

THE BOY KING HAS FLED TO GIBRALTAR

Royal Family of Portugal Finds an Asylum of Safety.

UNDER BRITISH PROTECTION

Rigid Censorship Still Prevents News in Lisbon From Being Sent Out, but It is Reported That Republicans Control Capital.

That King Manuel is safely out of Portugal is disclosed by dispatches from Gibraltar, which say he landed there Thursday night in company with the queen mother, the dowager queen and the Duke of Oporto. The royal family of Portugal is, therefore, now under British protection.

It is reported that Mr. Manchoedro has been proclaimed provisional president of Portugal.

KING MANUEL.

A rigid censorship still prevents news in Lisbon from becoming known, but dispatches that have come through by way of the French frontier and direct, indicate that the fighting in the streets of the Portuguese capital was of longer duration and of a more severe nature than at first reported.

A delayed dispatch from Oporto gives brief details of demonstrations held there on the day after the rising ever, word from Oporto indicated that quiet had been restored.

Notification has been sent to the foreign powers by the provisional government of the proclamation of the republic.

Received at Oporto.

The republican government has been definitely established at Oporto without a struggle. The populace, with unanimity, received the proclamation enthusiastically. The general commanding the local division of the troops obeyed the instructions of the provincial government.

900 Reported Killed.

A special to the Paris Temps from Madrid says that it is reported that an insurrection has occurred at Setubal, Portugal, where many troops are quartered. The infantry that had gone over to the revolutionists engaged the royalist cavalry. The casualties are estimated at 900.

TRAGEDY NEAR ALBANY.

Accidental Discharge of Gun Results in Death.

William E. Meyers, general manager of the Albany Grocery Company, and one of the most prominent business men of Albany, Ga., was killed four miles south of Albany, at Blue Springs, through the accidental discharge of his shotgun.

Myers and Thad Huckabee, a traveling salesman of the Albany Grocery Company, had been squirrel hunting, and stopped in a star at Blue Springs when a heavy rain came on. They were traveling in an automobile. Meyers driving. When they were ready to resume their trip, Myers took a seat in the machine, and Huckabee started to crank off the machine. Myers' gun lay across the seat, and it was discharged just as the engine began to move, the entire load of shot entering his left breast.

The machine was rushed to the city as fast as possible, but Myers died as he was being taken out at his apartments.

WORK OF BLACKHANDERS.

Girl Reported Killed and Father Following the attempt of alleged "black hander" Sunday to shoot down Vito Genousola, an Italian merchant, and the killing Monday evening of Caroline Biondo, the 9-year-old daughter of Joe Biondo, and the wounding of the latter, Italians in Dallas are in a panic.

The police are exerting every effort to run down the assassins. Genousola is in bed with a broken ankle caused by a pistol bullet. It is the second attempt on his life within a few months.

A shotgun and pistol were used on Biondo and his little daughter by two unknown Italians, who escaped in a buggy. The police have made two arrests, but have not identified the men.

To Get a Pond Full of Fish.

To one pond add three small fish. Stir thoroughly and set out in a basin to air. Select four plump, well fed fishermen, peel and place them on top of the pond. Let the whole bake in a hot sun four hours, occasionally tasting the fishermen with selected likker. When thoroughly brown remove the fishermen, carefully draining off their stories into separate receptacles. Allow the sediment to settle, and a careful comparison of the results will clearly prove that the pond contains sixty unusually large fish.—Philadelphia North American.

OCALA DESPERADO KILLS TWO OFFICERS

Baricaded in House He Hurlled Defiance at Posse.

KILLS SELF TO AVOID ARREST

After the Posse Had Surrounded Baricaded House and Made Final Rush Desperado Was Found Lying on Floor Dying by His Own Hand.

After fatally wounding Deputy Sheriff Hudson and ex-Sheriff Gordon at his home in the suburbs of Ocala, William Summerlin placed the muzzle of a Winchester rifle in his mouth and blew his head off.

For three hours Summerlin was baricaded in his house, where he successfully resisted the efforts of members of the police department and sheriff's deputies to arrest him. Firing on every person in sight it was finally decided by the officials to call out the Ocala Rifles and surround the house. This was done, and shortly after nightfall the cordon closed in, the door was broken down and Summerlin's body was found lying on the floor with half his head blown off.

Early in the afternoon Deputy Sheriff Hudson went to Summerlin's home to serve a warrant for some minor offense. Summerlin warned the officer not to come into his yard, and when Hudson started in he was shot down. Ex-Sheriff Gordon, hearing the shot, went to the assistance of Hudson. While bending over the prostrate form of the deputy, Gordon was shot down, the bullet inflicting a fatal wound. Seeing the two men lying prostrate Summerlin left the house and secured the rifle carried by Deputy Hudson. Baricading himself he offered stubborn resistance to all who attempted his arrest.

A large crowd quickly gathered around the house, keeping a safe distance, as Summerlin fired at every one in sight. A guard was thrown around the house and several volleys were poured into it. Shortly after nightfall a concerted movement was made to capture Summerlin. A rush was made for the door. It was quickly battered in. Inside the body of Summerlin was found weltering in a pool of his own blood. He had placed the muzzle of the rifle in his mouth and fired.

The two wounded officers were hurried to a local hospital, where they finally succumbed to the wounds received.

Franchise Granted.

At the meeting of the council of Palatka the Palatka Athletic Association by ordinance was granted the privilege of erecting and maintaining a club house at the foot of Kirkland street for a period of twenty years, the consideration of the city being that the club be open to public membership and that the wharves built be used by the public and kept in good repair.

Highwaymen Sentenced.

Prompt and efficient work on the part of the police and vigorous action on the part of the trial court, i. e., the criminal court of record, Judge H. C. Gordon presiding, resulted in two highwaymen being arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced in less than two weeks' time. The cases in question were those of Rudolph Drury and H. E. (Heartbreaker) Lancaster, two white men, who were sentenced to ten years each in the penitentiary in the tribunal in question. Drury and Lancaster were accused of waylaying and robbing John E. Byington, a division foreman on the Atlantic Coast Line, on the night of September 23. They beat their man to insensibility, robbed him of approximately $200 and his gold watch.

Cut Out Horse's Tongue.

News has reached the sheriff's office of an unusual crime which was committed near Pensacola. Some person cut out the tongue of a horse belonging to a resident of that community named Reagan. While it is supposed that the work was done by some person who had a grievance against Mr. Reagan, there is no clue as to the identity of the person, as the owner of the animal is one of the most popular men in the community and did not know that he had an enemy in the section.

Fear Bark is Lost.

The Uruguayan bark Marie, commanded by Capt. McKown, of Pensacola, has not been reported as arriving at her destination, Buenos Ayres, and there is considerable uneasiness felt for the vessel, which is now 115 days on the voyage, which, under ordinary circumstances consumes from forty to sixty days. The bark sailed from Pensacola early in June with a cargo of lumber shipped by a local exporting firm, but has never since been heard from.

GALE LASHED NORTH SEA.

Many Lives Reported Lost and Vessels Driven Ashore.

Many lives are reported lost in terrific gales which have lashed the North sea, hurling several wrecks on the coast, says a London dispatch.

The steamer Welhome foundered in the gale off Cromer. The engineers were drowned and several stokers were reported missing. The others on board were saved after a long fight against the sea. Dispatches to mercantile marine agencies reported that several other vessels, most of them fishing craft, are believed to have been lost.

Life saving stations at a number of points along the coast reported rescues. Disabled ships drifting helplessly before the gale were also reported.

The tempest was one of high wind and driving rain and at points along the coast the beaches were strewn with wreckage.

Cromer is known in marine circles as a dangerous place. Treacherous tides and currents run off the promontories at that point and the sea beats with terrific force against the great sea wall.

New Company Incorporated.

The Logan Concrete and Engineering Company filed its articles of incorporation, and their charter with the county clerk at Jacksonville, Fla. This company has a capital stock of $50,000, and will do all kinds of construction work, such as the building of concrete houses, buildings, warehouses, docks, bridges, roads and factories. This is the youngest concern of the kind in that city, and the men who are behind it are representative business men, who have been tested by experience, and who will make it a paying business. Many skilled workmen will be employed by the new concern.

Rafael Gordilla, a Cuban, who was charged with assault and attempt to murder Manuel Trellis, the foreman of the Celestino Vega & Co. cigar factory, has been sentenced to spend five years in the state penitentiary by Judge Horace C. Gordon, presiding in the criminal court of record. The affair in question had no connection with the present cigarmakers' strike.

Legislature Favors Primary.

From one hundred letters mailed to members of the Florida State Legislature, asking the question whether or not they favor a primary election for selecting a successor to the late lamented ex-Governor N. B. Broward for United States Senator, forty-six have already made answer. That the legislative body favors the primary election is evident. Thirty-one out of the forty-six replies favor holding the primary; seven are non-committal and eight prefer the legislature selecting the man.

Auspicious Opening.

MINERS ENTOMBED BY AN EXPLOSION

Starkville, Colo., Is Scene of Disastrous Occurrence.

BELIEVED MEN ARE DEAD

Rescue Parties Were Driven Back by Deadly Black Damp, Which Filled the Mine After the Explosion—Majority of the Entombed Men are Foreigners.

Entombed by an explosion in the Starkville mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, at least 52 men were the objects of heroic efforts of rescuers, who worked throughout Sunday trying to penetrate the black depths of the mine in the hope that some and probably all of the imprisoned miners might be rescued alive.

The presence of black damp, which almost always follows in the wake of coal mine explosions, made the work of rescuers extremely hazardous and time and again members of parties were overcome, necessitating returning to open air. In order that their lives could be saved.

A touching feature of the rescue work was the self-sacrifice and devotion to duty of James Wilson, superintendent of the Starkville mine, who left a sick bed to lead the men who bravely volunteered to face the deadly black damp that their entrapped comrades should be rescued dead or alive.

Superintendent Wilson finally succumbed to the exertion which taxed his weakened strength, and almost overcome by the insidious gases was forced to give up and take to his bed again.

According to a statement given out officially by the coroner, there are known to be in the mine twenty-eight Poles, three Russians, ten Americans, four Mexicans and one Servian.

Found Dead in Bed.

C. J. Hanssen, a white man, address unknown, was found dead in his bed at a rooming house on West Adams street, Jacksonville. Nothing is known of Hanssen further than his name, as nothing was found on his person that would lead to an identification.

Florida Vets Reunion.

The Florida Confederate Veterans will meet in State reunion at Bartow on October 19th and 20th. The officers in charge think that there will be between three and four hundred veterans and their families in attendance. The citizens of the city are making special efforts to show the old soldiers a good time when they assemble, and assurance has been given the old warriors that if, when they meet, the hotels are too small to accommodate the crowd, the citizens of the city will be glad to accommodate all who cannot find rooms at the hotels.

UNCLE SAM'S CASH.

Government Receipts Exceed Disbursements by Tidy Sum.

Uncle Sam balanced his books and counted his cash for September and found that for the month he had a present fiscal year began on July 1 the government has taken in more money in a month than it has been obliged to pay out.

The cash drawer showed a balance of $1,460,808 over all disbursements. If the payments on the Panama canal work and the public debt could be excluded the surplus would be $3,456,572.

There was a deficit of nearly $4,000,000 for the corresponding month last year. To date the total deficit for the fiscal year is $15,910,000, as against a "normal" total deficit of $32,162,715 last year at this time.

The favored government has contributed to larger receipts and smaller expenditures. Total receipts for the month were $55,983,578 and disbursements were a good $6,000,000 less than on August 1 and the receipts were around $1,000,000 greater. There were sharp advances in customs receipts bringing the revenue collected from that source alone this year more than $51,000,000.

MADE 50 SPEECHES.

Colonel Roosevelt Talks to People From Car Platform.

Through endless fields of cotton, dotted with clusters of white blossoms, Col. Theodore Roosevelt rode Sunday.

He was on the way from Atlanta to Hot Springs, Ark., and he made more speeches than on any other day of his present trip or any day of his recent western trip. The train made 50 stops during the day and there were such crowds on hand everywhere that Col. Roosevelt had at least to go out to the rear platform and speak a few sentences at almost every station.

The colonel's throat stood the strain well, and he is inclined to believe now that talking agrees with it.

Colonel Roosevelt was not talking politics.

Despondent because she believed she never would recover from pellagra, from which she suffered a long time, Mrs. J. H. Millwood, aged 50 years and the mother of ten children, committed suicide at Gainesville, Ga., by cutting her throat with a razor. Her body was found lying in a pool of blood by her eight-year-old son.

The Tall Hat in France.

The tall hat, variously called "chimney pot," "stovepipe," "cylinder" and what not, became fashionable in Paris in 1790, soon after the death of Franklin, in whose honor it was known as "chapeau Franklin." In spite of numberless changes of style, it has maintained its ground ever since, unexpected as such a result would have seemed at its first introduction. For a time this style of hat was considered revolutionary in Germany and Russia. Any one wearing a "cylinder" was liable to punishment, but the evil reputation soon passed away, and the tall, stiff hat, the ugliest head covering that was ever worn and the most ridiculed, outlives all other styles.

Mr. Wilson moved to Florida in 1885, engaging in the newspaper business, first at Longwood, Orange county, later removing to Bradenton, then to Manatee, where for twelve years he edited the Manatee County Advocate; and for the past eleven years he has been the editor and proprietor of the Sarasota Times. Watchman Killed by Train.

F. C. Hart, a watchman employed by the Seaboard Air Line was run over by engine No. 626 in charge of Engineer Wagner in the Seaboard yards at Tampa and instantly killed. The body was horribly mangled. Hart was going to his work walking along the track. He was very deaf and this was accentuated by the fact that he had his umbrella open on account of rain. He evidently did not hear the engine and its string of cars approaching. Hart leaves a widow and two children. He was 61 years of age.

RESTAURANTS.

They Really Had Their Origin in the First French Revolution.

The restaurant of the present time had its origin in the first French revolution, toward the close of the eighteenth century. And the reputation of the French for good cookery and the delicacy of taste in eating as well as in producing toothsome dishes and morsels dates practically from the same time.

That revolution meant ruin to many noble families, and their downfall meant ruin also for their chefs, as some of the latter hit upon the idea of opening houses where dainties prepared by their skilled hands could be obtained. If the experiment succeeded the chefs would be as well off as when in service. The idea was pleasing to the public, the restaurants did a large business, and the proprietors had no reason to regret the revolution from a monetary point of view.

Then it occurred to others that the people might appreciate being educated up to this fine cookery, and many books on the culinary art were published and sold well. One of the most noted of these was "The Gourman's Manack," which appeared in 1788. Restaurant really means "restoring" and was applied to these places because you went there to have something to revive or restore your failing strength.
