

GULF COAST BREEZE.

Messrs R. B. Council and J. J. Harrell are attending Franklin circuit court this week, as witnesses in the Tucker-Metcalf case.

Rev. S. J. Giles went down to Bonnet Pond Saturday evening, filled his appointment there Sunday, and returned home Monday morning.

At their meeting Monday the School board appointed three carpenters to assist the building committee in arriving at a report on the building for the graded school. They are Messrs. J. W. Farley, D. W. Syfret and Jeff Gowdy.

A sulky plow arrived this week for Mr. Albert Causseaux. Having completed his school term, he planted a crop, bought this improved agricultural implement, and will now go to farming and enjoying life like a millionaire.

The barn of Mr. Jordan Dyches was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night of last week and all of his forage was a total loss. He thinks it was the work of an incendiary as the fire originated between midnight and day, and no fire had been used about the barn, by the family.

The Crawfordville Epworth League was reorganized Wednesday night and every Sunday night was selected as the time for regular meetings and Wednesday night before each second Sunday as the time for business meetings. Every body is invited to attend on Sunday nights.

Mr D. W. Syfrett, is in the race for tax collector and says that he is going to stay until elected or beat out at the primary. Mr. Syfrett is an honest, industrious, through-going mechanic, born and raised in this county. He knows how hard the dollars come and if elected the people's money, would no doubt be safe in his hands. Read his card.

WAKULLA ITEMS.

Y. D. Cay has a fine pair of Kentucky thoroughbred ponies, and he handles the reins like an expert.

ARRAN ITEMS.

By H.

News reached here Monday a. m. that Mrs. Lizzie Cox living about a mile of Arran was dying, but later news is that she is improving.

Mrs. N. R. and Mrs. W. H. Walker of Crawfordville were calling in Arran Saturday P. M.

Miss Ida Hill opened up a subscription school here Monday.

Hon. W. C. Rouse announces in this issue that he is a candidate for re-election to the Legislature. Mr. Rouse is one of Wakulla's most energetic and progressive young farmers. He is well known all over the county, and popular with the people. If elected, he says that he will support Hon. S. Pasco for the U. S. Senate, and serve the people of his county to the best of his ability.

Captain S. E. Casseaux, whose card appears in our announcement column this week, is a typical man of the people, a plain unassuming Wakulla county farmer, whose name is a household word in the homes of Wakulla. Since laying down his arms, as a gallant old Confederate soldier, he has devoted a large share of his time energy and talents to the service of the people of Wakulla, without pride and without the hope of compensation. Where ever there is sickness and distress in Wakulla, he may be found, his face is as familiar in the homes of the people of this county, as the face of the old family clock. The chilly blast of winter, the scorching heat of summer and the darkness of night deters him not, when called upon to minister to a suffering neighbor. These things, of course, add nothing to a man's qualifications for an important office, but they show the trend of his heart and the people are not quick to forget such favors.

A consultation with Attorney General Lamar, convinced our county commissioners that a copy of the maps and field notes of the old Hartsfield survey, would be of but little use to the county, as they could not be used in a court of law while the originals were in existence, so they decided not to buy copies from Capt. John Ruge, of Apalachicola, which were offered to them for $300.

One of our aspirants for a county office wants to know if the BREEZE will accept some of the products of his farm for the announcement fee. Of course we will, a barrel of good syrup would come in fine just now and we will pay the difference in cash. But don't forget to send in the syrup with the announcement.

The frown that came over Mr. Towles' face Tuesday evening when the Tallahassee Ice man failed to fill his order for ice was transformed into a broad smile the next morning when he got out of bed and found that stoves were more in demand than ice.

We thought it was awfully cold here yesterday and the day before, but as a matter of fact the thermometer stood above 44 all the time. It did not get within 10 degrees of freezing. Such weather as this in the Northern states, would have been considered perfectly delightful.

"Keep Off The Grass."

The several foot paths across Col. McLeod's fields, we are requested to state, were made there without his permission and against his wishes. His fences at the different crossing places are kept continually torn down, and much of his growing crops are trampled over. These pedestrians, are simply trespassers upon private property whose owner is too good natured to prosecute, but they are hereby notified to keep out of these fields until crops are gathered.
