saturday morning death relieved the little sufferer. The young parents are well high heart broken because of their sad bereavement. Clyde was a bright and beautiful child, the sunshine of the home and the joy of her little playmates. The little body was tenderly borne to the city cemetery Saturday afternoon and there interred in the family lot. To the stricken parents we tender earnest sympathy and commend them to the Comforter who loveth though He chasteneth."

Alex Wade and Walter Patterson went to Live Oak Monday afternoon to assist the band of that town in the music on Tuesday which was a gala day in our sister town.

A well attended session of Madison Lodge Knights of Pythias was held in the castle hall Monday night at which Page Truelove was advanced to the rank of Esquire. It looked like old times to see so many of the brethren present and because of the large attendance the ceremonies and exercises of the session were rendered with much spirit and impressiveness. The lodge meets every Monday night and it is hoped that from now on there will be a large number present at each session.

Mrs. W. S. Jordan of Jacksonville is visiting Mrs. P. S. Coggins.

At the family home near Pinetta on last Sunday Paul, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Henderson, departed this life, aged nineteen months. The funeral was held Monday, interment being in Mt. Horeb church cemetery, Rev. High officiating. The bereaved family have the sympathy of many friends in their sad affliction.

Rev. Sam J. White, the well known Christian evangelist, has again erected his tent in the city park and is preaching to large congregations each night. Mr. White is very popular in Madison and being a preacher of force and eloquence our people attend his services in large numbers. He will preach every night this week. See handbills for his subjects.
