Gainesville in Danger.

The above is not a good looking head line—don't like the appearance of it myself—but when we see the condition that some of the back ways and alleys of the town are in we feel that it is our duty to display the danger signal.

Called to Mariana.

Rev. S. B. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church, this city, was called by Mariana Sunday. Mr. Rogers was pastor of the Mariana Baptist church until he accepted a call to the Gainesville church a few weeks ago, and the Mariana people are very fond of him. Sunday the death angel visited Mariana and took therefrom the spirit of Mrs. M. F. Boone, the beloved wife of one of Mr. Rogers' deacons when he was leaving the church there, and it was to conduct the funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Boone that Mr. Rogers was called to Mariana. He will probably be back today or tomorrow.

May Be Fairbanks.

Hon. W. G. Robinson received a telegram this morning from Hon. H. S. Chubb, who is attending the National Republican Convention in Chicago, and Mr. Chubb said the Florida delegation would support Fairbanks for vice president.

AN ACCIDENT CAUSED DEATH

One Colored Youth Kills Another at Micanopy.

SLAYER RELEASED FROM JAIL

James Christopher Killed—Justice Smith Investigates Killing.

At Micanopy last Saturday afternoon James Christopher, a colored youth about sixteen years old accidentally shot and killed a twelve year-old colored boy named Berry Sullivan. Justice J. W. Smith held a preliminary examination, and while the evidence was hardly considered sufficient to justify him in holding Christopher he thought it best to do so until the case could be further investigated, consequently he committed the boy to jail Saturday, but after further investigation he decided the boy should not be held, and came to Gainesville yesterday and had him released from custody.

Worked a Living Chain.

Dr. P. L. Hurt's pointer dog was the cause of a good deal of amusement and excitement in Boonville one day. The doctor stopped at a trough to water his horse. A sewer pipe about a hundred feet long passed under a crossing at this place, and the dog, being warm from running, crawled into the pipe to get cool. When the time came to leave he could not turn around, and as the pipe was crooked he could not see the opposite end of it, so there he stuck. After various suggestions had been made for getting him out a small negro boy was sent in after him. The boy got him by the leg, but then found that he himself could not back out. Here was a pretty howdy do. Finally a second negro boy was sent in. His legs remained within reach from the outside, and when he had caught the first boy by the legs and the first boy had got a secure hold on the dog's legs some strong men took the second boy by his legs, and thus they were all pulled out.—Exchange.

To Save the Drowning.

Many a swimmer stops short before learning how to approach a drowning person, but he should add a knowledge of this as of the proper means of artificial respiration before he can be accounted a master of the art. So says the London Chronicle, and adds: "The swimmer in difficulties may always be assisted, even by a tyro, provided he be himself a strong enough swimmer, but the bather who cannot swim at all or who has entirely lost his presence of mind should always be approached from behind and seized by the arms. Then by swimming on the back it is easy to tow him to safety. Further, the bather in difficulties should remember that throwing the arms out of the water tends to sink the whole body, the air being a poor supporting medium for their weight."

Why She Was Provoked.

"He stole a kiss when I wasn't in the least expecting it."
"And you were provoked of course."
"Provoked doesn't half express it. I was downright angry. Why, half of the enjoyment of a pleasure lies in the anticipation of it."—Chicago Post.

Her View of It.

"Pshaw!" she exclaimed disgustedly as she came to the most interesting part only to read "to be continued." "I don't see why they call these things 'continued stories!'"
"No?" queried her husband politely.
"No; they should be called 'discontinued stories!'"—Exchange.

Much in Little.

Crusty Old Gentleman—Your singing, Miss Taylor, is like that of roses—Miss Taylor (with a gratified smile)—Oh, you are too flattering. Old Gentleman (continuing)—A little of it goes a very long way.

Currency Preferred.

"So far as I am concerned," observed Spendthrift, "I don't care whether you have an elastic currency or not; but by George, I'd like to have it a little more adhesive!"—Chicago Tribune.

HAIR GROWER.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 21, '99.
Dr. S. B. Giddings,
Dear Sir—Will you kindly inform me by return mail if you can send your 50c bottle of Hair Grower the Unparalleled (Trade Mark) and if so I will send you a postal note for the same. Please inform me the amount of postage if it can be mailed.
When in Florida the winter of 1897 and '98 I used five bottles of the twenty-five cent size and produced a nice growth of hair where it had been entirely bald for fifteen years, and now I would like to try it once more if I can get it.
Yours truly,
J. W. HAYNES.

Question and Answer.

Gainesville, Fla, June 20.
Editor STAR:—I have heard it said that editors are supposed to know every thing. This is saying too much, I know, for they can not know everything. But I do think editors should be willing to give information to the public when they can, and answer questions if they can, and believing this I want to ask you one question, which you will please answer through the columns of your paper.

The question is: What is your opinion of a candidate, or other person who does not pay his debts; one who has others to serve him when the service is needed, and then after the service has been rendered the servant is refused, or neglected and has to go without his pay.

A READER OF THE STAR.

We think a person, candidate or other person, (except it be an editor, who does not pay his debts will bear letting alone. Honest people pay their obligations if they can. But if you ever find an editor of a Florida newspaper paying his debts promptly you might do your country a service by putting a detective on his track, for he might be making counterfeit money.

EDITOR.

Attention K. of P.

There will be a regular communication of Mt. Vernon Lodge No. 20 K. of P. at their Castle Hall Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.
A full attendance desired and visitors cordially welcomed. J. B. DOUGLAS, W. R. MCKINSTRY, C. C. K. of R. and S.

One Hundred Hurt

Boston, June 17.—As a result of the careless handling of toy pistols, firecrackers and other explosives incidental to the Bunker Hill Day celebrations, more than three hundred people were treated at the local hospitals between midnight yesterday and midnight today. Several of the patients were dangerously injured.

Torpedoes placed upon the streetcar tracks caused a serious accident on Huntington Avenue to-night. A Brooklyn car was lifted from the rail. Miss Ellen Fahy of Brooklyn and another woman were severely injured.—Selected.

We publish the above note because we think it will do Boston's unfortunates any good, but hoping it will serve as a gentle reminder to those who expect to participate in the Fourth of July celebration in this city, that the careless handling of toy pistols and fire works is as dangerous in Florida as in Massachusetts; in Gainesville as in Boston.

Drawing the Line on Jackson.

A good story is told in Missouri at the expense of its once famous governor, Claiborne F. Jackson. Before he solved the enigma of love-lock he had married five sisters—in reasonable lapse of consecutiveness. After one wife had been lost and appropriately mourned he espoused another, and he kept his courting within a narrow circle of his own relatives for he rather liked the family.

The antiquated father of these girls was almost deaf, and when the governor went to this octogenarian to ask for his surviving daughter the following conversation ensued:

"I want Lizzie!"
"Eh?"
"I want you to let me have Eliz-a-beth!"
"Oh, you want Lizzie do you what for?"
"For my wife!"
"For life?"
"I want-to-marry-her!"
"Oh, yes? Just so. I hear you my boy."
"I'm precious glad you do!" muttered the governor.

"Well," slowly responded the veteran, "you needn't halloo so that the whole neighborhood knows it! Yes you can have her. You've got 'em all now my lad, but for goodness sake, if anything happens to that 'ere poor misjudgd gal, don't come and ask me for the old woman!"
Jackson solemnly promised that he never would.—(Tit-Bits.)
